

WELLS FAREWELL TO THE HOUSE

IS AGAIN ACCUSED; 2 INDICTMENTS FOUND

Man Finds "Health" Badge, Then Treats Woman for Tuberculosis.

H. J. Shaw, alias Burns, was arrested this morning at Fifth and Morrison streets on three serious charges, on complaint of Mrs. W. H. Brandenburg, who declares that Shaw, posing as a member of the state board of health, extorted a diamond ring valued at $100 from her, and demanded the payment of considerable money for treatments for tuberculosis, with which she declared the woman was infected.

Just one week ago today, according to the charge, Shaw accused Mrs. Brandenburg at Fifth and Morrison streets, and without ever having seen her before, declared that she was suffering from tuberculosis and would have to go to the pest house.

Just one week ago today, according to the charge, Shaw accused Mrs. Brandenburg at Fifth and Morrison streets, and without ever having seen her before, declared that she was suffering from tuberculosis and would have to go to the pest house.

The woman met Shaw several times, and he gave her medicine to be used, but the effects of it were such that her husband noticed a change in her demeanor and knew something was wrong.

At the police station he told of having found the badge which was in his possession, and stated that he had secured from the woman had pawned for $11.

Three other pawn tickets for diamonds and valuable jewelry were found in his possession, which leads the police to believe that he has worked the same game on other people, and an effort is to be made to find the owners of the jewelry pawned.

In all his talks with the woman Shaw claimed to be a physician and stated that he was waiting for Rochester, Minn., surgeons. The charges against the man that were made this morning were extortion, larceny by baillee and impersonating an officer. Shaw is married and has a family here.

MORE NEW CARS FOR OREGON ELECTRIC

President Joseph H. Young of the Hill Lines in Oregon, announced today that the Oregon Electric company has just placed another order for 30 fine passenger and combination coaches for early delivery. These cars will be in addition to the large number ordered some time ago.

With these additional cars, the company has bought about $300,000 worth of equipment for the Oregon Electric in the past few months. The new coaches will all be of the standard Pullman color instead of brown, the color heretofore used by this company.

CAMPAIGN TO BUILD BRIDGE TO BE RENEWED

A new campaign for the building of the interstate bridge between Portland and Vancouver over the Columbia river will be inaugurated at a mass meeting in the fire hall at Killingsworth and Albiua avenues this evening at 8 o'clock.

BRANCH DEPOSITORIES FOR POSTAL SAVINGS

Official notice was received this morning from Washington, D. C., by Postmaster Merrick that station "A" at Union avenue and East Alder street, and station "B" Fifth and Glisan streets, have been made branch postal savings depositories.

The date upon which they will open these depositories cannot be determined, but as soon as the proper supplies arrive they will be started.

Boy Scouts Guests of Seton.

(United Press Special Wire.) Greenwich, Conn., July 5.—One hundred Boy Scouts from as far south as Tennessee, are camped on the estate of Eusebious Thomson Seton, Windgo. They will remain until July 23.

Pumps at Half Price.

Ladies' $2.50 and $1.50 pumps, $1.50 at the clearance sale of the Good-year Shoe Co., 146 4th st.

For Sister

Sister likes BLUE RIBBON BREAD. She "just loves it" spread with honey and her little friends want a slice or two or three of BLUE RIBBON BREAD. Don't they? Get it at home! It must be pure and wholesome—mother and brother eat it and father, too. The dust-proof, germ-proof wrapper makes a hit with him. He's so flinty over clean bread.

Sister is very sorry that her dollies, too, can't eat BLUE RIBBON BREAD!

ACCUSES SELLING OF THE HUNTLEY ACT

Payment of Tax on Great Income of Corporations Urged.

Expenditure of $10,000 on His Campaign That He Did Not Account for in Statement Alleged by Arnold Keller.

(Special Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., July 5.—Charges that Ben Selling violated the corrupt practices act in the recent primary campaign were received by the secretary of state today.

They are made up by Arnold Keller, whose office is given at 14-15 Healy building, Portland. He alleges that Selling, who received the Republican nomination for United States senator, expended $10,000 during January and February in the interests of his candidacy, which he did not report.

According to statements filed immediately after the primary, Mr. Selling spent personally $754.16 and there was contributed and spent by friends, for which Max Michel made affidavit, the sum of $2,941.77. The law allows a candidate for United States senator to expend in his own behalf $125.

Duty of Secretary of State.
While July 3 is the last date on which charges could be filed, the postmark on the envelope shows that the letter was posted at Portland July 2. The secretary of state will immediately notify Mr. Selling of the charges and, if satisfactory proof is not given to show there was no violation of the corrupt practices act, it will be his duty then to report the entire matter to the district attorney who is charged with the duty of bringing the criminal action. Keller's charges are as follows:

"I hereby complain and aver that the statement of campaign expenses heretofore filed in your office by Ben Selling, purporting to set forth expenses incurred by him for the Republican nomination for the office of United States senator, do not conform to the law or to the truth. I allege the facts to be that the said Ben Selling spent large sums of money, to wit:

Letter to Voters Costly.
"About $10,000 during the months of January and February, 1912, for letters and postage and return postage and other ways, setting forth to the Republican voters of Oregon reasons why Jonathan Bourne Jr. should not be nominated for that office and reasons why he, said Selling, should be nominated, that not one of the said sums were included in the said Ben Selling's statement of expenditures.

"And also further that larger sums were spent on newspaper advertising during the same period, and other sums for postage and return postage of the said Ben Selling and Jonathan Bourne Jr., which sums were not accounted for in said statement of expenditures.

Arnold Keller, who makes the charges of violation of the corrupt practices act by Ben Selling, is a salesman for the Chapin-Helweg Mortgage & Trust Co., and formerly was engaged in the grocery business at Anabel station, on the Mount Scott line. He has been active in east side improvement club work, and during the primary campaign took the stump for Roosevelt.

"We want to see the law observed," said Mr. Keller today. "As the matter appears, large sums of money were spent for Mr. Selling's campaign, which were not reported. It is not a personal matter at all. It matters not whether it is Mr. Selling or Mr. Bourne, the law ought to be observed.

Dan Kellaker Behind It.
"We think the secretary of state should look into the matter and see whether Mr. Selling kept behind the law. I am acting for Senator Dan Kellaker and other, who are interested in having the thing looked into."

Mr. Keller explained that the address, 15 Healy building, given in the dispatch from Salem, is the address of the East Side Business Men's club, the letter to the secretary of state having been mailed from that place.

During the late campaign Senator Kellaker was a strong supporter of Bourne, but in his campaign statement of campaign expense is regarded as considerable political significance. There has been talk that Bourne is preparing to become a candidate for United States senator in November, despite his defeat at the primaries, and this move is regarded by some as a flank movement in the interest of Bourne.

25,000 Letters Were Sent.
The expenses alluded to by Keller in January and February were incurred in sending out 25,000 letters to voters throughout the state, inviting the recipient to give his "thumbs up" to Mr. Selling should become a candidate against Bourne. This was before Selling had formally declared himself in the race. He withheld any announcement as to his purpose until most of the month of June, saying his decision would depend upon the character of the answers.

A large proportion of the replies were favorable, and Mr. Selling then announced his candidacy. It has been the contention of his managers that the expense connected with these letters was not a part of his campaign expenses, as he had not then become a candidate and was merely sounding out public sentiment.

Friends of Bourne muttered at this expense and contended that this plan of letter writing was a subterfuge, as the letters offered comment upon Bourne were tinged with "campaign ginger."

Ben Selling is out of the city, having been away from political activities for more than a week. Max Michel, who signed the affidavit of campaign expense, is in the east and will not return until next week.

GEN. OROZCO'S ARMY RETREATS NORTHWARD

(United Press Special Wire.) El Paso, Texas, July 5.—With General Orozco's rebel forces completely routed and in full retreat northward, the United States army officers here are preparing to deal with a battle which is expected to be fought across the river in Juarez.

It is known that General Orozco has already sent his forces through Chihuahua to the northward on troop trains from Bachimba, the scene of yesterday's battle, and he is expected to continue northward to the border.

HAS PLAN TO CUT 1913 TAX LEVY

Payment of Tax on Great Income of Corporations Urged.

Expenditure of $10,000 on His Campaign That He Did Not Account for in Statement Alleged by Arnold Keller.

(Special Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., July 5.—Charges that Ben Selling violated the corrupt practices act in the recent primary campaign were received by the secretary of state today.

They are made up by Arnold Keller, whose office is given at 14-15 Healy building, Portland. He alleges that Selling, who received the Republican nomination for United States senator, expended $10,000 during January and February in the interests of his candidacy, which he did not report.

According to statements filed immediately after the primary, Mr. Selling spent personally $754.16 and there was contributed and spent by friends, for which Max Michel made affidavit, the sum of $2,941.77. The law allows a candidate for United States senator to expend in his own behalf $125.

Duty of Secretary of State.
While July 3 is the last date on which charges could be filed, the postmark on the envelope shows that the letter was posted at Portland July 2. The secretary of state will immediately notify Mr. Selling of the charges and, if satisfactory proof is not given to show there was no violation of the corrupt practices act, it will be his duty then to report the entire matter to the district attorney who is charged with the duty of bringing the criminal action. Keller's charges are as follows:

"I hereby complain and aver that the statement of campaign expenses heretofore filed in your office by Ben Selling, purporting to set forth expenses incurred by him for the Republican nomination for the office of United States senator, do not conform to the law or to the truth. I allege the facts to be that the said Ben Selling spent large sums of money, to wit:

Letter to Voters Costly.
"About $10,000 during the months of January and February, 1912, for letters and postage and return postage and other ways, setting forth to the Republican voters of Oregon reasons why Jonathan Bourne Jr. should not be nominated for that office and reasons why he, said Selling, should be nominated, that not one of the said sums were included in the said Ben Selling's statement of expenditures.

Arnold Keller, who makes the charges of violation of the corrupt practices act by Ben Selling, is a salesman for the Chapin-Helweg Mortgage & Trust Co., and formerly was engaged in the grocery business at Anabel station, on the Mount Scott line. He has been active in east side improvement club work, and during the primary campaign took the stump for Roosevelt.

"We want to see the law observed," said Mr. Keller today. "As the matter appears, large sums of money were spent for Mr. Selling's campaign, which were not reported. It is not a personal matter at all. It matters not whether it is Mr. Selling or Mr. Bourne, the law ought to be observed.

Dan Kellaker Behind It.
"We think the secretary of state should look into the matter and see whether Mr. Selling kept behind the law. I am acting for Senator Dan Kellaker and other, who are interested in having the thing looked into."

Mr. Keller explained that the address, 15 Healy building, given in the dispatch from Salem, is the address of the East Side Business Men's club, the letter to the secretary of state having been mailed from that place.

During the late campaign Senator Kellaker was a strong supporter of Bourne, but in his campaign statement of campaign expense is regarded as considerable political significance. There has been talk that Bourne is preparing to become a candidate for United States senator in November, despite his defeat at the primaries, and this move is regarded by some as a flank movement in the interest of Bourne.

25,000 Letters Were Sent.
The expenses alluded to by Keller in January and February were incurred in sending out 25,000 letters to voters throughout the state, inviting the recipient to give his "thumbs up" to Mr. Selling should become a candidate against Bourne. This was before Selling had formally declared himself in the race. He withheld any announcement as to his purpose until most of the month of June, saying his decision would depend upon the character of the answers.

A large proportion of the replies were favorable, and Mr. Selling then announced his candidacy. It has been the contention of his managers that the expense connected with these letters was not a part of his campaign expenses, as he had not then become a candidate and was merely sounding out public sentiment.

Friends of Bourne muttered at this expense and contended that this plan of letter writing was a subterfuge, as the letters offered comment upon Bourne were tinged with "campaign ginger."

Ben Selling is out of the city, having been away from political activities for more than a week. Max Michel, who signed the affidavit of campaign expense, is in the east and will not return until next week.

GEN. OROZCO'S ARMY RETREATS NORTHWARD

(United Press Special Wire.) El Paso, Texas, July 5.—With General Orozco's rebel forces completely routed and in full retreat northward, the United States army officers here are preparing to deal with a battle which is expected to be fought across the river in Juarez.

It is known that General Orozco has already sent his forces through Chihuahua to the northward on troop trains from Bachimba, the scene of yesterday's battle, and he is expected to continue northward to the border.

HAS PLAN TO CUT 1913 TAX LEVY

Payment of Tax on Great Income of Corporations Urged.

Expenditure of $10,000 on His Campaign That He Did Not Account for in Statement Alleged by Arnold Keller.

(Special Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., July 5.—Charges that Ben Selling violated the corrupt practices act in the recent primary campaign were received by the secretary of state today.

They are made up by Arnold Keller, whose office is given at 14-15 Healy building, Portland. He alleges that Selling, who received the Republican nomination for United States senator, expended $10,000 during January and February in the interests of his candidacy, which he did not report.

According to statements filed immediately after the primary, Mr. Selling spent personally $754.16 and there was contributed and spent by friends, for which Max Michel made affidavit, the sum of $2,941.77. The law allows a candidate for United States senator to expend in his own behalf $125.

Duty of Secretary of State.
While July 3 is the last date on which charges could be filed, the postmark on the envelope shows that the letter was posted at Portland July 2. The secretary of state will immediately notify Mr. Selling of the charges and, if satisfactory proof is not given to show there was no violation of the corrupt practices act, it will be his duty then to report the entire matter to the district attorney who is charged with the duty of bringing the criminal action. Keller's charges are as follows:

"I hereby complain and aver that the statement of campaign expenses heretofore filed in your office by Ben Selling, purporting to set forth expenses incurred by him for the Republican nomination for the office of United States senator, do not conform to the law or to the truth. I allege the facts to be that the said Ben Selling spent large sums of money, to wit:

Letter to Voters Costly.
"About $10,000 during the months of January and February, 1912, for letters and postage and return postage and other ways, setting forth to the Republican voters of Oregon reasons why Jonathan Bourne Jr. should not be nominated for that office and reasons why he, said Selling, should be nominated, that not one of the said sums were included in the said Ben Selling's statement of expenditures.

Arnold Keller, who makes the charges of violation of the corrupt practices act by Ben Selling, is a salesman for the Chapin-Helweg Mortgage & Trust Co., and formerly was engaged in the grocery business at Anabel station, on the Mount Scott line. He has been active in east side improvement club work, and during the primary campaign took the stump for Roosevelt.

"We want to see the law observed," said Mr. Keller today. "As the matter appears, large sums of money were spent for Mr. Selling's campaign, which were not reported. It is not a personal matter at all. It matters not whether it is Mr. Selling or Mr. Bourne, the law ought to be observed.

Dan Kellaker Behind It.
"We think the secretary of state should look into the matter and see whether Mr. Selling kept behind the law. I am acting for Senator Dan Kellaker and other, who are interested in having the thing looked into."

Mr. Keller explained that the address, 15 Healy building, given in the dispatch from Salem, is the address of the East Side Business Men's club, the letter to the secretary of state having been mailed from that place.

During the late campaign Senator Kellaker was a strong supporter of Bourne, but in his campaign statement of campaign expense is regarded as considerable political significance. There has been talk that Bourne is preparing to become a candidate for United States senator in November, despite his defeat at the primaries, and this move is regarded by some as a flank movement in the interest of Bourne.

25,000 Letters Were Sent.
The expenses alluded to by Keller in January and February were incurred in sending out 25,000 letters to voters throughout the state, inviting the recipient to give his "thumbs up" to Mr. Selling should become a candidate against Bourne. This was before Selling had formally declared himself in the race. He withheld any announcement as to his purpose until most of the month of June, saying his decision would depend upon the character of the answers.

A large proportion of the replies were favorable, and Mr. Selling then announced his candidacy. It has been the contention of his managers that the expense connected with these letters was not a part of his campaign expenses, as he had not then become a candidate and was merely sounding out public sentiment.

Friends of Bourne muttered at this expense and contended that this plan of letter writing was a subterfuge, as the letters offered comment upon Bourne were tinged with "campaign ginger."

Ben Selling is out of the city, having been away from political activities for more than a week. Max Michel, who signed the affidavit of campaign expense, is in the east and will not return until next week.

GEN. OROZCO'S ARMY RETREATS NORTHWARD

(United Press Special Wire.) El Paso, Texas, July 5.—With General Orozco's rebel forces completely routed and in full retreat northward, the United States army officers here are preparing to deal with a battle which is expected to be fought across the river in Juarez.

It is known that General Orozco has already sent his forces through Chihuahua to the northward on troop trains from Bachimba, the scene of yesterday's battle, and he is expected to continue northward to the border.

BOX RATE CASE OPENS, CLASSIFICATION RATES

Payment of Tax on Great Income of Corporations Urged.

Expenditure of $10,000 on His Campaign That He Did Not Account for in Statement Alleged by Arnold Keller.

(Special Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., July 5.—Charges that Ben Selling violated the corrupt practices act in the recent primary campaign were received by the secretary of state today.

They are made up by Arnold Keller, whose office is given at 14-15 Healy building, Portland. He alleges that Selling, who received the Republican nomination for United States senator, expended $10,000 during January and February in the interests of his candidacy, which he did not report.

According to statements filed immediately after the primary, Mr. Selling spent personally $754.16 and there was contributed and spent by friends, for which Max Michel made affidavit, the sum of $2,941.77. The law allows a candidate for United States senator to expend in his own behalf $125.

Duty of Secretary of State.
While July 3 is the last date on which charges could be filed, the postmark on the envelope shows that the letter was posted at Portland July 2. The secretary of state will immediately notify Mr. Selling of the charges and, if satisfactory proof is not given to show there was no violation of the corrupt practices act, it will be his duty then to report the entire matter to the district attorney who is charged with the duty of bringing the criminal action. Keller's charges are as follows:

"I hereby complain and aver that the statement of campaign expenses heretofore filed in your office by Ben Selling, purporting to set forth expenses incurred by him for the Republican nomination for the office of United States senator, do not conform to the law or to the truth. I allege the facts to be that the said Ben Selling spent large sums of money, to wit:

Letter to Voters Costly.
"About $10,000 during the months of January and February, 1912, for letters and postage and return postage and other ways, setting forth to the Republican voters of Oregon reasons why Jonathan Bourne Jr. should not be nominated for that office and reasons why he, said Selling, should be nominated, that not one of the said sums were included in the said Ben Selling's statement of expenditures.

Arnold Keller, who makes the charges of violation of the corrupt practices act by Ben Selling, is a salesman for the Chapin-Helweg Mortgage & Trust Co., and formerly was engaged in the grocery business at Anabel station, on the Mount Scott line. He has been active in east side improvement club work, and during the primary campaign took the stump for Roosevelt.

"We want to see the law observed," said Mr. Keller today. "As the matter appears, large sums of money were spent for Mr. Selling's campaign, which were not reported. It is not a personal matter at all. It matters not whether it is Mr. Selling or Mr. Bourne, the law ought to be observed.

Dan Kellaker Behind It.
"We think the secretary of state should look into the matter and see whether Mr. Selling kept behind the law. I am acting for Senator Dan Kellaker and other, who are interested in having the thing looked into."

Mr. Keller explained that the address, 15 Healy building, given in the dispatch from Salem, is the address of the East Side Business Men's club, the letter to the secretary of state having been mailed from that place.

During the late campaign Senator Kellaker was a strong supporter of Bourne, but in his campaign statement of campaign expense is regarded as considerable political significance. There has been talk that Bourne is preparing to become a candidate for United States senator in November, despite his defeat at the primaries, and this move is regarded by some as a flank movement in the interest of Bourne.

25,000 Letters Were Sent.
The expenses alluded to by Keller in January and February were incurred in sending out 25,000 letters to voters throughout the state, inviting the recipient to give his "thumbs up" to Mr. Selling should become a candidate against Bourne. This was before Selling had formally declared himself in the race. He withheld any announcement as to his purpose until most of the month of June, saying his decision would depend upon the character of the answers.

A large proportion of the replies were favorable, and Mr. Selling then announced his candidacy. It has been the contention of his managers that the expense connected with these letters was not a part of his campaign expenses, as he had not then become a candidate and was merely sounding out public sentiment.

Friends of Bourne muttered at this expense and contended that this plan of letter writing was a subterfuge, as the letters offered comment upon Bourne were tinged with "campaign ginger."

Ben Selling is out of the city, having been away from political activities for more than a week. Max Michel, who signed the affidavit of campaign expense, is in the east and will not return until next week.

GEN. OROZCO'S ARMY RETREATS NORTHWARD

(United Press Special Wire.) El Paso, Texas, July 5.—With General Orozco's rebel forces completely routed and in full retreat northward, the United States army officers here are preparing to deal with a battle which is expected to be fought across the river in Juarez.

It is known that General Orozco has already sent his forces through Chihuahua to the northward on troop trains from Bachimba, the scene of yesterday's battle, and he is expected to continue northward to the border.

The Sunday Journal

In the Magazine

WELL GRHAM MOTORS CHANGE THE MAP OF EUROPE? FRANCE FEARS THEY WILL, BECAUSE HER OWN EXPERIENCE LEADS TO THE BELIEF THAT RACE SPOILS MEANS NATIONAL DEGENERACY.

TALE OF MILLION DOLLARS AND WHY HE LEFT THE TOWN

Illustrated Pages for Women Readers

MISTAKES IN BIDDING AT AUCTION—By R. P. Foster.

Next Sunday

OREGON TO FIGURE IN TOURIST CAMPAIGN

Oregon will figure prominently in a "See America First" campaign which has just been inaugurated by passenger traffic officials of the nation in Chicago. William McMurray, general passenger agent of the O. W. R. & N. Company, will return to Portland next Monday after spending several days representing the Harriman transportation interests of the Pacific northwest in the big plan.

Tourists from America left the stupendous sum of $200,000,000 in France last year and mostly in Paris. Little Switzerland garnered $25,000,000 of American money. Great Britain came forward with something like $100,000,000. This total is many times more than was spent by the tourists from Europe in touring America many times more than was spent by Americans in touring their own country in spite of the fact that the scenery of America is even grander than anything European.

The plan of the new "See America First" organization is to prominently advertise all scenic attractions of the nation and especially the west, to promote the installation of accommodations for tourists at desirable points and to get back of the building of roads that will enable tourists to reach points not otherwise accessible from the railroads.

"American Lady," Gossard Lace Frons and Nemo Corsets

Visit Our Delicatessen in Basem't-Ice Cream Soda 5c

2000 Pairs of Women's Shoes

$2.50 Values 89c--$3.50 Values 98c

We place on sale tomorrow morning approximately 2000 pairs of women's shoes at about one-third of the price asked elsewhere for similar qualities. This wonderful sale was made possible in this way: An Eastern manufacturer had to turn his surplus stock into ready cash at a moment's notice. Our buyer happened along at the right moment and made an offer, which was accepted. The shoes are here and ready for sale tomorrow. There is enough variety in styles to suit any taste—sizes and lasts to suit.

Regular $2.50 Shoes at 89c Pair Included in this lot are one-strap gunmetal pumps, one-strap patent leather pumps, two-strap patent leather turned pumps, vici kid oxfords with medium heels and tan vici kid oxfords with medium heels. Values are fully $2.50. We place them on sale for tomorrow at the extremely low price of pair 89c.

Regular $3.50 Shoes at 98c Pair Included in this lot are low-heel kid Juliets, with rubber heels; velvet button shoes with Cuban heel, tan calf bucher oxfords, welta and gunmetal strap pumps. The values in this lot, judged by any comparative standard, are fully $3.50. They are priced for this sale tomorrow at only the pair 98c.

Don't Fail to See the Big Window Display

Sale of 300 Men's Suits

$18.00 Suits at $12.48

$22.50 Suits at $14.95

The man who put off buying his Summer Suit for some reason or other has reason to be very thankful, because he can come here tomorrow and save at least one-third of his anticipated outlay. Don't fail to take advantage of these low prices. Made of worsteds, cassimeres, tweeds and blue serges. Perfect in tailoring. Splendidly lined and finished. You can't touch them elsewhere. $12.48

Men's Shirts—$1.50 Values on Sale at 89c Each

Men's Neckwear for 17c

Men's Silk Four-in-Hands, open ends and reversible, plain and fancy effects. Made of 50c neckwear silk remnant. 35c values, special at only 17c

15c Soft Collars for 11c

Men's Soft Collars of white, tan, gray, blue and lavender, mercerized soisette pearl link front buttons; 15c all ways, here tomorrow for only 11c

Men's Union Suits, ribbed Egyptian and white cotton, short sleeves and ankle length, finished with crepe collar, larettes; regular $1.25 values, at 79c

$5 Sweater Coats $2.45

Men's and women's pure worsted Sweater Coats, gray, white and navy; V-neck, ruff-neck, also with V-neck; Byron collar; $5 values, for $2.45

Chocolate Nonpareils, lb., only 23c

Marshmallows, special, at lb. 15c

Cream Covered Dates, special 15c

French Mixed Candy, special 10c

Strawberry Jellies, special at 10c