HUCKLEBERRIES THICK IN MOUNT HOOD REGION

(Special to the Journal.) Hood River, Or., July 29.—huckleberry crop in the mountains near Green Point and Lost Lake is very heavy this year. Indians from nearby reservations come to the Hood River valley each year and dry large quantities of the berries, and together with local Indians, hundreds of gallons are brought from the mountains on pack horses and sold to local residents and shipped to Portland. The berries are gathered in Indian baskets holding five gallons each, and so made that they hang conveniently along the side of the cayuses and one of the ponies can transport over the rough trails about 80 gallons. The fresh berries sell readily on the local market for 75 cents per gallon.

WEDDINGS

One of the pretty home weddings of the season took place Wednesday evening, July 17, when William R. Kirkpatrick and Miss Hazel Ina Holden were united in marriage at the home of the bride's guardian, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ward, 138 East 15th street, north. The bridal couple stood under a canopy of evergreens and pink roses with a large white wedding bell suspended above. The services were read by Rev. Helmar H. Trimble, of Centenary M. E. Church. The color scheme in the dining room was pink and green. The bride wore a handsome gown of crepe de chine, elaborated with real lace and pearls. The drapery was caught up with pink satin roses. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. Miss Grace Griswold acted as bridesmaid, and carried white carnations. Roy Routsen acted as best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Genevieve Kirkpatrick, sister of the groom. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the dining room. The bridal cake rested on a bank of evergreens and pink sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick will spend their honeymoon on Mr. Kirkpatrick's farm near Hood River, and will be at home to their many friends after September 1, at 377 East 54th street.

Married at the Centenary Methodist parsonage, 644 East Ankeny street, July 10, at 7:30 p. m., Dean H. Williams and Ruth Murray. The Rev. Delmar H. Trimble performed the ceremony, in the presence of intimate friends.

Roy B. Coyne and Mamie E. McCarthy were married last Wednesday in Vancouver, Washington. They were attended by Miss Winnegret Porter, sister of the bride and C. W. Heppner. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Hof Brau. Mr. and Mrs. Coyne were the recipients of many messages and congratulations.

Rev. Mr. McPhail, of the White Temple, officiated at the wedding of Miss Alice Margaret Hewitt and W. C. Campbell which was solemnized at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice Hewitt, 405 Twelfth street. The bride was charming in a gown of white mulle. She carried bride roses. Mr. Campbell is an attorney here. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan law school. He and his bride will spend their honeymoon at Newport.

On Monday evening, July 15, at the bride's home, 959 East Twelfth street, north, Albert L. Reynolds and Florence Peterson were married. A large circle of friends and relatives of both groom and bride were present. The groom, attended by Jack Johnson, awaited the bride who was given away by her father, A. Peterson. Laura Hardahl was the bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by T. W. Litzer on the violin accompanied by Mrs. George Duerst. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. S. Bollinger of the Highland Congregational church. A wedding dinner was served. Mr. Reynolds is an employee of the P. R. L. & P. company. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will be at home to their friends at 830 Thurman street after August first.

A very pretty romance ended Saturday evening, July 6, when McHanus Keane of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Bess Mioma Aunks, the only daughter of Mrs. S. F. Aunks, of Pittsburg, Pa. The marriage ceremony was performed in the Cathedral residence, 82 North Sixteenth street, by the Rev. H. J. McDavit. The bride looked charming in a dress of white and carried a bou-

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

The last roundtable at Shakespearean headquarters, Gladstone Park, on Thursday, was full of good things. Several scenes from Henry VIII were given by members of the Portland Shakespeare Study club. In scene III, act II, Anne Boylen was taken by Mrs. Herbert G. Reed. The old lady was taken by Mrs. R. E. Jones. Scene IV, act II, the trial scene, was given by Mrs. P. L. Thompson. Scene II, act III, Wolsey's Fall, was given by Mrs. E. E. Tinney. Mrs. A. A. Manship spoke on "The Nature and Value of Comedies" then read selections from "As You Like It." Professor Lee Emerson Bassett of Stanford university, gave scene I, act IV, of Hamlet, by special request, as a number of the guests were not able to hear the full presentation of this wonderful play on Friday. So closed the series of interesting entertainments given at these headquarters during the present session of the Chautauqua assembly.

Paul and Marmon Stone, brother and sister, residents of St. Paul, Minn., were entertained extensively throughout the week of their engagement at the Orpheum. They were guests Thursday evening of Mrs. John Scott at her home at 409 East Sixteenth street, north. Herman Smith entertained Miss Stone and her brother at a houseboat party Wednesday night. The Stones also were guests in automobile trips arranged by
