

STANLEY'S STEEL INQUIRY REPORT OFFERS NEW PLAN

Committee Would Have Sherman Law Broadened and Would Force Carriers and Manufacturers Apart.

(By the International News Service.) Washington, July 20.—Settling the issues between the Democrats and Republicans and steering clear of Socialism, the Stanley steel report will condemn flatly any attempt by the federal government at registration of corporations or control of prices.

It was decided today by the Democratic members of the committee that they would oppose the policy recommended by President Taft in a message to congress by Colonel Roosevelt while president, Herbert Knox Smith, the retiring commissioner of corporations, and by Judge E. H. Gary of the steel corporation, J. E. Morgan, George W. Perkins, John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie.

Recommend New Laws.

Representative Young of Michigan, the ranking Republican member of the Stanley committee, will recommend in his report that congress shall pass a federal incorporation act. He is joined in this recommendation by Representatives Gardner of Massachusetts, Sterling of Illinois and Danforth of New York, but the three latter are opposed to the extension of the law to the fixing of maximum prices, agreeing with the Democrats that this is semi-Socialistic. In their conference today Chairman Stanley and Representative Littleton fought out the Democratic differences and reached as the basis of agreement these conclusions:

Plan of Operation.

First—That there shall be an absolute divorce and separation of common carriers from manufacturers.

Second—That the Sherman law should be changed to allow individuals to secure injunctions by bills in equity against all alleged violators of the Sherman law by which they claim to be injured. This prohibits the president of the United States from dictating to the attorney general the withdrawal of pending suits against corporations, or non-institution of suits against them under the Sherman law. In other words, it is intended to take from the executive the exclusive control over the initiation or conclusion of anti-trust proceedings as applied to individual companies.

Third—That the commissioner of corporations shall be required to report to the house as well as to the president the results of all investigations into all alleged violations by corporations of the Sherman anti-trust law, and that hereafter no bureau shall be commissioned by congress, which shall report solely to the president.

Congress Without Power.

As the law stands, congress may only receive reports of the result of investigation by the bureau of corporation when submitted through the president and with his consent, and no power vests in congress under the constitution to force the president to make a report.

All day long Chairman Stanley and Representative Littleton, representing the divergent views among the Democrats of the committee as to the character of the report to be made, threshed out their differences. Mr. Littleton insisted that no political consideration should form a part of the recommendation to be made to the house.

The Stanley tentative report is accepted by the Democrats as a basis for the actual findings of the committee when its report is made public next week.

Bill Still Not Approved.

There has been no agreement among the Democrats as to the character of the remedial action they will recommend, but the final text of the bill remains to be approved.

Heretofore announced by the International News Service and verified by the committee today, there will be no recommendations in the report of the committee for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation because the Stanley committee last December decided to assist the department of justice in its prosecutions.

DECIDES TAX SUIT FOR N. P. AFTER HE GOT 21,000 ACRES

M. Mills, the new president of the company, and the company as well. Kerr and McCord, representing Mills and the company, denied insolvency of the company and the receiver appointed at Crawford's request was discharged. Within a few days, however, receivers were appointed in the federal court by Judge Hanford at the request of the Peabody interests. It being at that time alleged that the company was insolvent, Hanford appointed Mills, whom Kerr & McCord represented, as one of the receivers.

Some Outside Lawyers Secured.

After further attorney for the Peabody people, testified this afternoon that he did not draw up the papers for the receivership. He saw them for the first time when McCord introduced him

THIRD PARTY IS TO HOLD CONVENTION THURSDAY, JULY 25

Senator George Joseph Chosen Chairman of the Executive Committee at Yesterday's Meeting; to Name Delegates

State Senator George W. Joseph was elected chairman of the executive committee of the National Progressive club at a noonday meeting yesterday, at which time further plans were made for the mass convention of the third party to be held on the east side last Thursday. Senator Dan Kellaher, as chairman of the club, will call the meeting to order at 10 o'clock. It is expected that adjournment will be taken until evening after the meeting has been organized and committees have been named. The recess will give opportunity for the Roosevelt champions from different parts of the state to confer and pick out the five men who are to be sent as delegates to the national convention at Chicago.

At the evening session committees will report, delegates will be elected, "bull moose" oratory will be turned loose and the future organization of the new party mapped out. It is probable that some kind of a state committee will be formed and plans will be considered for placing a full electoral ticket in the field. It is expected that the selection of the electoral ticket will be deferred until after Roosevelt has been nominated and the name of the new party officially determined.

Expect Large Crowd.

While the meeting was being called for the east side branch library, Chairman Dan Kellaher and Secretary L. M. Lepper say they anticipate having a larger crowd than can be accommodated there, and adjournment may be taken to the W. O. W. hall on East Alder street or to the auditorium of the Washington high school.

A large number of names are being mentioned as prospective delegates to the Chicago gathering. Dr. H. W. Cox and C. W. Ackerson, who fought it out to the end as delegates to the regular convention in June and later attended the Roosevelt nominating meeting in Orchestra hall, are said to be in particular favor if they wish to return to Chicago as delegates to the new convention.

Other names discussed include Levi W. Myers, vice-president of the club; V. Vincent Jones, one of the executive committee; ex-Speaker John P. Rusk, of La Grande; D. J. Cooper, of The Dalles; Crosby G. Davis, of Corvallis; R. J. Green, of La Grande; A. K. Ware and Fred W. Meares, of Medford; John Meek, of St. Johns, and George W. Joseph, O. M. Hickey, D. L. Povey and H. J. Blasensing, of Portland.

Many Would Be Delegates.

R. J. Green, a La Grande lumberman, would like to be one of the delegates, and several others of those mentioned are said to be willing to take the job. Secretary Lepper says he has received many letters from other parts of the state.

Among those who have written promising support for the third party, the most of whom will attend the Thursday meeting, are D. J. Cooper, of The Dalles; A. D. Hall, of Albany; E. Höfer, of Salem; Crosby G. Davis, of Corvallis; Representative A. C. Libby, of Salem; R. J. Green, of La Grande; and Mayor Robert Van Gilse, of Nyssa. Ex-Speaker Rusk has assured the Rooseveltites he will be present.

to an attorney named Little of Chicago, who retained him on behalf of Peabody at that time, he said.

Miss Julia A. Schumaker, stenographer for Kerr & McCord, said she could not identify the papers as having been typewritten by her. Representative McCoy put her under a grilling examination on that point. McCord will probably be called Monday.

Committee Is About Through.

With the exception of further investigation into the Hanford litigation project and the Benton suits, the committee's work is practically at an end here. The week had been chiefly devoted to the examination of charges of excessive receivership fees. Five witnesses during the week brought the total to $5 who saw Judge Hanford positively intoxicated. This does not include the number who saw him apparently drunk. The probe will probably only last a day or two more.

JOS. BENNER, LEBANON, FALLS 18 FEET OFF ROOF

(Special to The Journal.)

Lebanon, Or., July 20.—Joseph Benner, one of the Linn County school supervisors, had the misfortune to fall off the roof of a barn yesterday that he was helping to shingle, and to break four ribs on his left side and be bruised. His physician fears he is hurt internally. The barn he fell from is 18 feet high at the eaves, and Mr. Benner slid down the roof quite a distance before he fell, which gave him momentum. He struck a piece of the framework in the fall or the tumble would probably have been more serious.

PROGRESSIVES OF MICHIGAN NAME COMPLETE TICKET

Roosevelt's Manager Gives Keynote to State Convention, by Advocating "Clean Sweep" Campaign.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Jackson, Mich., July 20.—The state progressive convention held here today placed in the field a complete ticket including presidential electors, state, congressional and legislative candidates. The full ticket was nominated after Senator Joseph Dixon, Roosevelt campaign manager, informed the leaders that it was the desire of Colonel Roosevelt to have a "clean sweep" ticket.

"Colonel Roosevelt," said Dixon, "wants to make the whole fight in Michigan or not at all. People throughout the country are demanding a new party and they shall have it."

It was feared there would be a fight on the floor of the convention over this point. Frank W. Knox, former western manager for Roosevelt, was advocating the "stub" ticket plan, but after Dixon explained Roosevelt's attitude, Knox said he was satisfied so long as Roosevelt electors were chosen and Governor Osborne was endorsed.

The resolutions adopted today contain all of the Roosevelt ideas and demand wide reforms.

Senator Dixon addressed the convention this afternoon. A laugh and a round of applause followed his reference to the candidacy of Governor Wilson as a "rose blossoming on the refuse pile."

A demonstration lasting five minutes followed the statement of Chairman J. O. Patchen of Traverse City that the meeting was the result of a "call from the American people."

State Senator L. Whitney Watkins received the endorsement of the convention for Governor by a large majority. Chase S. Osborn, the present Governor, who has personally declared for Wilson, had many friends in the convention, and an attempt will be made to secure the necessary 300 signatures to place Osborn in the running as a candidate of the progressive party under its emblem.

T. M. Joslin, of Adrian, was endorsed as the progressive candidate for United States senator, and M. P. Hall will be the party's candidate for congressman at large.

The balance of the ticket will be named in time for primary action.

EX-MAYOR SCHMITZ IS TO WRITE BOOK UPON THE GRAFT CONDITIONS

A lot of stuff that is not true, and the former mayor is pledged by his friends to give a vastly different account of his relations with Ruff than the one that is being written by the convict boss.

Story Is New.

"My story has never been told," said Schmitz tonight. "It is my purpose to give to the public for the first time a true story of what led up to the graft prosecution, and a true statement of the facts that developed during the prosecution and of what occurred afterward."

"My purpose is not to vilify anyone. My book will show the methods employed by the so-called graft prosecution, and show the motives that inspired those behind the prosecution. For instance, I shall relate, and prove it by records, that the men behind the movement were prompted by the desire to get control of the municipal government. In proof of this statement I will produce records of conversations—records that were taken down when the conversations occurred—showing that after my return from Europe in 1905, the proposition was made to me to leave the city and stay away, and that I was made the promise that there would be no prosecution of me if I would agree to do this."

LUMBER MARKET BETTER THAN ANY TIME SINCE 1907

mills the demand for saw logs has increased and the supply of available logs in the water is today below normal. Practically all the logging camps in the Columbia river district have been idle since July 4, when they were shut down to give employees the customary summer vacation, and there will be a very small surplus of logs August 1 when the camps resume operations.

The average wage in the logging camp is $3.25 a day and several thousand men are employed in the Columbia river district, with several thousand more in other districts in the state. A great many country towns owe their very existence to the activity in the logging and lumbering industries and these are again assuming the appearance of prosperity.

Ship to California.

Large quantities of lumber are being shipped to California by water from mills along the Columbia river while the Willamette valley mills ship to the same destination by rail. The California market has shown a very material improvement in the past few months and reports from the various centers there are to the effect that stocks are low on account of most of the lumber having been shipped out of the state to Utah, Nevada and Mexico, practically as soon as it arrived from the north.

With splendid grain crops netting the farmers throughout the northwest good profits this summer prospects for a good lumber market in the northwest are also improving daily. It is pointed out that the first thing the progressive farmer does in a prosperous year is to survey his holdings and make such improvements in buildings and fences as he feels he can afford. In the aggregate, this, it is said, will mean a great deal to the lumber industry.
