

3D PARTY PLEDGES MANY, BOTH OLD PARTIES RAPPED

Promises It Will Make Federal Constitution More Easily Amendable; Suffrage Is Given Separate Plank.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Aug. 8.—The following "Declaration of principles" of the new Progressive party was given out here following the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for president.

"The conscience of the people in this time of grave national problems is called into being a new party, born of the nation's awakened sense of justice."

"We, of the Progressive party, here dedicate ourselves to the fulfillment of the duty laid upon us by our fathers to maintain a government of the people, by the people, and for the people, the foundation of which they laid."

Old Parties Denounced.
In denouncing the old parties, the platform says: "Unhappily by tradition, unscrupled by power and undismayed by the magnitude of the task, the new party offers itself as an instrument of the people to sweep away old abuses and build a new and nobler commonwealth."

Suffrage Is Favored.
The suffrage plank says: "Believing that no people can claim to be a true democracy which denies rights on account of sex, pledges itself to the task of securing equal suffrage to men and women alike."

Urges National Regulation.
Taking up "big business," the platform urges national regulation of interstate corporations, favors strengthening the Sherman law and demands a federal commission for the regulation of interstate industrial concerns;

Income Tax Favored.
The platform goes on to favor income and inheritance taxes and an international agreement for the cutting down of naval forces, the construction of two battleships each year, a just pension policy, the creation of a parcels post and other like features.

VICTIM OF SHOOTING, PROMINENT PIONEER

John Quick.

(Special to The Journal.) Coquille, Or., Aug. 8.—John Quick Sr. of Coquille was shot and killed Monday morning by 11-year-old Lyle Perrine of Roseburg. The shooting occurred on the bluff below Bandon at 9 o'clock, and was witnessed by no one. Mr. Quick and party left Coquille last week for an outing at the beach and were camped near Mr. Perrine, who came from Roseburg with his family. Monday the Quick party decided to break camp and leave for home. Having a supply of wood left, Mr. Quick tried to dispose of it to other campers and for that purpose went over to Perrine's camp. The Perrine had gone to the beach and left the lad, Lyle, to guard the camp. It is presumed young Perrine saw Mr. Quick approaching and mistook him for a burglar. The shooting was done with a 30-30 rifle, the bullet striking the left side and entering the heart, death being almost instantaneous. The boy rushed out, and meeting Thomas Anderson, told him what he had done. Quick had expired when Anderson arrived on the scene.

Mr. Quick was 75 years old and was one of Coos county's most well known pioneers, coming here in 1874. He first settled on Lampa creek, but moved to this city. He was a member of the local G. A. R. post, having served three years in the Civil war.

The deceased leaves four daughters, Miss Flora, Mrs. Charles Levine and Mrs. Mary Harvey of Coquille, and Mrs. S. S. Wheeler of Portland. He also leaves one son, John Quick Jr., who for two years was mayor of Coquille.

A coroner's jury relieved the boy of any responsibility for the killing.

CHOP SUEY MAKES BIG HIT IN CHINA

"America's National Dish" Is Gobbled With Relish by "Society" in Orient.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Chow, China, Aug. 8.—Ling Chin Ho has opened a chop suey restaurant here and seems likely to get rich out of it. Ling is a merchant who visited the United States recently. While there he tasted chop suey for the first time, and it immediately struck him that his countrymen would like it. So he engaged a San Francisco cook skilled in its preparation, and brought him along when he returned to China.

Just as Chinese restaurants in the United States are fitted up look as Chinese as possible, even so is Ling's chop suey restaurant in San Chow fitted in as distinctly American style as Ling could remember how to fit it.

The chop suey, hitherto unknown in China, is advertised as the American national dish. It has made an immense hit, especially in view of the fact that Chinese "society" inclines to view visits to an American restaurant as a little bit "risque" and stigmatizing parties of the most exclusive people in San Chow swam into it nightly, gobbling chop suey and plumping themselves on their Bohemianism.

HELD FOR STEALING M'NAMARA'S AUTO

Daughter Goes East in Effort to Reconcile Her Father and Mother.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Aug. 8.—Armed with warrants for the arrest of Miss Cora Perkins and Frederick Patterson, who were arrested for the theft of a $1000 automobile belonging to Nicholas J. McNamara of San Mateo, Cal., Police Lieutenant McGowan of San Francisco, arrived here. He also had a request for the extradition of the prisoners.

McGowan was accompanied by Miss Gladys McNamara who hoped to effect a reconciliation between her father and mother.

When McNamara and his daughter reached the Hotel Knickerbocker, they learned for the first time that Mrs. McNamara had started for San Francisco, accompanied by Patrick Walsh, her chauffeur. McGowan, with Miss Perkins and Patterson in custody, started for San Francisco this afternoon.

MYSTERIOUS LETTERS APPEAR IN LIQUOR WAR

Albany, Or., Aug. 8.—An air of expectancy seemed to prevail yesterday in the territory commonly known as the "blind pig" district, and three of the places which are supposed to compose the "blind pig trust" in Albany were closed all day.

Anonymous letters have been received by the proprietors and by other citizens during the last few days, threatening to do bodily harm to them and burn their places of business if they do not desist in the illicit sale of liquor. The chief of police received the first letter, the tenor of which was that his duty was as a day officer and for him to stay in nights or he would be filled with lead, and that he thought anything of his night men to tell them to go slow. All the letters appear to be written by the same hand and are scrawled in printed letters with a pencil.

Speculation as to the origin of the letters and the incentive for the burning of the Franklin house last week followed the next day by the burning of another house that had borne the reputation of being a "blind pig," runs all the way from one extreme to the other. Many are inclined to believe that the letters are written or inspired at least by the "blind piggers" themselves for effect. Others believe that it is all a big joke for the entertainment of the summer season.

MONEY NEEDED TO KEEP UP CAPITOL

Failure of Legislature to Provide for Maintenance Is the Cause.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Aug. 8.—Broke and without a dollar in sight, Secretary of State Ben Olcott, custodian of the state capitol, is scrapping and scrapping in an effort to keep up the state house and avoid an unpleasant deficiency of the contingent fund. He is known that the last legislature deemed it advisable to make no special appropriation for the maintenance and upkeep of the capitol building.

Discovery was made that a leakage from a steam pipe had trickled down one of the four steel supports of the capitol dome and so long as it was not that it would be but a matter of time until the support would sag. Secretary Olcott instructed the janitor to have the pipe replaced, even though there is no money in sight with which to pay the bill.

Without an appropriation for the upkeep of the capitol, the secretary of state has been drawing for necessary expenditures upon the contingent fund, an appropriation of $28,300 made for the purpose of buying office requisites, such as stamps, stationery, etc. And this is a tight prospect now that the fund will show a deficit of about $2,000.

The last legislature approved the installation of a new elevator in the capitol, but failed to provide for the expense. After the legislature adjourned the old elevator fell down the shafting and a new one was installed. The elevator was installed at $100 and was drawn out of the contingent fund in payment thereof.

The approaches at both main entrances to the building became so dilapidated in appearance that Secretary Olcott had them painted. And there have been numerous other small expenditures which Olcott felt he could not well avoid, although loosening up on that contingent fund was like visiting the dentist.

Janitor Dunsford recently called the secretary of state's attention to the squalid condition of the fire escapes and to their need of a new coat of paint, but there will be nothing more doing in the painting line until the legislature provides for it. Secretary Olcott says he intends to recommend that an appropriation be made for painting the entire building. He is also going to recommend that the law be amended so each state department will purchase its own office supplies.

When Olcott saw that a deficiency of the contingent fund was unavoidable he bought $600 worth of stamps, enough to last for the year.

'Meanest Man' Found?

Paine, in her divorce complaint filed here are true. Although worth $12,500, and enjoying an income of $250 monthly, Paine, so the complaint alleges, forced his wife to work as a servant to support herself and child.

GERMAN COURT WILL RULE ON ALL DUELS

Berlin, Aug. 8.—An order will be issued by the kaiser in a few days prohibiting duels in the army and navy until after the matter has first been submitted to a court of honor. It is said that should any officer fight a duel without complying with this order, it will mean immediate dismissal. It is understood to be the kaiser's hope with this imperial order practically to kill out duelling in Germany, and that, too, without affecting the traditions surrounding it in the army.

WHAT STATES HAVE RULED AGAINST DUPLICATE FRANCHISES?

The states that have recently passed upon and decided against competition between public utilities rendering the same character of service in the same community are:

NEW YORK MASSACHUSETTS NEW JERSEY CALIFORNIA WISCONSIN KANSAS OHIO

Those holding to the contrary, none (so far as known). What does the ruling mean? That Portland would make a mistake if it legally authorized the duplication of all the poles, all the wire, all the conduits, all the sub-stations and all waterpower plants of the existing company, by granting a franchise to another light and power concern.

In other words, it is not sound economic doctrine to fasten upon the consuming public a yearly interest charge of several hundred thousand dollars, when a regulative act, controlling rates, service and valuation is within the reach of the community.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Aug. 8.—By one vote, the fight to pass the $150,000,000 pension appropriation bill was lost in the senate yesterday, and the bill sent back to the house for further conference.
