

COMMISSION PLAN ORDINANCES MEET DELAY IN COUNCIL

City Lawmakers Consider the Questions but Fail to Reach Agreement; To Meet Again Next Monday Morning.

Ordinances calling for the submission of a commission government charter and other amendments to the people at a special election in October were considered by the city council in adjourned session today, but no action was taken. The council expressing the opinion that the subject was of such importance as to warrant another adjourned session. Accordingly the mayor ordered the council to meet again next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

At that time all amendments that may be submitted, other than those already placed before the council by the charter commission, will be given consideration. Mayor Rushlight said he would advocate the submission of any of these amendments that might seem to be for the best interests of the public, but that he would oppose any effort on the part of any interests to cause the issue by substituting conflicting amendments.

Many Amendments Offered.
President Dan Kellner of the East Side Business Men's club said he would have some charter amendments to submit to the people and that he would ask the council to order these on the ballot at the coming special election.

After a long discussion the council voted down a resolution introduced by Councilman Maguire, asking that an investigation be made by a special committee of the action of the city attorney's office in the case of the city of Wakefield.

This case, involving a claim of $403,000 made by Robert Wakefield on the Mount Tabor contracts, has attracted considerable publicity because of the appointment of former Circuit Judge J. B. Cleland as referee. Charges have been made that Cleland was supported for reelection by attorneys for the plaintiff and that this might influence Mr. Cleland in making a decision.

City Attorney Grant was called upon for an explanation, he made with some heat. He said he had not asked for a referee, but that he had, on the contrary, told President Judge Kavanaugh of the circuit court that it was against the policy of the city attorney's office to have any suit tried except before a jury.

Cleland Called Fair.
"Judge Kavanaugh," said Mr. Grant, "has the power to appoint a referee, however, and he did so. After he had declared for a referee a number of prospective candidates for the position were submitted to me and I consented to the appointment of former Judge Cleland. I believe Judge Cleland to be both competent and fair and if there is any criticism coming to me for accepting him I am ready to take it. But I want to say right now that the adoption of this resolution will embarrass me in my efforts to win the case. The suit is half tried already and I believe the fee of $1500 authorized by the water board to be paid by the city to Judge Cleland is fair. If the case were tried by a jury it would cost the city $35 a day and as it may take six months to try it, you can figure for yourself what the total cost would be in that event."

Following Mr. Grant's explanation, the council took a vote on the resolution, which was defeated 10 to 8. Maguire, Clyde and Jennings were the three who stood out for the adoption of the resolution.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of a revocable permit to Percy & Strickler was referred to the street committee, after some debate. This is the permit which caused so much comment at last week's session of the council, in which Councilman Clyde accused Councilman Joy of "slipping one over" on his constituents.

The permit ordinance was amended to read so that the permit will expire in one year. In that form it seems likely to pass. Representatives of Percy & Strickler declare that the revocation of the permit at this time would bankrupt the firm. They have agreed to remove the tracks, however, within a year.

Councilman Daly said he believed the permit should not be revoked, as the firm of Percy & Strickler, he said, supplies building material in the sparsely settled Creston district at prices 20 per cent less than would have to be charged if the spur track to the warehouse of the firm were removed.

The council awarded the contract for the paving of the Washburn avenue district with gravel bituminous for $81,000 to the Warren Construction company, this firm being the lowest bidder for the job.

Mayor Rushlight today ruled that for the future delegates of citizens who wish to attend council meetings must not use the floor of the council, but must take seats in the gallery. He said that the past practice of allowing people to go on the floor and dictate to councilmen in the midst of vote on important measures necessitated his ruling.

WRIT OF PROBABLE CAUSE DENIED ROBERTS

Judge Morrow of the circuit court refused attorneys for H. E. Roberts, convicted of killing Donald Stewart, a writ of probable cause for a new trial this morning, thereby forcing the case direct to the supreme court. Arrangements were made immediately to have it taken up Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Roberts is sentenced to be hanged August 23, and if the supreme court does not act at once, an appeal will be made to the governor to stay the execution.

After considerable argument, the bill of exceptions was settled by the judge, this bill to be taken to the supreme court tomorrow morning. In appealing, Roberts lays his chief reason on the constitutionality of the act which provides that a trial may be had in the county where death occurred. In this case, Roberts shot Stewart in Clatsop county, and death was in Multnomah county.

FOUR AUTO SPEEDERS ARE FINED $25 EACH

Four fines of $25 each were assessed violators of the auto speeding ordinance by Judge Tazwell this morning as the result of an invasion by Motorcycle Patrolmen Nelson and Schirmer on Belmont and Division streets yesterday afternoon. Those fined were G. O. Miller, H. Feldman, V. C. Glidden and Van Housen.

DISBANDED GUARD OFFICERS PLAN TO MAKE A DEFENSE

Testimony to Be Taken at Unofficial Hearing of Governor West, Tomorrow; General Staff Has Assistance.

Determined that Governor West shall hear his side of the story of the alleged mutiny at the rate, Wash., of the Second battalion, Third Infantry, U. S. A., which led up to the disbandment of the battalion without a full investigation, Ryland Scott, formerly major commanding the battalion, and four other officers will be present at Salem tomorrow when Governor West's unofficial inquiry is scheduled to begin.

Adjutant General Finzer and at least three members of the general staff likewise will be present to defend the action of the general staff and explain why the battalion was summarily disbanded and the officers denied a military inquiry, which they had requested.

Brigadier General Maus of the regular army, commander of the district of the Columbia, and the officer who had charge of the recent Washington maneuvers, will be represented by an attorney.

Attorneys will attend the inquiry as representatives of the general staff also.

No explanation of the elaborate preparations on the part of General Maus and the general staff for defense or offense before the governor was forthcoming today, other than the statement that the general staff did not intend that the accused officers would "suffer over an exaggerated story."

Scott, Williams, Toomey, Delch and Brumbaugh, who as officers were accused of disobeying marching orders, will appear at the inquiry as private citizens, and, it is reported, will not be represented by attorneys. It is said they will take the position that the inquiry was ordered by the governor simply to ascertain whether the general staff acted justly and without due justice to all, and will offer their evidence from that viewpoint.

No Statement to Make.
"I have no statement to make in regard to the coming general inquiry," said Adjutant General Finzer today. "We have acted, and if the governor believes at the conclusion of the inquiry that the general staff did not take the right course, he as commander-in-chief is in position to rescind the disbandment order and reinstate the former officers and men."

According to letters sent out by the governor, the questions to be considered tomorrow will be whether an order was issued at Gate for the battalion to move, whether it was obeyed and if given and not obeyed, what justified the officers in such action.

The adjutant general is in receipt of a letter from the war department which contains a scathing attack on the Second battalion and advising the "most drastic disciplinary action in respect to all members of the 'organized militia' in the epistle, which is signed by Major William J. Snow, acting chief division of militia affairs, for chief of staff, it is asserted that the occurrence was a "flagrant violation of military discipline" and that it reflected upon the "good name of the Oregon National Guard." The communication in part follows:

"Not only does such an occurrence reflect upon the good name of the National Guard of Oregon, but it is apt to bring directly into ill repute the National Guard of the whole country and it may be seized upon by enemies of an efficient organized militia as an excuse for further attack, which would prove exceedingly embarrassing to the war department at this time, on account of important legislation relative to the organized militia now pending before congress."

Major Snow's letter was written following the receipt of information of the alleged mutiny from a regular army officer, who forwarded it to Washington without giving the officers of the battalion a chance to tell their side of the case.

CAPTAIN OF GORDON HIGHLANDERS SHOTS 3, THEN FIRES HOUSE

Five Bodies in All Taken From Death Dwelling; One Believed That of Murderer.

Eastbourne, England, Aug. 19.—Five bodies have been recovered from the ruins of a house which was set afire today by Captain Hicks Murray of the Gordon Highlanders, after shooting and killing his two children and wounding his wife. Two of the bodies are those of the Murray children. A third child and a woman have not been identified. Another charred corpse is thought to be either Murray or a man of his height and weight. Mrs. Murray, who was rescued, declared that she did not know of anyone else being in the house.

The agent who rented the dwelling, however, stated that the building had been leased to a Richard Mackie, an American, who occupied it with his wife and child. As the lease expired today and had not been renewed by Mackie, the agent rented the house to the Murmurs yesterday.

Mrs. Murray declared that at 5 o'clock this morning her husband fired into the room and shot the children and herself. A note was found in which Murray declared he was ruined and intended to kill all who were dependent upon him. The police believe that Murray escaped and that the charred body is that of Mackie.

Captain Murray's letter, which elicits the motive for the crime, reads: "I am hopelessly ruined and have for this reason killed all those depending on me. I should like all of us to be buried in one grave. God forgive me."

Expenses May Be High.
"It is true the cost of maintenance at the Pendleton asylum at first will be higher than the cost here, but there need be no occasion for factional fighting in the legislature over the institution. The state has to care for its insane and it is the duty of the legislature to be partly offset by the transportation cost which we have had to pay in the past in bringing patients from that part of the state to Salem. With fine buildings erected there that is going to be a big institution and I think eastern Oregon will unite in support of it."

Eilers Music House is gratified and almost surprised to find that so far for August, the sales in the Phonograph Department are more than 300 per cent greater than for the same period last year. We were extremely busy last year in our new, splendid Talking Machine Department, which had then just been opened.

But our business this year is three times greater. This must mean that the splendid facilities we have provided in those plate-glass and mahogany "daylight" record and talking machine selection rooms are appreciated.

It means that the thorough knowledge possessed by our salespeople and their courteousness is being appreciated; and it means that our aims, wherever possible, to furnish more for the money than is obtainable elsewhere are becoming recognized.

It means that our present sale of talking machines is being extensively patronized and that every caller finds here the machines and the prices exactly as stated, resulting in one sale after another to delighted buyers.

The rules of the several Talking Machine manufacturers prohibit advertising the names of machines at cut prices, hence this general announcement can only be made. But come and see! The machines in this sale are most of them latest types, many of them received in part payment of our wonderful little bungalow player pianos, the autopianos and player piano de luxe, from homes where two instruments were not wanted.

Others, again, have come to us in part payment for the great $200 and $250 machines. Still others have been out on sale in dealers' hands who have gone out of business. We now give one of the double disc records free to every caller who has not previously received one. Every machine in this great sale is in perfect order and so guaranteed, and reduced one-third, one-half, and in some cases as much as 80 per cent. For example, there are still several $200 machines for $155, including 40 selections of latest records, payments $10 cash, $6 a month. $200 machines, $130, including 40 new and latest selections, $10 cash and $6 a month.

Remember that every machine is in perfect playable condition. This is the greatest sale of modern TALK MACHINES ever held. In addition to the greatly reduced prices we arrange with any buyer the most reasonable terms of payment, as above, or strictly confidential in any other manner as best suits the convenience of each purchaser. Make a small deposit to show good faith—then pay a little each week or each month. We'll send these machines and records anywhere subject to trial. If any instrument, after delivery, is not entirely satisfactory, it may be returned, for Eilers Music House is a Money-Back Store. No transaction here is right that does not mean satisfaction to the buyer. Ask also about our liberal exchange privileges extended to every buyer during this sale.

EASTERN OREGON ASYLUM WILL BE GIVEN FAIR TEST

State Board Says State Needs Additional Accommodations and That New Institution Should Relieve Conditions.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Aug. 19.—Members of the state board of lunacy, after a session of the board today, held at the Hotel of La Grande, Oregon, will raise the old factional fight over the institution and impair its future usefulness by creating hostility among the legislators. They also say that the conditions of the removal of 300 or 400 patients from the Salem asylum will so materially increase the per capita cost of maintenance as to affect appropriations for maintenance, are not well founded.

"The asylum here is much overcrowded at present," said State Treasurer Kay. "There are 1700 patients when the normal capacity of the institution is 1500 patients. Two and three beds are crowded into small rooms and beds are placed in halls and alcoves in order to accommodate patients. This condition is due to the fact that no enlargements have been made in the last two years, because we intend to send about 300 patients from here to eastern Oregon as soon as the new asylum is ready. After these are taken away, within another year the increase will bring the number of patients here up to the capacity of the institution."

It is true the cost of maintenance at the Pendleton asylum at first will be higher than the cost here, but there need be no occasion for factional fighting in the legislature over the institution. The state has to care for its insane and it is the duty of the legislature to be partly offset by the transportation cost which we have had to pay in the past in bringing patients from that part of the state to Salem. small faction of fanatical residents of this town were unable to do the town much harm—will be borne out by a disinterested investigation committee.

The case of the mayor who was fined for gambling in a court where the justice was a member of the opposition was held in a country precinct, although all the witnesses lived in Redmond. The said justice refused a change of venue and refused a continuance until the defense's most important witness could return from Portland the next day. This case has been appealed to the circuit court and the public is asked by the council to suspend judgment until the case is heard by an unbiased tribunal for the reason that the mayor says he sometimes plays detective himself and in this case can prove it before a court of competent jurisdiction.

RAILROAD PRESIDENT TO BE DINNER GUEST

Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, will be guest of honor this evening at a dinner given at the Arlington club by President Joseph H. Young of the North Bank and Hill lines in Oregon.

Mr. Elliott will arrive in Portland this afternoon from a tour of inspection of the Oregon Trunk line and will probably remain here a couple of days. The Northern Pacific is equally interested with the Great Northern in the Hill lines in this state, as well as the North Bank and the terminals here, the properties being held jointly by the two systems.

President Young accompanied President Elliott to Bend yesterday, but Mr. Young returned last night.

L. W. Hill, chairman of the executive board of the Great Northern, went on to Lakeview to attend the Central Oregon Development league convention which begins August 21 and towards which hundreds of prominent Oregonians are now spending in automobiles from all sections of the state.

If any Portland merchant found his business for the first 17 days in August more than 300 per cent greater than during the same period last year, the statement would arouse considerable comment.

A Practically Perfect Preparation.

Years of experience have enabled Mr. Fletcher to make Castoria a practically perfect preparation. These years of labor: the amount of money required to introduce its merits to the public: the investment in its manufacture, including the most modern machinery, mean a vast amount of invested capital. It follows that the greatest care is exercised in the selection of each ingredient, and the greatest attention is paid to every detail of its preparation. The result: The practically perfect preparation in the finished product; Fletcher's Castoria.

Herein lies the guarantee of the absolute safety in the use of Fletcher's Castoria for the baby, and the warning against irresponsible makers of imitations and counterfeits. The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher that is printed in black on the wrapper and red on the bottle is the mother's safeguard.
