PLAN RECEPTION FOR ROOSEVELT

Judge McGinn to Preside at Meeting; Committees Named.

Circuit Judge Henry E. McGinn will preside at the meeting when Theodore Roosevelt speaks in Portland on September 11. This was decided yesterday by the committee on arrangements, meeting at the office of George W. Joseph, when it was voted to invite Judge McGinn to preside. It is known that he will accept.

Roosevelt will speak at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, it being found impracticable to change the schedule, by which he will leave Portland at 8 p. m. Arriving here at 7 a. m., it is planned to take him by special train to Salem as soon as he has had breakfast. Returning to Portland about noon, it will be left to Colonel Roosevelt to decide whether he will rest or go to Vancouver, Wash., between that time and the 4 o'clock meeting.

Subcommittees were appointed by Chairman H. W. Coe to take care of arrangements in detail. W. M. Davis, president of the Men's Equal Suffrage club, appeared before the committee to request that Colonel Roosevelt be especially asked to say a few words on suffrage during his address. The request will be delivered to the colonel. The Gipsy Smith auditorium, the Armory and an open air meeting at the plaza were discussed, and no final decision reached. The big Gipsy Smith tabernacle will be secured if possible. The plans call for a parade previous to the afternoon meeting.

At the committee meeting two of the women appointed upon it were present, and the third, Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunniway, who is ill, was represented by Mrs. H. W. Coe as her proxy. Those present were Mrs. Lora C. Little and Mrs. Reno. The following committees were named to complete the plans: Day's program—George Arthur Brown, Dan Kellaher, Sanford McDonald, James Maguire.

Musical arrangements—E. O. Burdon, George W. Joseph, J. Frank Burke. Invitations—C. W. Ackerson, Levi W. Myers, J. T. Wilson, A. A. Muck, Will H. Daly, Mrs. Reno.

Printing—V. Vincent Jones, L. M. Lepper, O. M. Hickey.

Musical and hall—Stanfield McDonald, E. B. Clerin, J. D. Lewis, Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunniway, Mrs. Lora C. Little. Parade and automobiles—V. Vincent Jones, O. M. Hickey, Dan Kellaher. To notify Judge McGinn—George W. Joseph, Dan Kellaher, Mrs. Lora C. Little.

FIRE LEAVES B. L. PAGET TALKING TO EMPTY SEATS

(Special to The Journal.) Corvallis, Or., Aug. 21.—While B. Lee Paget was addressing a meeting Monday night at Falls City in support of his candidacy for United States senator on the Prohibition ticket, word was received by telephone that the mill of the Falls City Lumber company was burning. As soon as the news reached the crowd on the stage, two miles distant, leaving the campaigners with only a small audience. The mill was entirely destroyed, throwing many men out of employment. The fire is regarded as a calamity and will work a severe hardship on many of the townpeople. The flames were seen in Dallas, 10 miles distant.

WHO PAYS FOR BROKEN WINDOW, SMASHED BY FUGITIVE FROM ASYLUM

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.) Salem, Ore., Aug. 21.—Is the state responsible for the acts of escaped insane persons? This question was put up today by the firm of Poshay & Mason, druggists, of Albany. In a letter to the secretary of the druggists state that Walter Dement, who recently escaped from the state insane asylum, threw a couple of stones through the company's plate glass windows and also smashed a large mirror in the store. They ask who is responsible.

HARVESTING RESUMED IN WASCO COUNTY

(Special to The Journal.) The Dalles, Or., Aug. 21.—Dry weather with a clear sky and bright sun Sunday, Monday and yesterday dried out grain in this county so that harvesting has been resumed. Machinery of the farmers will be worked overtime from now until the last lot of grain is in the sack, provided the weather remains settled. The damage to grain by the recent rains is only slight, but considerable hay will be disclosed, though it is not thought much hay is sufficiently wet that it will mold. Peaches and prunes were somewhat damaged, but picking was resumed yesterday, and the fruit, although a little off color, will be marketable.

Library Plans Approved. (Special to The Journal.) Oregon City, Or., Aug. 21.—The library building committee, which is in charge of the building of the Carnegie public library, met last evening at the Commercial club and approved the plans prepared by E. E. McClaren, architect. Sealed bids will be received by the architect at the Railway Exchange building, Portland, until 10 o'clock on September 2.
