

DEAD END GUARD THE OREGON GUARD FARRISS OF WEST Accused Sure They Showed Governor That No Mutiny Occurred; Former Officers Return From Inquiry.

Declaring that Governor West, during the inquiry Tuesday into the alleged mutiny of the Second battalion, Third Infantry, O. N. G., had acted fairly and impartially and expressing the opinion that they had shown him no mutiny had occurred at Garwood, as charged, former officers of the disbanded battalion have returned from Salem.

"Myself and the four former officers of the battalion, who shouldered all responsibility for any 'mutiny' if such occurred, are delighted with the treatment accorded us by the governor," said Ryland Scott, formerly major commanding the battalion, today. "We went unrepresented by any attorneys, and as private citizens gave our evidence. The general staff, which disbanded the battalion without giving us a hearing or making a regular inquiry, was fully protected by an imposing array of legal lights. It was quite impressive."

OREGON STATE BOARD ACCOUNTING FAVORED

At a meeting following a dinner in the Oregon Grill last night members of the Oregon State Society of Public Accountants adopted the draft of a proposed law which will establish a state board of accountancy and provide for the issuance of public accountant certificates to those who prove themselves proficient in such subjects as the board shall deem necessary.

The accountants hope with the passage of a law of this character to raise the standard of accountancy. The law does not exclude any from practicing in the state who do not pass the examination but is designed to safeguard the public in dealing with accountants. Provision is made for penalties and imprisonment of any guilty of misdemeanors and for loss of certificate and title to all guilty of unprofessional conduct or other sufficient cause. The law follows others in force in many other states.

Roosevelt is to be asked to make a morning trip to Salem, and his Portland address probably will take place at the Gipsy Smith auditorium late in the afternoon, the meeting opening sometime from 4 to 6 o'clock. He said $400 for the special train was subscribed in less than an hour.

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.)
Salem, Or., Aug. 22.—Clyde Royle, of Newport, Or., committed suicide here last night by shooting himself through the temple with a .32 calibre revolver. His body, with the gun gripped in his hand, was found about 7 o'clock this morning on the bank of the Willamette river near the steel wagon bridge. He had been here a week, drinking heavily. No reason except despondency can be given for the act.

Trouble which is said to have started over an I. W. W. creed, last night broke out between John Bishop and Edward Hanson at Second and Burnside streets. Hanson drew a .35 calibre revolver from his pocket and fired at Bishop, after the latter had struck Bishop in the face. The bullet struck Hanson in the watch pocket and deflected the course of the bullet, but only a slight wound was sustained. J. Maszrosky, who conducts a jewelry store near the scene of the shooting, took Bishop in custody and brought him to police station, where a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon was placed against the man. Bishop was bound over to the grand jury and Hanson was held as a witness.

EUGENE, OR., CITIZENS RAISE $500 REWARD AND COUNTY COURT OFFERS $1000.

(Special to the Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Aug. 22.—Although word was received from Roseburg this forenoon that the negro arrested there last night, suspected of the murder of Mildred Green, does not answer the description of the man seen by the brakeman on the Southern Pacific train, who saw a negro running toward the train endeavoring to board it as it left the Eugene station on the morning after the murder, he will be brought to Eugene this evening and turned over to the local officers. Roseburg physicians examined the stains on the man's trousers, but could not determine if they were blood. A minute chemical analysis will be made in Eugene. All strange negroes seen here have been examined by the police, but so far nothing of a suspicious character has been found.

District Attorney Bryson and the sheriff's force have information that the night after the murder someone attempted to enter a residence a block from the scene of the crime by cutting a hole under the window and partially tearing the screen off. The girl in the room heard the noise and ran to where others in the house were sleeping. It is said they found tracks beneath the window. At a mass meeting last night the citizens pledged $500 reward for the capture of the fiend and considerable more has been added to the amount today. The county court offers $1000. The governor will ask the next legislature to give $2500 also.

Medford, Or., Aug. 22.—Pending an inquiry into the story of Harry Smith, negro arrested here as suspect in the Eugene murder, the man will be on the verge of carrying concealed weapons. It is not believed that Smith is the murderer of Mildred Green. He says he left Eugene Sunday night, spent two days in Roseburg and then came to Medford, and gives names of people whom he visited and conversed in Roseburg on the day and night of the murder. The man apparently has heard nothing of the Eugene murder, or else he is a good actor.

SHERIFF QUINE THINKS NEGRO IN ROSEBURG JAIL IS NOT GUILTY

(Special to the Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Aug. 22.—Sheriff Quine does not believe E. Harris, the negro arrested here last night because he was suspected of the Mildred Green murder, is the man wanted. He was not given an examination today, but is being held until arrival of Eugene officers this evening.

Harris came from Eugene on the Shasta Limited Monday night, got off here and went to the jungles beside the track north of town, where he was picked up by the sheriff last night. He says he worked as a laborer in Eugene, leaving there Monday night. He says he knew nothing of the murder till told by the officers.

Spots resembling blood were found on his shoes. These were examined by the doctors, who are unable to tell whether they are blood without a chemical process, which probably will be made in Eugene. Officers have questioned him, but he has said nothing incriminating.

HOPES PEOPLE WILL RIDE FREE SOME DAY

J. B. Kerr and C. S. Jackson were the speakers at a regular weekly luncheon of the Portland Transportation club at the Imperial hotel today. They were introduced by H. E. Lounsbury, general freight agent of the O. W. R. & N. company. Mr. Kerr touched on the Panama canal question and held that to make a distinction in tolls between American and foreign vessels would be in violation of existing treaties. He intimated that the great majority of the people clamoring for free tolls are doing so without having any knowledge of the treaties.

Mr. Jackson gave to the members of the club a number of terse epigrams, saying among other things that the men of initiative are the high lights of intelligence. "Agitation is a great purifier," Mr. Jackson explained, "and the agitator performs a great public good if not always good for himself."

"One man can't agitate alone," he continued, "and agitation comes from association. An association is progress without association there would be a disastrous standstill."

Mr. Jackson said he hoped that some day transportation would be free to the public. He pointed out that nickel bus transportation today that never before in the history of the world in spite of the increased cost of living.

The club adopted resolutions of condolence because of the death of Postmaster Charles B. Merrick, and in recognition of the movement asking the appointment of the widow to the official vacancy. Next Thursday W. W. Cotton will address the club on the anti-Sherman act. At that meeting S. J. H. French will swing the gavel.

REGIMENTARY PRACTICE A TEST OF ALERTNESS

Eight Companies Camp at Ft. Stevens for Instruction in Art of Using Big Guns; Daily Work Interesting.

(Special to the Journal.)
Fort Stevens, Or., Aug. 22.—Last night eight companies of Oregon troops encamped at Fort Stevens, prepared their supper, built campfires and enjoyed a telling tale of many climes with the regulars.

This morning at 8:45 the bugles sounded reveille. Artillery instructions commenced at 8 o'clock. Most elaborate preparations have been made by the district commander, Colonel Stevens, to insure thoroughness in this respect. An commissioned officer has been assigned to each company and experienced detectors act under his supervision as special instructors.

Preparation of food, camp sanitation, guard duty, etc., are under similar instructions. This morning special attention was devoted to the operation of 10 inch rifled guns. Six hundred and fifty pounds of powder were loaded, together with propelling charges of 125 pounds of powder in intervals of time not exceeding 20 seconds. Some of the men were taught to operate the Warren Swasey position finder, an instrument that is so arranged that by means of it one can not only tell the exact angle at which a target is from the gun, but which also gives, with most marvelous accuracy, the exact distance to the target, in yards.

The guns are operated by electric appliances, 20 tons of metal being shifted about by the mere touch of an electric switchboard. Their action is so quick and precise that they appear almost lifelike. A shell is rammed into the gun, the breechlock is swung into place, the gun jumps into the air, seems to point itself a second, then is fired. During drill the guns are retracted by electrical appliances, but in actual practice the terrific shock of discharge forces them back to their original loading position.

Considerable time is being devoted to telephone instruction. The Oregonians are taught to speak loud and distinct. As a test of their mental alertness they are given a series of numbers to repeat. As simple as this experiment may seem, it is indeed nevertheless very difficult by the noise and confusion of a battery in operation. Only very small percentages of any company, regular or volunteer, possess the requisite qualifications to make good telephone operators.

Considerable attention was devoted to the range board, an instrument by which the algebraic result of a series of problems involving effect of tide, wind, temperature, powder velocity, etc., are obtained in less than 20 seconds by automatic calculation. A most thorough explanation was offered pertaining to the plating board, a device by which the field of fire or factor in repelling a mortar fire on a small board. By means of this system a target is followed up as it approaches the fortifications, its every turn and move noted, its exact speed ascertained, the distance it is from the guns and its probable angle at which they must be pointed in order to obtain a hit.

Daily Program Arranged.
Artillery instructions lasted three hours and will be continued daily until proficiency is obtained as well as able Oregon troops to handle fire at a moving target towed by a rapid steamer. The necessity for careful and accurate work is rendered obvious when one considers the fact that an error of about one inch in the pointing of a complete demolition of the target. This unfortunate accident actually occurred during target practice at one of the sound forts near Seattle.

MARSHAL SCOTT TAKES HIS OATH OF OFFICE

Leslie M. Scott, appointee of United States District Judge Worcriston and Bean to the United States marshal's office, from which he resigned on August 10, following the withdrawal of his name from the senate by President Taft, submitted his new bond yesterday and will take the oath of office, thus qualifying. He immediately reappointed the deputies who have been under him during the past year.

The fact that there has been no marshal until now, and that his bond is still en route to Washington, D. C., has placed a hard dose of witnesses who were testifying at the last case of the government against the Baldwin Sheep & Land company at great trouble and expense. The taking of testimony closed yesterday, and the men must wait for their witness fees and mileage until Marshal Scott comes to the bench to pay them. Telegrams have been sent east in the hope that relief may be sent.

BOIES PENROSE MOVES SENATORS INVESTIGATE GIFT FROM ARCHBOLD

Asked That Committee Be Instructed to Examine the Charges Against Him.

(United Press Special Wire.)
Washington, Aug. 22.—In the senate today Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, moved that the committee investigating campaign contributions be instructed to examine the charges against him in connection with the publication of facsimiles of a certificate of deposit of $25,000 signed by John D. Archbold, of the Standard Oil company, drawn in favor of Penrose.

Penrose gave notice that he would seek action on his motion in the senate this afternoon. At 4 o'clock this afternoon Senator Penrose was recognized and re-offered his motion that the senate committee investigate his statements regarding campaign contributions by John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company. He said the Culbertson resolution authorizing the committee to investigate campaign contributions covered the case and that the committee already had the power to summon witnesses.

MOTHER BARES HER SOUL TO SAVE SON

Swears Boy Not Responsible for Murder of 17-Year-Old School Girl.

(United Press Special Wire.)
San Francisco, Aug. 22.—Mother today prompted Mrs. Annabelle Bonner to go on the witness stand and lay bare humiliating family secrets in an effort to save her son, Charles Bonner, aged 18, from paying the extreme penalty for murdering Bernice Godair, a 17-year-old school girl.

In a halting voice, frequently choked by sobs, Mrs. Bonner told the jury certain paternal and hereditary influences to which Charles was subjected, and on which Attorney Hoff Cook hoped to base an insanity defense.

Several members of the jury broke down as the little gray haired mother related details of family history. In his opening remarks, Attorney Cook told the jury that he expected to prove young Bonner's mental instability.

WANT THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY KEPT HERE

In reply to the request of the Oregon Historical society to provide rooms for it in the new courthouse, the county commissioners have asked for a conference with the officers of the society to try and make plans to keep the institution in Portland. It has been suggested by the county board that since the county treasurer and county assessor will vacate the city hall when the new courthouse is finally completed, the Historical society may be able to use the vacated rooms. Should this not be possible, the commissioners say they will do everything possible to make room in the courthouse. All county officers, justice courts and constables offices are to be taken into the new building, which will utilize most of the room. The society has stated that unless rooms can be secured soon, the exhibits and curios will be taken to Salem and placed in the state house.

The Taft and Roosevelt tariff policies are as alike as two peas from the same pod.
