

'SEN. A. E. CLARK' IS HOPE OF MOOSE PARTY IN OREGON

T. R. Convention Rejects Mulkey and Bourne, Picks Dark Horse to Lead Forces, and Names Nearly Full Ticket.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Sept. 18.—During a continuous session lasting six hours the Progressive party burst into full bloom at its state convention held here yesterday afternoon by nominating practically a complete state and congressional ticket. The ticket is as follows:
Presidential electors—Dan Kellaher of Portland, Levi Myers of Portland, L. H. McMahan of Salem, W. K. Newell of Gaston and A. K. Ware of Jackson county.
United States senator—A. E. Clark of Portland.
Congressman, First district—John W. Campbell of Roseburg.
Judge supreme court—George Joseph of Portland.

Secretary of state—Benjamin E. Kennedy of Portland.
Railroad commissioner Second district—Robert Service of Baker.
Dairy and food commissioner—John D. Mickle of Washington county, the Republican candidate.
Not for many years before the passing of the old convention system of politics has such a convention been held in Oregon. There were no states, and almost one continuous fight over procedure and candidates was in progress during the six hours. But the convention was remarkable for the way those losing their contests accepted defeat. If there were any sore spots they were well covered.
Clark's Coming a Surprise.
The most intense interest of the convention developed in the fight for the United States senatorship nomination. A. E. Clark was a dark horse. No outsider had heard his name mentioned. The talk had been that the race would be between Fred W. Mulkey and Senator Bourne. Both were placed in nomination and the fight became bitter.
A severe attack was made on Bourne by L. H. McMahan of Salem and probably turned the tide, which seemed in his favor. He criticized Bourne because he had not declared himself as a supporter of the Progressive party. He said Bourne was in the same category as Cummins of Iowa and Borah of Idaho, who announce they intend to support Roosevelt but refuse to break away from the Republican party. He challenged anyone to call them Progressives, from a party standpoint.
When the fight was against Bourne J. Frank Burke submitted a motion that it be the sense of the convention that Bourne should be eliminated because he was not identified with the Progressive party. Clark urged the convention not to consider such a step. He said he wanted to let the convention vote on as many names as any delegate desired to present. Burke then withdrew his motion.

Clark Gets 51 Out of 120.
In the balloting for the nomination 120 votes were cast. Clark receiving 51, Bourne 39 and Mulkey 30. A resolution had been previously passed that all nominations must be made by a majority vote, so when the vote on senatorship was announced, Mulkey immediately withdrew, and soon after Bourne was withdrawn and a motion carried to make Clark's nomination unanimous. Mulkey then warmly approved Clark's nomination and declared his intention to work for his election.
The convention was organized by electing A. E. Clark chairman and L. M. Lepper secretary, this being both the temporary and permanent organization. Then all the delegates who wished to affiliate with the party were requested to sign a roster.
Oliver M. Hickey asked what the convention would do in cases where Progressives were running on the Republican ticket, naming particularly Secretary of State Ben Olcott.
Midway Courses Condemned.
This called forth from several speakers denunciation of all those who have not openly embraced the new party and still expect to receive support from it. Ben Riesland said to favor such candidates would be putting a premium on cowardice.
"If they are Progressives, why have they not come out and said so?" he demanded.

L. H. McMahan said if the Progressives were going to try to fuse with the Republican or Democratic parties, they could count him out.
"Some of the men here don't want a candidate for United States senator because they don't want to hurt Ben Selling," he declared. "Some don't want the restriction clause because they want Bourne." He urged the delegates to make a full sweep down the line.
Kellaher Shakes Declaration.
Burke moved that a committee be appointed to suggest to the convention names for presidential electors. This was howled down under the cry for having every action taken in open convention. Burke then moved that the five men who had been chosen at the Portland mass meeting of the party be nominated. This opened a fight on Dan Kellaher. One of the delegates from the southern part of the state insisted that Kellaher should tell the convention whether he was with the Progressives or with the Republicans. Some of Kellaher's friends declared that was an insult. But Kellaher addressed the convention and said that whether the convention named him or not, none would work harder for Roosevelt than he.
Stays on Republican Ticket.
Before the convention met some of the leaders held a conference with Kellaher and an agreement was reached that Kellaher should be nominated for presidential elector by the Progressives, and then he will ask the secretary of state to place his name on the ballot with the Progressive group, thus leaving a blank in the Republican group.

But if the law prevents the secretary of state from doing this, then it was agreed that Kellaher should resign from the Progressive ticket and permit the state central committee to fill the vacancy. It was held by the leaders that the primary law does not permit a candidate to resign from a nomination received in the primaries, so Kellaher cannot resign from the Republican ticket.
When the nomination of a candidate for secretary of state came up, George F. Rodgers, of Salem, urged the convention to pass up the nomination for this office and for supreme court judge.
Bruce Dennis Attacks Olcott.
This brought Bruce Dennis to the floor with a bitter attack on Secretary of State Olcott. He declared Olcott did not know what the term Progressive meant, and that if the party failed to nominate a candidate to oppose him, it would be the laughing stock of the state.
For the office of secretary of state, besides Kennedy, there were nominated L. M. Lepper and Lute Pease, of Portland. Lepper withdrew his name. Kennedy received 39 votes and Pease 37.
Judge McGinn's name was presented for supreme court judge, and later withdrawn when Senator Joseph declared that McGinn's oath of office prevented him from becoming a candidate.
Recommendation was made that a congressional convention of the party be held in Portland Thursday to name a congressional candidate.
No candidate was named to oppose T. K. Campbell, Republican candidate for railroad commissioner in the First district.

Olds, Wortman & King

"The Daylight Store" "The Sanitary Store"

Leading Contestants in Our Great $6000 VOTING CONTEST

Baby Home	3,843,200	Newsboys' Home	291,200
Odd Fellows' Home	3,091,200	Florence Crittenton Home	280,850
Portland Fruit and Flower		St. Elizabeth House	256,400
Mission, Day Nursery	2,070,725	Sunbeam Society	248,025
First M. E. Church South	1,036,450	Anabel Pres. Church	239,000
United Artisans, Piedmont		Marguerette Camp, R. N. A.	200,850
Assembly 458	950,875	Patton Home for the Aged	188,050
Portland Women's Wil-		Scholarship Loan Fund Ore-lamette Club	898,350	gon Federation Women's
Young Women's Christian		Clubs	185,100
Association	867,050	Piedmont Pres. Church	174,350
St. Agnes' Baby Home	841,000	Wilburg Congregational
Teachers' Retirees' Fund	782,275	Church Aid Society	172,750
Louise Home	612,100	Good Samaritan Hospital	155,650
K. O. K. A. Castle Rose	605,450	All Saints' Church	152,375
St. Francis' Church	558,950	Industrial Home, W. H. M.
Portland Boy Scouts		S. M. E. Church	143,100
Troop 2	422,100	Jewish Neighborhood House	131,250
Y. M. C. A. Boys' Home	419,325	Forbes' Presbyterian Church	131,450
First Ger. Evang. Church	401,850	Atkinson Memorial Cong.
Portland Women's Union	398,500	Church	131,100
Oregon Humane Society	366,700	Ore. Congress of Mothers	130,100
St. Ann's Charitable Soc'y	361,425	Treasure Society	102,325
Children's Home	349,450	Immanuel Church Pipe Or-
Sunnyside M. E. Church	320,550	gan Fund	99,950
		Arion Philharmonic Soc'y	95,175

"Fashion Day" - Tomorrow

at the Olds, Wortman & King Store

A Grand Parade of Walking Models

From 10 to 11 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m.--On Second Floor

A Showing of Merchandise Only!

Announcing the Fullness of Our New Fall Stocks

INFORMAL opening display of Women's New Fall Wearing Apparel on the second floor tomorrow, showing in detail the latest trend of fashion, as exemplified by the leading foreign and American artists. At no time in this store's history have we been so well prepared to serve you. Stocks are larger than ever before, offering a wider range of styles and fabrics from which to choose. Every section of this great store is teeming with new fall and winter merchandise, brought from all corners of the globe to be distributed throughout the whole northwest by this, Portland's foremost store. All buyers have now returned from the markets and the entire force of the store's organization will be centered on this one main point—to serve you well and to be deserving of your continued patronage.

Tomorrow we will be ready to receive you in our beautiful Garment Salons on the second floor, and promise an interesting and instructive showing of the very latest styles in walking models—in no other way can the style points be brought so clearly to your notice. Plan to spend a considerable portion of the day here tomorrow—bring the children and make yourself right at home. We offer you the keys to our style treasures and we assure you they will unlock a wealth of original ideas that will be of much interest to you. We direct your special attention to our superb showing of Suits, Coats and Dresses for juniors and misses. We have enlarged this department and feel confident the coming season will add many new names to our thousands of satisfied customers. We also make a specialty of fitting large and stout women. Extra sizes in stock at all times. Come to the style store tomorrow; 'twill be well worth your while. This department is located on the second floor.

Millinery Department on the Second Floor

An Extensive Showing of the New Fall Suits and Coats

No Matter What Your Taste May Be You Are Sure to Find Many Pleasing Models Here

New Suits, $20 to $110 A splendid collection of new fall Suits for women and misses here for your choosing. The new materials include chevrons, wool velours, diagonals, Bedford cords, wool Ratine, Zibelines, Serges, Boucle suitings and fancy mixtures. Styles are the new 32 to 36-inch Jackets, with belted backs. Others in three, four or five button cutaways, with square or rounded corners. Some plain tailored and others of the more dressy sorts. Skirts in high or normal waist lines with plaits and panel. Hundreds of styles.

NEW DANCING FROCKS Exquisite new creations in Women's and Misses' Dancing Frocks now being shown on the second floor. Chiffons, Crepe de Chine, Charmeuse, and Messalines, beautifully trimmed with plaited bands, laces festoons and beads. High or low neck, long or short sleeves. Spe'l. $15 to $40

NEW SILK PETTICOATS Our new fall stock of Silk Petticoats offers a splendid choosing from the very latest and best styles in taffetas, messalines and Dresdens. Some with the popular Jersey tops. We can match your suit or gown to perfection. All leading styles and colors. For this sale prices range from $3.95 to $12.50

NEW EVENING GOWNS A magnificent showing of all the latest ideas, including Gowns of Crepe Meteor, Charmeuse, Satin Spangled and Beaded Nets, Chiffons, Embroidered Nets, Brocaded satins in draped, panier and tunic effects. High or low neck styles, round lengths or with trains. Beau- $48.50 to $195

Coats for Street and Evening $25 to $190

Here you will find garments of distinctive style and unquestionable merit. Many of these beautiful Coats are original models and our own direct importation. Handsome coats of broadcloth, ratine, polo cloth, satins and velvets, lined with contrasting or self-color silks and trimmed with silk gold fringe, laces and furs. Many shown tomorrow for first time.

Charming New Street Dresses $12.50 to $75

Many interesting new style features will be found in this season's models in Dresses for street wear. A wide range of materials to choose from, including Brocaded Satins, Charmeuse, Taffetas, and Serges. High or low neck styles with Robespierre collars and Panier effects. Many attractive models with short sleeves, others with long sleeves edged with frills. Visit the second floor tomorrow. You will be well repaid.

Late Styles in Street Coats $15 to $45

A wonderful assortment of Women's New Fall Coats, suitable for street wear, now on display. Very latest materials, including double face Polo cloth, Chinchilla, Zibelines, Diagonals, Tweeds, Boucle, Plaids and novelty mixtures. Many different styles in collars, storm, shawl and plain tailored. Coats come in 3/4 and full length models. The most complete showing in the northwest awaits you—here—at the Style Store.

Waists Attractive New Styles for Fall and Winter 1912-13

If you wish to view the "new things" in Waists come to our second floor tomorrow. Hundreds of dainty new models will be on display. New Chiffons, Crepe de Chine and Fancy Net Waists, trimmed with embroidery, Irish laces, net yokes, shadow laces, bands of chiffon and fancy jeweled buttons. Prices $5 to $22.50 range up from $5 to $22.50

New Crepe, Marquisettes and Lingerie Waists, in neat dressy styles, trimmed with splendid quality Irish, cluny and Val. laces, crocheted buttons and hand embroidery. High necks and long sleeves. Scores of hand- $3 to $35 some models, only $3 to $35

Crepe de Chine Petticoats $6.00 to $12.75

Dainty styles in these exquisite Petticoats, beautifully made and trimmed with fine laces and rosebuds. Very attractive new models in this splendid collection. Ask to see these when on the 2d Floor.

Exquisite Autumn Millinery on Display

Beautiful beyond compare are the New Fall Hats assembled here. We've tried very hard to make this showing superior in every way to anything before attempted in this city—whether or not we have succeeded we will leave to you to decide. Anyway, come tomorrow and study these marvelous creations from the world's best makers.

Showing Original Models From

Georgette Carlier Reboux Marie Guy Gerhardt Joseph Bendel Louise Litchenstein

Large picture Hats from the House of Georgette, famous the world over—Close fitting Hats from Carlier—Hats with a chic and dash from Reboux and Marie Guy—Beautiful creations from Kurzman, Joseph, Gerhardt, Litchenstein, Bendel and Louise—a rare collection of new autumn styles in latest colorings.

Tailored Hats From Knox - Gage - Hyland - Castle

The popular tailored Hats so much in demand for street or traveling wear are now to be had here in correct styles for fall and winter. It's to your advantage to see these now while the stocks are complete and choosing easy. We carry full lines of Knox, Gage, Hyland and Castle Tailored Hats. Opening display tomorrow, Second Floor.