VICE PROSECUTOR TO MAKE OWNERS POLICE PREMISES

Ordinance Requiring Owners' Names to Be Placed on Hotels, Etc., Sought by Governor West's Special Agent.

PUBLIC NUISANCE ACT WOULD BE ENFORCED

Upon Failure to Remedy Conditions Injunctions Would Be Applied For.

To make owners of hotels, lodging houses or similar places of business police their own premises—briefly this is the plan by which Governor West's special prosecutor, H. M. Esterly, hopes to remedy vice conditions in Portland.

In pursuance of this plan Mr. Esterly will ask the city council to pass an ordinance drafted by the municipal vice commission to provide that the names of the owners or those legally responsible for the operation or maintenance of hotels and other places shall be placed in a conspicuous place on such buildings.

"It is my intention," declared Mr. Esterly today, "to notify the owners of buildings in which gambling, prostitution or the illegal sale of liquor is allowed that I have been informed of such law violations and that such infractions of the law must be discontinued.

Would Seek Injunctions. "If after due notification I find that the violations of the law continue I shall apply to the circuit court of Multnomah county for an injunction restraining the owner of the building in each case from maintaining a public nuisance.

The great difficulty with carrying it into effect right now is that the names of those who own buildings in which the nuisances are maintained can be ascertained only by tortuous and slow moving inquiry.

If the council passes the ordinance recommended by the vice commission, in regard to the posting of owners' names my work will be greatly facilitated.

Mr. Esterly visited the city hall today to present his plan to the health and police committee of the city council, which was scheduled to hold a regular meeting at 11 o'clock.

Task Hard One. There was no quorum of the five members of the committee, however, and the meeting was postponed. The special prosecutor will take his proposition directly before the council next Wednesday.

"I want it understood," said Mr. Esterly today, "that I am not seeking to hurt anybody. I realize that the eradication of vice is a herculean task and "I don't know much about Woodrow Wilson, but since Bryan indorses him that is enough for me. I inclose one dollar for the Wilson fund," writes a lifelong Democrat of Linn county.

"We are to have a meeting Saturday night," writes another contributor, "and we will organize a Wilson club. I want to help the good work along."

"Here is my contribution. Wish it was ten times as much. I am getting all my friends interested in the campaign," says another.

"I think I will invest a little money in that partnership that Woodrow Wilson talks about. Inclosed find my check," writes a southern Oregon business man.

An active canvass is being carried on in Washington county by John M. Wall, chairman of the Democratic county central committee, and the first results of his efforts appear in the list of today's contributions.

Similar work is being done all over the state and the enthusiasm for Wilson among Republicans is one of the marked features of the campaign.

TWO STAMP MILLS CLOSE AS RESULT OF COPPER STRIKE

Six Thousand Men Idle in Camp at Bingham, Utah, and Strike May Spread to Other Localities.

MANAGER OF COMPANY TO HANDLE SITUATION

Strikers Claim Labor Contractors Are Extorting Big Fees for Jobs Given Out.

Daniel C. Jackling, manager of Utah Copper Company.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 20.—Two thousand additional men joined the ranks of the striking miners at Bingham today, making a total of 4000 men out, when the Magna and Arthur stamp mills closed down.

Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, announced this number would probably be augmented before the end of the week, as a proposition to call a strike in the Nevada Consolidated and the Chino mines is under serious consideration.

Nearly 300 deputy sheriffs were on guard at the Bingham mines today. Although no disorders were reported up to noon, trouble is likely to come at any time. Up to a late hour this morning the 4000 strikers had ignored orders to come from their mountain fastnesses, and any attempt to dislodge them may be followed by bloodshed.

Jackling on the Ground. General Manager Jackling of the Utah Copper company has returned from Los Angeles to take personal charge of the situation. He also is interested in the Nevada Consolidated and Chino mines.

The governor has notified the strikers that if they attack men attempting to fill their places in the mines, the militia will be rushed to the scene. The strikers insist they will not allow strike-breakers to go into the mines.

Hundreds of miners and their sympathizers guarded the tracks of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad at Bingham and Garfield this morning, on the lookout for strike-breakers. If the company is importing men they are coming in by a roundabout way.

Labor agents were implicated in the situation. (Continued on Page Seven)

D. KELLAHER QUILTS; WITHDRAWS FROM EACH OF TICKETS

Candidate Resigns From Both Republican and Progressive Tickets So Far as Electoral Fight Is Concerned.

DECISION RENDERED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

Can Only Be Candidate for Senator; Result Pleases the Taft Men.

Swift changes came late yesterday afternoon in the electoral ticket situation, whereby the name of Dan Kellaheer has been effaced as a candidate for elector on both the Republican and Progressive party tickets and the vacancy on each ticket promptly filled.

Secretary of State Olcott sent his deputy, S. A. Kozler, to Portland to notify Kellaheer and the party committees that under his construction of the law he had decided that Kellaheer's name could go on the ballot as a candidate only once, and this for the position of state senator, for which Kennaher was nominated by the Republicans at the primaries, as well as for elector.

"It was too late to test the matter in the courts," said Mr. Kellaheer today. "Besides, I was disposed to leave the matter to the decision of the secretary of state, and I determined to resign both nominations for elector at once, so as to leave no question about it and let the parties fill the vacancies."

Resignation Pleases Taft Men. Kellaheer's position as a Roosevelt man on the Republican electoral ticket has been a great worry to the Taft people, and they breathed great sighs of relief when they learned of his removal from the situation.

About the same time the information was received that William Hanley of Burns, another of the Republican nominees for elector, had declined the nomination.

Chairman C. B. Moores of the Republican state committee at once hustled around and last night a crowd of the faithful was assembled to fill the Kellaheer and Hanley vacancies. By an assembly of more than 100 electors presided over by former Senator C. W. Fulton, Phil Metschan Jr. of Portland and John L. Rand of Baker were named to fill the vacancies.

While the war horses were assembled it was decided to make no independent candidate against him for the state senate. While Kellaheer cannot be deprived of the nomination on the Republican ticket, the "regulars" will give their support to C. W. Nottingham, who was a senator at the last session and cordially dislikes Kellaheer.

Geddes Nominated. The Progressive party executive committee also met last night to fill the Kellaheer vacancy on its electoral ticket, and nominated A. S. Geddes of Union county, as Kellaheer's nomination on the Progressive ticket was given by a convention, and not at the primaries, it

HEAVY RAIN PREVENTS RACES AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 20.—Heavy rains throughout the night, which continued intermittently this morning, caused a postponement until next Tuesday of the Pabst and Wisconsin trophy automobile races, which were scheduled to start at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The rains rendered the track heavy and soggy, and this, coupled with a poor attendance, caused the management to decide to postpone the events.

Mail this coupon, with your contribution enclosed, to The Journal, Wilson Campaign Fund, Portland, Or. Checks should be made payable to The Journal.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRETTY INFANTS OF PORTLAND WHO WERE AMONG FIRST TO ENTER THE JOURNAL'S PRIZE BEAUTY CONTEST

Serena Margaret Rice, 13 months old, of 409 East Thirty-ninth street, North. Louis Arthur Wachsmuth, 2 years, 9 months old. Mildred Evelyn Nicks, daughter of Maxine Nixon, 16 months old, daughter of Mrs. W-S. Nicks, Lents, Or.

SMOOTHING IT OUT!

My, How Many Pretty Babes! Big Task for Journal's Judges

Avalanche of Photographs of Pretty Contestants Nearly Buries Journal Editors—Difficult Duty of Picking Prize-Winners Will Begin Next Monday Night.

Lean jawed statisticians can rave and clamor all they want to. Bess suicide is not practiced in Portland, judging from the number of photographs of babes that have been entered already in The Journal's contest which is being held for the purpose of discovering the prettiest babies in the city.

The first prize will be a box at the Hellig while "Baby Mine" is on the board; second place captures four lower floor seats and third place takes two lower seats.

Hurry With Pictures. Margaret Mayo (Mrs. Selwyn), who wrote the play, was born in Salem and lived for years in Portland. Therefore the delightful bit of comedy she created will prove doubly interesting to local theatergoers.

Now don't forget the rules of the contest and hurry up with the photographs. Baby must be four years of age or under. The photograph must be mailed or delivered to the city editor of The Journal and on its back must be written plainly the name of the baby, its age and the proper address of its parents. Four more days remain to enter the contest but if you intend to enter your baby—do it now—today!

Following are the names of some of the babies who were among the first to enter the contest: Hazel Winifred Jeanette, 3 1/2 years.

1000 NICARAGUANS KILLED AND WOUNDED IN SAN JORGE FIGHT

Indecisive Battle Between the Rebels and Government Troops Reported.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua, Sept. 20.—The bloodiest battle of the Nicaraguan revolution, in which 1000 men were killed and wounded, was fought at San Jorge today, according to advices received here. The casualties were about evenly divided between the rebels and the government troops. As far as can be learned the engagement was not decisive.

Using a gunboat, the rebels captured San Jorge, but were repulsed by the federalists when they attempted to occupy the town of Rivas.

STANFORD PROFESSOR QUILTS COLLEGE WORK

(United Press Leased Wire.) Stanford University, Cal., Sept. 20.—Dr. Har Dayal, Hindu professor, who recently occupied the limelight by his publicly approving the free love marriage contract of Carlton Washburne and Heluk Chandler, has resigned from the university faculty of Stanford, according to announcement here today.

Dr. Dayal will start on a lecture tour of the country, it is said.

Bryan Repeats Charges. Bozeman, Mont., Sept. 20.—William J. Bryan here today repeated his charge that the "interests controlled the White House during Roosevelt's term as president." He speaks at Butte tonight and will go into Idaho tomorrow.

KANSAS BOOTLEGGERS KILL FOUR OFFICERS AND ESCAPE IN AUTO

Citizens Aid in Effort to Capture Thugs Who Flee to the Mountains.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Coffeyville, Kan., Sept. 20.—Ambushed by bootleggers, an automobile containing officers patrolling roads over which liquor is being illegally carried was held up near here today. The bootleggers dumped the dead and dying officers out of the machine, took the automobile and escaped to the Osage mountains, where their capture is almost impossible.

The dead: I. L. Bowman, United States marshal at Tulsa, Okla. Fred Melring, United States marshal at Dewey, Okla. W. B. Mayfield, city marshal of Langsah, Okla. Rev. Mr. Lockett, deputy United States marshal of South Coffeyville, Okla.

Lockett was called the "fighting parson" and has been very active in pursuit of the illicit liquor men. Immediately on news of the tragedy reaching Coffeyville, the information was relayed to all the towns in this section of Kansas and Oklahoma, and hundreds of citizens in half a dozen places started out on the trail of the slayers.

Last Wednesday officers destroyed four wagonloads of beer, and they were "tipped" that other wagonloads were to leave here yesterday. Lockett and Gehring were riding together on horseback when they were fired upon. Both fell, Gehring dying instantly. Bowman and Mayfield then rushed to the scene of the ambush in an automobile, and both were shot, Bowman being instantly killed.

Colonel Answers Bryan. (United Press Leased Wire.) Denver, Colo., Sept. 20.—Colonel Roosevelt answered Bryan's questions at a great meeting here last night. After a day of strenuous campaigning Roosevelt arrived late yesterday and immediately after the meeting last night left for Nebraska.

In speaking of the recall Colonel Roosevelt said: "If I were a public servant and had a break with the people—supposing they wanted me to do something, supposing that there swept over the country a desire to repudiate their debts—I would say, 'you've got to get somebody else to repudiate them.' But I would come right down before them and fight it out."

"People talk of the recall as destroying the independence of the public servant. It will not destroy the independence of any servant who has got any independence to destroy. I think mightily little of the independence of a public servant which is of so frail quality that it can only exist when everybody can't get at it."

"As to the number of non-consecutive terms a president might have, every argument in favor of any limitation of the terms of the president can refer only to consecutive terms. Any third term talk which refers to non-consecutive terms is an utter absurdity."

In reply to the question: "What issues do you have in your platform that you did not borrow from the Democratic platform?" Colonel Roosevelt responded, "All of them."

BLOODHOUNDS FOLLOW VIRGINIA MARAUDERS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Milliamen early today fired on a number of men whom they had surprised in an attempt to burn the Carbon Coal company's tipples at South Carbon. One man is believed to have been fatally shot and several others seriously injured.

Bloodhounds were set on the trail of the marauders, who have been terrorizing South Carbon for several days.

Italians Bury 1134 Turks. (United Press Leased Wire.) Rome, Sept. 20.—Official reports received here today from General Bissolati say that the Italians have buried 1134 Turks killed in the battle at Drama, the bloodiest engagement of the Turco-Italian war. A dirigible balloon, passing into service by the Italians, was destroyed during the battle.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Hastings, Neb., Sept. 20.—Chilly and cloudy weather here today resulted in greatly reducing the crowds that gathered to hear Theodore Roosevelt, Progressive candidate for president. This throng was composed mostly of women and children. At Holdrege, Governor Chester Aldrich boarded the train and accompanied the Roosevelt party to Lincoln.

On his physician's orders, Roosevelt spoke but briefly today, fearing the effect of the chilliness on his voice. At Oxford the blare of a brass band awakened the colonel, who appeared on the platform and delivered a short speech.

In his remarks today, Roosevelt chose Victor Balvester, Republican national committeeman, with Senators Penrose and Crane and William Barnes of New York. At Minden, Roosevelt was greeted by school children, who cheered lustily.

"Politicians like Rosewater, Barnes and Penrose, said the colonel, 'do not like me, and I will make them like me less before I am through. They used to call us insurgents, but that does not confer title to regularity.'"

"If the bosses couldn't keep power without ruining the party, we are content that they should ruin the party."
