

AIGRETTE TRUST FORCES PRICES

Little Bunch of Feathers for Milady's Hat Will Cost $25 to $40.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—Now it's an egret trust. A hardy bunch of New York plutocrats has decided to go against mother on the hat proposition and conditions are such, in fact, that, if mother is going to be strictly in fashion, and will have to pawn his automobile or mortgage his house, for the egret trust is in control. But egrets are "all the rage," so you've got to have 'em.

An egret is that bunch of skinny white feathers that towers a foot or so above mother's chapeau. They will tell you that egrets are selling wholesale at $3 a dozen and upward, which is a third more than they sold for in July. But they mean $3 a dozen stalks and it takes from six to 10 dozen of them to make an egret that will please mother.

Then the retailer must have his whack at it, and by the time the egret is tacked on to the hat the price will be anywhere from $25 to $50 for the egret alone. Then the other fixings are added, and by the time the hat is completed dad has been set back some considerable.

Kind of paradise egrets are more expensive yet, and a substantial egret-made of the feathers of this bird may force dad to negotiate a mortgage. They are the soft, fluffy kind that have what the dealer says are "shower, fountain or drooping effects." The other kind stand up like a bunch of cattails in a ditch.

The cheaper kind are supplied by a heron which is found in South America and Japan. These are the trifling egrets that cost only $40 or $50 a bunch. New York, New Jersey and some southern states have put the ban on them and a woman who wears one in these states is likely to be pinched for it, for the law says you can't have them in your possession.

Philadelphia Center of Trade. It is on account of that law that the egret trust has moved to Philadelphia. Two New York concerns used to be the leading importers, supplying the whole country. They were Phillip Adelson & Bro. and Selz & Levine. They got their heads together and merged into the Universal Feather company, and they control the entire supply for this country. Their business is declared to run into the millions annually. So the egret trust is located at 823 Arch street, on the fifth floor, and until they get the passenger elevator fixed you must travel as freight or climb. They've got things fixed up so well that they know you've got to come up to see them.

CASHMERE GIANT AND SOME PYGMIES

The tallest and the shortest man in India are shown in this photo. The Cashmere giant stands nearly eight feet high, while Pallalo, the midget, is scarcely two feet high. The proportionate sizes of the other midgets in the photo may easily be judged. The man just to the right of the giant is Mr. Ricalton, an American photographer, who is an ordinary sized man.

A prominent jobber declared that the jobbers are the chief sufferers, as they dare not raise the price too high, and are selling on a very close margin, being wholly at the mercy of the egret trust.

ALBANY SCHOOLS ADD 3 PRACTICAL COURSES

(Special to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Sept. 20.—Albany's public schools will be opened next Monday, September 23, a week later than originally planned, on account of delays occasioned by repair work that was found necessary in several of the buildings. The new East school building is not yet ready for occupancy, so a crowded condition will prevail for several weeks.

In the high school, three new branches have been added, domestic science, domestic art and manual training. The most modern equipment has been provided in each of these departments, electric ranges and grills being fitted up in the domestic science department, and electric sewing machines in the domestic art department.

The following corps of instructors will be in charge: C. W. Boettcher, city superintendent; High school—Lloyd Marquam, principal; A. E. Hudson, manual training; W. E. Woods, mathematics; G. E. Finerty, bookkeeping and commercial law; L. H. Sharp, chemistry and physics; Franca Nelson, junior and senior English; Louise Blackwell, freshman and sophomore English; Maud Miller, German and Latin; Zilpha Galoway, Latin and history; Mae E. Frailek, medicine, modern and American history; Hortense Epley, domestic science and art; Flora A. Elder, shorthand and typewriting; Emma A. Rice, music.

Central school—L. L. Gilbert, principal and eighth grade; Myrtle Worley, seventh grade; Margaret Riley, sixth grade; Nellie Pate, fifth grade; Lottie Morgan, fourth grade; Lettie McCullough, third grade; Gertrude Luthy, second grade; Leta Price, first grade; Minnie McCourt, seventh and eighth grades. Madison school—J. M. Withersel, principal and eighth grade; Maude C. Strauss, seventh grade; Maud Frase, sixth grade; Bertha L. Braden, fifth grade; Edith McCourt, fourth grade; Lillie Hull, third grade; Florence Weiborn, second grade; Lucille Tierney, first grade.

Maple school—H. G. Thompson, principal and sixth grade; Alice Markart, fifth grade; Margaret Stewart, fourth grade; Mabel Williamson, third grade; Mabel Schulz, second grade; Leila Scott, first grade.

Thrown From Airship. (United Press Leased Wire.) Bevier, Mo., Sept. 20.—Thrown from his airship 100 feet to the earth, George Underwood, representing the San Antonio Aviation club of California, in his hospital here today, fatally injured. Underwood was giving an exhibition at the state fair here when a gust of wind upset his machine. Several hundred persons witnessed the accident.

PENSION IS PROPOSED FOR PENILESS MOTHERS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 20.—Every woman's club and charitable organization in Tacoma has pledged itself to aid in securing the passage of a law at the next state legislature which is to provide for the pensioning of mothers who find themselves peniless in this state. Each separate body is to provide a delegate to work with a committee in an effort to force the bill through. The business woman's club of this city was first to propose the sending of a delegate to Olympia. The Associated Charities have expressed themselves as willing to aid in the movement.

Aunt Sally's Advice To Beauty-Seekers

C. M. P.: The neck should receive similar attention to that given the complexion, so color and texture of skin will be the same. A yellow neck and a white face give a discordant effect. I advise using for both neck and complexion, the treatment recommended to "Monica."

E. M. First, stop scowling. If you would get rid of the lines between the eyes, the best application for such lines, and all wrinkles, is a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, 1/2 pint. Bathe the face in this daily until entirely relieved.

Monica: You hardly need such a list of cosmetics as you mention. Ordinary mercolized wax will help you more than any or all of them. It will gradually absorb the withered, discolored complexion and you will soon have a new, youthful and healthy-looking skin. You needn't get more than an ounce of the wax, which will cost you little at any drug-gist's. Apply nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings—Woman's Realm.

politics, especially for a first year class. He defeated Walter Church of Eugene, Wallace Eakin of Astoria and Wingo of Portland.

Miss Myrtle Gram, daughter of of A. P. Gram of Portland, and a Washington high girl, was elected vice president. The other officers were Chester Fee of Pendleton, treasurer; Rita Fralley of Eugene, secretary; Sam Wise of Astoria, officer-at-large.

Professor Straub, dean of men and special advisor to the freshmen, spent some time in a general talk of advice, regarding the students' health and welfare. A new tradition, at the request of the upper classmen, will be started this year in that the freshmen will keep clean the brasswork about the campus.

General Mena in Retreat

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Sept. 20.—The state department today deprecated reports that a clash is imminent at Granada, Nicaragua, between American troops and rebels under General Mena. Minister Weltzel says Mena withdrew when the Americans advanced. It is reported that Admiral Southerland is in personal charge of the American troops.

KLONDIKE FARMERS DIG POTATO CROP VALUED AT $30,000

(United Press Leased Wire.) Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 20.—Farmers in the Yukon territory from the Klondike down as far south as White Horse and Carcross are busy this week digging their potato crop. The Klondike district alone, it is estimated, will produce about 300 tons, which is valued here at $30,000.

MEN'S FALL SUITS

Here are a few items that you DON'T pay for when you buy a high-grade, ready-to-wear suit of me:

- HIGH RENT ON GROUND FLOOR... My rent is $30.00 a month instead of $50.00 to $100.00.
- ELABORATE CLOTHING CABINETS... My fixtures cost $50, against the thousands of dollars spent for same on ground floor stores.
- EXPENSIVE WINDOW DISPLAYS... I have no window displays — mouth-to-mouth advertising of satisfied customers takes its place.
