11 TONS OF HOPS BURN NEAR DALLAS

S. H. Petre Loses Hophouse and Whole Season's Crop, Just Picked.

(Special to The Journal.)
Dallas, Or., Sept. 21.—Fire in a hophouse, on the farm of S. H. Petre, five miles southwest of this city, Thursday afternoon, destroyed the building with a year's crop, which had just been picked and dried preparatory to baling. About 23,000 pounds of dried hops were stored in the building and Mr. Petre had intended to begin baling at once, when the fire wiped out the entire season's crop. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Hop picking will probably end this week for the season. Most of the small yards have been finished and it is only a few of the larger yards that are still picking.

According to statements from prominent and experienced hop men this has been a remarkable season in many ways. A few weeks ago the prospects for an enormous crop in Polk county were very bright, and a yield of 20,000 bales was predicted. Then the heavy rains set in, doing some damage to every yard in the county, yet with the losses the crop was so heavy as to bring the yield up to the predicted amount, if not more.

It is declared that the quality of hops in this district is, as usual, up to standard. All over the county hops are excellent.

Known All Over The World—Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.
