Three Denied Citizenship—Robert Wurgatt, 32 Front street, was refused citizenship this morning in the circuit court on the ground that his witnesses were not qualified. W. Margulis, liquor dealer at 275 Fifth street, and J. Margulis, a contractor, were the witnesses. Henry Hazard, naturalization agent, objected to the final papers for Wurgatt on the ground that W. Margulis has been involved in too many cases where the moral question was the issue. The agent read a long list of police court arrests and prosecutions from houses which Margulis holds a lease. "I don't think citizenship is worth coming back for," said Charles H. Paddison yesterday afternoon, when he was asked to study the government more and report in 30 days. At this statement the court directed that Paddison's application be denied with prejudice, which means that he must wait five years before again asking for citizenship. Wilhelm Rittel was denied final papers on the ground that he was illegally in the United States. It was shown by the government that he deserted an English ship while it was in an American harbor.

Judge Removes Phone—Judge McGinn has had his telephone in court chambers removed. "Too much bother" is the reason given by the judge for discontinuing his service. When the judges moved into the new rooms last fall, Judge McGinn gave orders that his court room be equipped with only one phone, as two telephones would cause too much annoyance during the course of trials. Soon after entering the new chambers, the judge directed that the belliff not call him during the progress of a trial, but all calls would be answered during recess or at noon. A few days ago, the telephone was busy during the forenoon session of court. The judge that afternoon ordered that service to his room be discontinued. "Attorneys wanting to see me about business should come to the courthouse," says the judge. In each of the other court rooms, the judges have both telephones.

Iron Jawed Man Arrested—Joe Demuff, the "Iron Jawed Wonder," who lifts a horse with his teeth, cannot support his wife, who had him arrested yesterday on a charge of non-support. Demuff was arrested at Hillsboro, where he was giving exhibitions of his strength with the Arnold shows. Deputy Sheriff Salisbury brought the man to Multnomah county last evening and placed him in the county jail to await trial for the charges made by Mrs. Demuff. "I'd support her if I could," he says, "but I can't make any money lifting horses, biting nails in two parts, or giving demonstrations of strength." Demuff has traveled the vaudeville circuits, giving exhibitions of his strength.

Accountants Elect Officers—At the annual meeting of the Oregon State Society of Public Accountants, held Wednesday night in the office of the president, officers were elected as follows: President, John Y. Richardson; vice president, E. H. Collins; secretary, treasurer, W. D. Whitcomb; auditor, Lester Thompson. They succeeded William Whitcomb, J. M. Ferguson, John Y. Richardson and Alex C. Rae, S. S. Barker and George B. Jones were admitted to the society. The society hopes during the coming year to obtain the passage of an act creating a state board of accountancy for the elevation and regulation of the profession.

Citizens of Oregon who appreciate the efficient services rendered by United States Senator Jonathan Bourne Jr., and who desire that Oregon retain the advantage it now has in congress by reason of his experience, national standing and important contacts in positions, are requested to meet in the auditorium of the East Side Library, East Alder and East Eleventh streets, at 8 o'clock p. m., Monday evening, September 23.

Bartender Kills Himself—Fred Broucher, 38 years old, bartender employed by Pahl and Carbarino, committed suicide last night in his room at the Hoosier hotel at 205 Jefferson by drinking carbolic acid. His body was found at 10 o'clock last night by the chambermaid. Little is known of Broucher's relatives except that there is a sister in the city and a brother somewhere in Washington.

Gang Torments Tailor—Boysish pranks directed at M. Fiebel, a tailor at 1287 Sandy Road, led him to appeal to the police to stop a gang of six or seven boys from annoying him. He declared that the gangsters, ranging in age from 17 to 20 years, have tormented him every evening for some time. He said he can stand it no longer.

Missionary Union Called—The Women's Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary union will hold its regular quarterly meeting at Lent's Baptist church, Tuesday, September 24, at 10:30 o'clock a. m. The meeting will last all day. Take Mount-Scott car and get off at Third avenue.

Child Taken From Parents—Fighting by both parents over the custody of little Nellie E. McCoy, four years old, caused Judge Gatens this morning in juvenile court to place the child in the custody of Mrs. M. R. Plantz, 66 East Twenty-eighth street. The parents are divorced. The child was recently placed in the Plantz' home, but the mother took
