NEW YORK'S SHERIFF PUTS O. K. ON BOXING

New York, Sept. 21.—In my opinion, boxing as at present conducted, is a perfectly legitimate sport. All the contests I have witnessed were conducted in a human manner. This was the statement here today of Sheriff Harburger, who, as peace officer of the county of New York, thus gave boxing under the Frawley law, a clean bill of health. Sheriff Harburger expressed the same opinion to Governor Dix in reply to the governor's inquiry. For several nights past the sheriff has been at the ringside of some club. He witnessed the Kilbane-O'Keefe bout.

Cadeau Pitches No-Hit-No-Run. Spokane, Wash., Sept. 21.—Indian Cadeau pitched no-hit-no-run game against the Tacoma Tigers yesterday. Several of Tacoma's men reached first base on errors and walks. Cannonball allowed Spokane three hits, but two runs were scored on these bingles. The score: Spokane..... 0 0 0 Tacoma..... 0 0 0 Batteries—Cadeau and Devout; Cannonball and Crittenden.

Will Decide Big Deal Wednesday. (United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Sept. 21.—That the world's championship baseball series will begin Monday, October 7, has been practically agreed upon by the National commission, which will meet here next Wednesday to draft final arrangements for the games. This date is based upon the assumption that the Boston Americans and the New York Nationals would be the pennant winners in their respective leagues.

As Boston already has the American flag cinched and as the Giants will finish their playing season October 5 and are virtually sure winners of the National pennant, an early start for the big series is desired, it is said.

CHARLEY BABB IS PORTLAND GUEST

Famous Old Baseball Player on Short Visit to Family in Rose City.

Charley Babb, whom the old time baseball fans will remember as the crack young third baseman of the Portland team of 1895, which used to play on the old grounds at East Twelfth and Davis streets, is visiting his parents here after an absence of several years. Babb was born and raised in Portland and enjoys a wide acquaintance among the old time players. Just now he is managing the Reading, Pa., club of the Tri-State league, which got away to a bad start and finished in sixth place in a field of eight clubs.

Babb, who is now making his home in Memphis, ten miles out of Portland after the Tri-State schedule closed for the purpose of making a two weeks' visit before returning to Memphis for the winter months. An interesting phase of the visit of Babb, who sat on the Portland bench Monday and fanned with Walter McCredie, was his meeting with Umpire Jack McCarthy. "Shake hands with an old team mate of yours, Jack, and guess his name," said Manager Walter, when McCarthy came out of his dressing room. They shook but McCarthy could not remember ever having seen Babb until told his name and then he recalled their experience together in 1895. McCarthy was also a member of the Portland club of that year.

Babb, who became a member of the club in 1896, McCarthy was already a seasoned player and Babb was just breaking in. He was a sensational fielder around third and crazy to play baseball, as he expressed it yesterday. The Portland club ran into a lot of rain and the crowds were poor. Salaries hadn't been paid for weeks. One day the skies cleared, the afternoon was warm and the field fast. An immense crowd turned out and it is estimated that there was about $2000 in the gate. Everybody was happy for the players saw a chance to eat T-hones and buy new raiment. But the little gloom swatted the joys on the bank, for when they called around at the manager's office to make a touch, they found that individual and the receipts gone, so they say. The club broke up after that and the players scattered to all parts.

In 1897 Babb breezed back to the middle west and got a job with the Fort Wayne club, playing third, and it was here that he became acquainted with Walter McCredie, who was playing the outfield for Youngstown. Later he went to Memphis and from there to the New York Giants. He was playing with Brooklyn in 1904 New York traded him to Brooklyn for "Bud Bill" Dahlen, both being shortstops. After leaving Brooklyn he went back to Memphis and managed the club for several seasons. Last year he was at the head of a club in the Virginia State league and this spring was engaged to manage Reading.

Mac's Portland Prospects Drafted. Brooklyn and the New York Americans put a crimp into Walter McCredie's drafting plans. By the new classification the Pacific Coast and the two other class AA leagues are privileged to draft from the Southern and Western class A leagues, and the Eastern leagues had to put in a draft for Pitcher Wagner of the New Orleans club, and Shortstop Harbison of the Atlantic club. Brooklyn took Wagner and the Highlanders drew Harbison. Harry Wolverton is so hard put for a shortstop that he wasn't going to let any good material slip by.

Chanced to See a Game. (United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Sept. 21.—Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago Nationals, is recovering rapidly from the operation which he underwent to relieve pressure on the brain, resulting from injury to the skull caused by being hit repeatedly by pitched balls. Chance's physician declared today that the "peerless leader" would be up in a week and probably would be able to participate in the post season series.

Dugdale at Game. D. E. Dugdale, the Seattle magnate, came down yesterday to attend the Lucas funeral, and with Mrs. Dugdale witnessed a portion of the Portland-Los Angeles game, departing before the final to catch a train. From an error standpoint Dug saw the worst game of the week and will doubtless have some interesting gossip for the Seattle fans.

Minor Draft Season Tomorrow. The minor league drafting season starts tomorrow, but the bids for players of a classification lower than class AA will not be opened until Monday. Portland expects to get several good men.

Luna Park Negro Playground. (United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Sept. 21.—Luna Park, known as the "Chutes of Los Angeles," which is situated from the Washington street Pacific Coast baseball league grounds by a fence, opened today as an exclusively negro pleasure ground. A syndicate of wealthy negroes recently secured a lease on the park, and an extensive playground is planned for their dark brethren.

FRANKIE BURNS TO GET RITCHIE BOUT

San Francisco Lightweight Is Ordered to Put Wrist in Plaster Again.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 21.—That Frankie Burns of Oakland will be given a chance against Willie Ritchie in event of the proposed match with Ad Wolaigst falling through, and the fact that Ritchie has been obliged to have his injured wrist again placed in a plaster cast, were two topics discussed among fight fans here today. The announcement regarding Burns was made by Billy Nolan, Ritchie's manager, after a conference with Grant Gorman, who directs Burns' affairs. Ritchie, in using his left hand, discovered that it was still weak. He consulted a physician who strictly enjoined Ritchie to have his wrist again placed in a plaster cast and to leave it there for at least three weeks.

"WHITE HOPES" SPEND PRETTY BAD EVENING

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 21.—Beaten and hooked at will by Jim Cameron, a splinter Los Angeles negro, in their fight last night, Al Williams, of Cleveland, Spider Kelly's "white hope," is a "hope" no more today. Cameron cut Williams to pieces at Dreamland and was an easy winner.

Ed Kennedy, a San Francisco heavyweight, who had the championship bout is also cured. They picked "Sator" Shaffer, of Vallejo, as a stepping stone for Kennedy to the heights of fame. Shaffer, however, did not like the job and beat Kennedy to a pulp.

Frank Schuler, who refereed all the eight four round contests which made up the card, has had the reputation of being one of the few square referees in San Francisco. Has had: But after the way he robbed Ad Zotte, a Stockton boy, of a decision last night, he will be longed at as a rascal. Zotte beat Moore all the way, but the wise ones were stringing their coin on Moore as the best "take a chance" bet of the night, and Schuler's decision showed it was no chance, but a certainty. The crowd booed the decision almost to a man.

RICH WILL FACE 2 WIVES MONDAY

Says Nina Cohen, With Whom He First Lived, Was Only Common Law Spouse.

(Special to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., Sept. 21.—L. R. Rich, the Klamath Falls shoe merchant arrested in a California town last week, charged with polygamy, is now in the county jail awaiting preliminary hearing before Justice Holman next Monday. Rich married Miss Jessie Layton here last St. Valentine's day, the bride being the daughter of pioneer citizens of the valley. He removed with her to Klamath Falls, where he engaged in the shoe business. All was well till Miss Nina Cohen arrived on the scene from San Francisco, claiming she was the original and only wife of Rich. On the appearance of Miss Cohen, or Mrs. Rich No. 1, Rich departed for the south, but was overtaken at Dunsmuir by the officers, and returned to Klamath Falls. He was surrendered to Constable Randle, of Grants Pass, a warrant having been issued by Justice Holman on the complaint of Mrs. Smith, a sister of Miss Layton. Bonds were placed at $750, and the elder Rich, father of L. R. Rich, telegraphed that sum from California, and the doors of the county jail swung open. Liberty was short lived, however, as just as Rich was to board the southbound train for San Francisco, having already purchased his ticket, a telegram came to Deputy Prosecutor Johnson from Mrs. Rich No. 1, stating that she was leaving for Grants Pass, and asking that Rich be placed under heavier bonds. Justice Holman at once raised the bonds to $2000, and Rich was returned to jail, his father, who had sent the first amount, not responding on the second day.

Rich explained his matrimonial entanglement to The Journal's correspondent by claiming that while he and Miss Cohen had lived together in San Francisco as husband and wife, they had never been legally wedded, the common law marriage not then having been legalized in the southern state. Miss Cohen, or Mrs. Rich No. 1, is emphatically states that she is the legal wife of Rich, and will arrive in the city to prove the claim. Miss Layton, Mrs. Rich No. 2, is at the Layton home in this city and both will be here for the preliminary hearing Monday.

The grand jury will also convene Monday, and there is a possibility that the case may go direct to that body.

HUGE OIL FIELD CLOSE TO THE PANAMA ZONE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Colon, Sept. 21.—That an oil field of immense size exists very close to the Panama canal zone, and that the oil is so plentiful and of such good quality as to make it of great value, is the report current here today and said to have come from an authoritative source. (Gerald Hamilton, editor of the English section of the Panama City Star and Herald is one of several prominent Panamanians who have visited the new oil field. According to Hamilton, the field is located in Colombian territory not more than a day's journey from the canal zone. He says the oil actually comes from the earth and flows into the sea. The discovery of the field was made by a German, through gaining the friendship of the Indians.

New Home for Frisco Club. (United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 21.—That a magnificent new Pacific Coast league ball park will be given San Francisco at Madison, Valencia and Army streets by the announcement here today following the statement issued by Cal Ewing, president of the San Francisco ball club, that he had taken an option on the property. The plans include an expenditure of from $250,000 to $300,000 in building the apartments, which will include a concrete grandstand.

King Seal Breaks Record. Medford, Or., Sept. 21.—King Seal broke the 2:15 track record for the mile here yesterday by beating Chiquita and Axola easily, pacing the distance in 2:13 1/2.

WEALTHY WOMEN MAY BE ASKED

Senate Committee Expected to Summon Mrs. Harriman and Miss Bliss.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Sept. 21.—Determined to investigate thoroughly the political contributions of trusts and other big corporations to past campaigns, the senate committee investigating campaign contributions may even call to the witness stand Mrs. E. H. Harriman to clear up, if she may, her late husband's dealings with Colonel Roosevelt and the late Cornelius N. Bliss, in his lifetime national Republican treasurer. This was established here today when Sergeant-at-Arms Hansdell returned from New York with the news that he had subpoenaed Secretary C. T. White, General Counsel Elliott and Director Libby of the Standard Oil company; John P. McCall of the New York Life, Cornelius N. Bliss Jr., son of the late treasurer, and C. C. Tegehoff, private secretary to E. H. Harriman. It was stated that Mrs. Harriman had not yet been subpoenaed, but that she is very likely to be called to tell the senate committee what she knows of her late husband's political contributions. Miss Lizzy Bliss, daughter of the late Republican national treasurer is also likely to be asked to testify in the senatorial inquiry.

In the first six months this year Caylon exported nearly 86,500,000 pounds of black tea and more than 4,240,000 pounds of green.

HOW JONES GOT WELL

"Hello, Jones, what's the trouble?" "I'm all in, down and out. Got a bad case of rheumatism, my stomach is all out of gear and I have hardly enough energy to breathe." "Why don't you see a doctor?" "I've been to half a dozen already, but here I am in the same fix. Saw my family doctor first, and he gave me a lot of dope to take. One compound was to build up and strengthen my stomach, another was a medicine to stop the rheumatic pains, and the last was a stimulant to brace me up generally.

"Well, the dope made my stomach weaker than ever. Even the smell of the stuff was nauseating, and the horrible taste left in my mouth was really worse than the ailment itself." "The stimulant gave me energy for a while, but after I had taken it for a few days I had to double the dose to get any effect at all, and it soon failed even to stimulate." "The rheumatism medicine relieved all the pain, but like the stimulant, it, too, quickly lost its power." "After that I concluded my doctor didn't know his business, and I went to several others, but with the same result. I was determined to secure some permanent relief, so I called on Dr. Van Soakem; he has the biggest reputation of any doctor in town, you know. He looked me over and then wrote out a prescription for some dope. It proved to be the rankest stuff I had ever taken, and it certainly put me on the sick list for 'keeps'.

"What hurt me almost as much as his medicine was Dr. Van Soakem's bill. The size of it was enough to make any man sick. He didn't waste any time on me, either. I'm done with doctors and drugs for all time." "Now, just wait a minute, I know what will cure you. It's Electro-Vita—the electric body battery you have heard so much about. I've met a number of people who have used this appliance, and they say that it does the work. The Electro-Vita people have a free book which explains all about their method of electric treatment. Call or write for that book, read it carefully, and then use your own judgment. Good day, Jones; I hope you will be better the next time I see you."

Acting upon my friend's advice, I sent for the book regarding Electro-Vita. I must say that it is one of the most interesting works I have ever read. It is written in plain language, is beautifully illustrated, and deals with human ills in a sensible way. The information it contains is worth a great deal to any sufferer. After reading this book, I called at the office of the Electro-Vita Co. and had a talk with their consulting physician. The doctor gave me a thorough examination and told me just what the treatment would accomplish in my case. He also showed me letters of praise from people in various walks of life who had been cured by Electro-Vita. Here are a few of them:

"I am perfectly satisfied with Electro-Vita and what it has done. I will gladly recommend it to anyone, as I have already done to three or four." W. F. MORGAN, 1948 So. E. St., Tacoma, Wash.

"I have used Electro-Vita for some months, and things I fine. It has done me more good than all the drugs I have ever taken." ROY KINSMAN, Klamath Falls, Ore.

"Certainly I am well pleased with your appliance. After two weeks' use of Electro-Vita the rheumatism left me and my nerves are getting stronger. I feel like a new man." ANDREW GROVE, Cottage Grove, Ore.

This Is Free I would advise all sufferers to call or write for the free book about Electro-Vita. This book is illustrated with pictures of fully developed men and women, showing how Electro-Vita is applied. It explains many things you want to know, and gives a lot of good, wholesome advice for ailing people. If you can't call, the book will be sent by mail, closely sealed and prepaid, free, if you will use this coupon.

Those who call may test Electro-Vita free. Consultation free to all. Office hours—9 a. m. to 6 p. m.; Wednesday and Saturday evenings until 8, Sundays, 10 to 12.
