Hotel Keeper Arrested—John Parker, fourth and Bond streets, and former partner of Sam Krastner who has been charged in the circuit court charged with extortion, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Police Captain Riley, who testi-field against him at the trial. Parker is charged with using abusive language. According to Captain Riley, he was returning from the court house when Parker overtook him and started in by calling him vile names, because of testimony that Riley had given at the trial. Captain Riley immediately arrested Parker. This morning in the police court he secured a continuance of the case.

Boy Escapes Again—George Martin, 14 years old, 34 Gibbs street, who left his home last Friday, deceiving Captain of Police Riley by putting up a plausible story on how he happened to be wandering about the streets, has again escaped. He is now thought to be on his way to San Francisco. Tuesday after being brought back to Portland from Hood River, he eluded those who had him in charge. With young Martin, when he went to Hood River, was William Coleman, 7 years old, who lives near the older boy. The Coleman boy is still near Hood River.

Auto Truck Gets on Fire—A large number of people were attracted to a fire at East Water and Salmon streets, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, when word got around that the Standard Oil company's tanks were on fire. The blaze proved to be a small fire on an auto truck in the Independent Paving Co., at East Salmon and Water streets, caused by a lighted lantern being brought too close to the gasoline tank of the automobile. The truck was badly damaged.

Arrested for Larceny—John Williams, who is alleged to have stolen a coat and jumper from M. J. Barrell, a merchant of 73 1/2 Third street, north, and then attempted to sell it to Barrell's son, who runs a second hand store, a block north on Third street, was arrested by Patrolmen Ennis and Manns last night on a charge of larceny.

LAND FRAUD CHARGE LEADS TO ARREST

W. L. Diel, wanted in Hood River because he has failed to pay a judgment for $4800, taken against him by heirs of W. G. Pillow, whom he is charged with having defrauded in a real estate deal, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Scott Stevens, and is being held in the county jail pending the arrival of Hood River officials. The judgment was taken against Diel March 6, 1911, and was affirmed later by the supreme court.

According to the story of the Pillow heirs, Diel and associates maneuvered a deal by which Diel finally traded a Hood River farm, in Woodlawn for a Hood River farm. Diel claimed that the laundry was free from debt and brought in $50 clear a month. After the deal had gone through Pillow found that

COURTS INVESTIGATION OF AMUSEMENT PARK

Otto F. Witte, proprietor of the Crystal Lake Amusement park, at Milwaukie, in an answer to the declaration made recently by Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin, of the department of public safety for women, to the effect that she intended to investigate the park and determine whether or not the park is conducted in an orderly manner, has stated that he would welcome an investigation, as he is sure it would result in a recommendation for the place he conducts. Witte strenuously declares that no public dances are given there unless under the auspices of some fraternal order or society, and further that no intoxicating drinks are sold on the grounds nor allowed on the grounds. Witte also declares that whenever a lease is made of the dancing pavilion he compels the renters to sign an agreement which gives him the right to eject any person he deems undesirable.

ACCUSED BY U'REN OF COWARDLY DODGING

Charles H. Shields, Secretary Oregon Equal Taxation League—Dear Sir: In answer to my letter to you inviting you to meet me in joint discussion of the tax measures before the people of Oregon, I am favored by your private secretary with a letter stating that perhaps you will favor me with one meeting after October 25. Considering your brag and bluster at Hood River and other places, I am sure you are very much like cowardly dodging. You are now on the stump all the time, as I am informed, and if you have any courage with your convictions, you will be very glad to meet me. Your secretary also writes that you are loath to divide time with me in Oregon City on any day. I will challenge to meet you on the stump from day to day from this time to the close of the campaign. I will pay half the expenses and maintain the single tax measures to be voted on by the people in November and against the measures you are supporting. Respectfully yours, W. S. U'REN.

REQUESTS THAT BRIDGE RENTAL BE REDUCED

A letter from F. J. Fuller, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, asking a lower rate on running over the bridge now that the new O. W. R. & N. steel bridge has been opened to traffic. He requested that the reduction of the rent be begun October 1. Judge Cleaton and Commissioner W. L. Lightner yesterday took an auto trip into Road District No. 2 to see the new road scrapper at work.

ORGANIZE TO ADVANCE DAVIS' CANDIDACY

With the purpose of boosting George N. Davis, nominated by the Progressive party to a place on the circuit bench, a meeting of his professional and personal friends was held Tuesday night in the Corbett building and the preliminary work for his campaign was mapped out.

The meeting was participated in by Republicans and Democrats as well as Progressives, and the club to be formed will conduct the campaign for Davis on a non-partisan basis. Davis has been a Republican, but is now a member of the third party. Last spring he became a candidate for the nomination for district attorney, but after the fight warmed up, and W. A. Carter alike withdrew in favor of Walter H. Evans.

J. L. Conley was chairman of the meeting and W. C. Campbell acted as secretary. A committee of three was named to prepare for another meeting Friday night, when the permanent organization will be effected. An invitation will be given to Davis supporters of all parties to attend.

Mr. Davis made a short talk, saying
