ICKENS DROP TO 11 FRONT STREET TODAY

rket Again Weaker and Lower With Increasing Supplies in Every Place; Present Value Is Cheaper Than Good Beef.

Portland Wholesale Markets. Egg market less active. Better call for hops. Dressed veals are easier. Dressed hogs steady. Cheese trade firmer. Butter trade easier. Banana train is due. Potato trade waiting. More onions offering. Cauliflower is lower.

There was another bad break in chickmarket values in the Front street le today, Cleanups were made at 11c sound for both hens and springs. This the lowest price that has been named ing the street for some years. The low price now in effect in the icken trade makes poultry a cheaper oduct that the better grades of beef d pork. As yet there has been but the increase in the demand owing to a fact that the retail trade is holding a dressed product at about the same dressed product at about the same

Receipts of turkeys are likewise great-tereased. There remains quite a demand for these around previous otations, although stock is not move out promptly.

EGG MARKET EASING OFF

While no change was shown in the ice of eggs along Front street today, a market is not so firm and supplies fresh stock are not moving out as the summer of the supplies of the superted. This is Regular train of bananas was due to rive in the local market today. The arket has been in excellent shape for od ripe stock recently and prices have en quite well maintained.

PANCY LETTUCE SELLS HIGH

Some extra fancy lettuce from Hood iver was quoted in the Front street arket this morning by the receivers at c a dozen. While the stock is much tter than any other arrival here, the ice is the highest known at this me of the year. It has been placed at c a dozen.

HOP SALE IS REPORTED CENTS POUND ALONG | AT SALEM AT 19 1-4 CENTS FOR SELECTED

Extra Good Quality Reported at That Good Stuff Is Absent From Yards Figure and 19 Cents; Short Sellers Said to Have Much October Business to Cover.

While names are not given it is reported that 390 bales of extra fancy hops were purchased at Salem during the last 24 hours at 19c a pound, and another lot at 19½c. The market for hops, while rather quiet at the moment, is very firm for the better quality.

Most of the deals are said to be for the account of short sellers who have a number of October contracts to deliver to brewers. They are making a determined but quiet attempt to secure these without disturbing the market too much.

much.

With foreign markets firmer and in some instances higher, the outlook in the hop market is much improved. A recent cable from London reported the market there firmer at previous prices, but another cable from Berlin gave the German market as firmer and about 4c a pound higher for the last few days.

Total sales-307,200 shares. DECIDED CHANGE IN WHEAT

Market Higher for Moment, but Break Occurs Later. 3.90

3.25

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—Very decided change was noted in the temper of the wheat trade from the close yesterday until the close today. For a minute at the opening, December wheat sold higher than Friday's close at 92%, and from 6.40 then there was a break to 91c under late selling pressure today. The trade had no fresh news of an alarming kind from $5.50 no fresh news of an alarming kind from abroad. As stated in early advices the domestic conditions were not encouraging for buyers. The result was that much long wheat bought on the advance came on the declining market to-day. Liverpool had a moderate advance of ½ to ½d but the cables indicated the strength was partly due to nervousness over the Balkan situation, partly due to excited buying of cargoes for the continent, and naturally firmer offers of wheat from this side overnight. This sort of news had a steadying effect on the trade here in the outset, but in absence of any fresh aggressive bull operations, there was a disposition among holders to liquidate wheat bought on the advance.

to the big premiums offered by millers but the small difference in the price at present may force some of the stock

As a rule foreigners have been taking fortyfold as a substitute for bluestem but as there is a difference of but 2c a bushel in the price of the two varieties, it is expected that some material business will develop for the better stock. There is no change in the flour situation. Some of the small millers continue to shade the price of export a dime below the regular list but the bigger grinders are holding out for the full While in some quarters there are expectations of a further reduction in the price of patent, the last drop placed ties and are now unwilling to make furtier sales in that direction. California is still willing to buy, however.
