Clancy, of San Francisco, former member of the executive board of the Inter-Structural Ironworkers, is alleged to have sent to his wife from Boston Immediately after the dynamiting of the los Angeles Times newspaper plant. W. Miller, who is prosecuting the 47 Paris bourse spreading here, members of the ironworkers' union on charges of illegally transporting dynamite, interrupted the examination of witnesses at today's session of the federal court long enough to hurl this accusation into the face of the San Franclaco labor leader. Miller stated he regarded the message as showing conclusively that Clancy knew the Times building was to be dynamited, and as warning Mrs. Clancy to clear his home of incriminating evidence. Despite Miller's charge, it was de-veloped later that the heads of the Postal and Western Union Telegraph com-panies in San Francisco and Boston, have been unable to produce copies of Clancy's alleged message to Mrs. Clancy. Takes Issue With Councilman and Fire Chief,

The smoothness that has characterized the administration of the fire department under the present city regime has been ruffled at last. Another one of those bltter fights that featured the closing days of the Lane administra-tion looms. The baseball reviews of yesterday's Boston and New York 11-inning tie game from the pens of Larry Doyle and Tris Speaker are on the sporting page of today's Journal. Doyle writes of the game in an inimitable style and tells the readers the real reason why Ray Collins was chased to the bench in the eighth inning. Speaker confines his com-ments mostly to the individual work of the players of the two clubs. Both player-scribes, however, insist that their respective clubs will win out in the series,
