

REQUEST CITIZENS' LEAGUE IN FIGHT FOR HOME INDUSTRIES

Manufacturers' Assn. Asks the Commercial Club to Send Representatives to Directors' Meeting Oct. 14.

In furtherance of a state-wide campaign to bring the people of Oregon to realize the benefits to be derived from patronizing home industries...

With the opening of the Panama canal, Oregon, with other Pacific coast states, is expecting a big influx of people...

The largest cities of California and Washington are engaged in work along these lines, and if Portland is to get her share of the new factories...

The Manufacturers' association has been carrying on a made in Oregon campaign with substantial returns.

W. H. McMonies, president of the association, told this morning of one instance in which a $500,000 plant had been lost to the city because of inadequate shipping facilities.

"We lost this plant only a short time ago," said Mr. McMonies, "simply because of Portland's present lack of steamship lines."

"This only shows how necessary it is for every citizen to help out in the work. The made in Oregon campaign is inextricably linked with every movement for the development of Portland and Oregon."

"The board passed a resolution to require him to revise the specifications so Portland manufacturers could compete, and now he has specified a brick that can be made here only for $22 a thousand, but which Seattle manufacturers can sell for $18.10 a thousand."

"All we ask is that Portland men have an opportunity to compete on fair terms. Any one can see the advantage of having this money spent in Portland instead of going outside the city."

"The association wants outside industries to come in here, for they are necessary to make Portland a great city, but we never encourage outside industries to come in unless there is room for them here."

"If the people of Oregon will begin now to make it a point to ask for 'made in Oregon' goods, the prosperity of Oregon is assured."

TOM KAY WOULD GIVE PUBLIC FACTS

Public Debate Suggested as Best Plan to Air Police Squabble.

Policeman Tom Kay, who was dismissed from the service because of his attack on Waldemar Seton, a member of the police committee, before the Ministerial association last Monday, is willing to meet Seton and J. F. Fitzgerald, who is also a member of the committee, in debate, to throw out their difficulties.

"I'm right and know it," said Kay this morning. "If any minister will open his church or any proprietor of a public dance hall will give us the use of his hall to meet Seton and Fitzgerald in debate, if we can't get a room, I will meet them on the public streets. I have a lot of things that I want to ask them, and the public should hear about it. It is high time the public know what is going on on the police committee between Seton and Fitzgerald."

"I want to ask Attorney Seton about some of his clients that run disorderly houses. I want to ask him about the time he went with Mr. Bryant, owner of the Idora hotel, to talk with Chief Slover regarding a raid on the hotel. Sergeant Harris arrested some women in the hotel, but did not arrest the owner. I asked the sergeant why he did not get a warrant against Bryant, and he said they would not give him one. It was at this time that I saw Seton and Bryant go down to see the chief. What did they want to see him about?"

"Also, why have Seton and Fitzgerald been so active against me? I'm trying to do my duty. I'm not afraid to do it, either. See what happens to an officer when he does try to clean up the town. Seton is a fine citizen to be on the police committee."
