

ASHLAND, OR., GETS NEXT MEETING OF CONGREGATION

Sermon on Social Responsibilities of the Church Ends the Hood River Session; Personnel of Committees.

(Special to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., Oct. 11.—The closing day of the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Oregon State Congregational churches was a busy period. During the morning business session Ashland won the next annual convention, with Corvallis and Forest Grove in the field. Rev. Philip Bauer, chaplain at the Oregon state penitentiary and parole officer, addressed the convention on the subject of capital punishment and in strong terms commended Governor Oswald West's effort to have hanging abolished, and urged the people to vote and vote for the abolition of capital punishment at the November election. He related how Hazel Irwin, who, with William Tanner, murdered Ray Wallace in Portland, and who is now serving sentence at the penitentiary, had repented of his wrongdoing to the speaker. "You can't reform a Hazel Irwin or stop murder by hanging," continued the speaker.

The committee on resolutions reported that the session had been the largest held for many years. More than 100 delegates registered. Rev. F. J. Van Horn of Seattle addressed this convention on the subject of "Ministerial Efficiency," which was discussed by the ministers present. The missionary enterprises of the church were discussed by several of the delegates.

In the afternoon the delegates were given an automobile ride over Hood River valley by the Commercial club. At the evening session Mrs. Lola G. FALL FROM CAR KILLS A WOODLAND WOMAN

While visiting a few days in Portland with friends, on her way from Woodland, Wash., to California, where she intended spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Ausmus, aged 61 years, fell from a Sunnyside car on East Morrison street, between East Seventeenth and East Eighteenth streets, yesterday afternoon and sustained injuries which resulted in her death at the Good Samaritan hospital soon after being taken there.

Mrs. Ausmus, with her daughter, Mrs. Sam Freeman, was stopping at the home of friends on the east side. Yesterday while one daughter was attending a wedding at the home of J. H. Imhoff, at 168 East Seventeenth street, and the other was shopping, Mrs. Ausmus, who had been calling on friends on Forty-eighth street, started for town. It is believed that when she passed Eighteenth street she thought it was the street at which she should leave the car and without waiting she jumped off. She was picked up unconscious and was rushed to the Good Samaritan hospital in the Red Cross ambulance. She died without recovering consciousness. It was found that she had sustained a fractured skull. Funeral arrangements are being made.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL ACCUSED OF MURDER

C. A. Inlow.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 11.—Because chauffeur Edward White told the Salt Lake police that C. A. Inlow, principal of the Bingham (Utah) schools, had entered the home of Mrs. Mary Jones and had taken some valuable ornaments, White is dead and Inlow and his wife are being held for murder here. White was killed in his taxicab shortly after midnight Saturday. Two shots fired from behind had ended his life. His body was found a few hours after the tragedy at the school principal and Mrs. Inlow were arrested a short time later.

Inlow, for seven years a respected resident of Bingham, has a large collection of ore samples.

LABORER TAKES DRINK, DIES WRETCHED DEATH

(Special to The Journal.) Goldendale, Wash., Oct. 11.—Charles Tice, a laborer employed on the Goldendale street work, died suddenly Tuesday night after taking a drink out of a bottle supposed to contain whiskey, just after his return from work. He died in convulsions and an investigation is being made by Klickitat county authorities. He was 44 years old and leaves a wife and two children. He was stopping with his family at the residence of B. F. Finch. After taking a drink out of the bottle Tice broke it and what the contents were is not known. Hints of foul play have been made.

MILWAUKIE RATE CASE LIKELY TO BE ENDED THIS YEAR

United States Supreme Court Expects to Hear It in December, According to Word Sent Attorney General.

(Special to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Oct. 11.—Attorney General Crawford was notified today that the Milwaukee and Oak Grove rate cases, which have been in the courts since 1908, would likely be heard by the United States supreme court in December. He is now preparing his briefs. These cases involve rates on the Portland Railway, Light & Power company's lines from Milwaukee to Portland and Oak Grove to Portland. The fare from Milwaukee to First and Alder streets in Portland was 10 cents, without privilege of transfers. The state courts gave a decision in favor of the plaintiff and ordered the fare reduced to 5 cents with transfer privileges. The fare between Milwaukee Heights, Courtney, Oak Grove, Center and Risley and Portland was 15 cents, without transfers. The state courts ordered the fare reduced to 10 cents with transfer privileges. The street railway company appealed from both decisions, taking the case to the United States supreme court.

EARLY SHOPPING PLAN MEETS APPROVAL OF DEALERS AND CLERKS

"Do your shopping early and get your Saturday orders in so the teams can leave on the last trip by 1 o'clock," urges Manager Rudersdorf of the Oregon Humane society, who has returned from a trip through Washington cities in the interest of the society. "Every woman ought to take pride in getting her shopping done early," he asserted, "for the matter of shopping early is only a matter of habit and it is humane from many standpoints—for the horse, for the driver and his family and for the clerks." The idea is meeting a ready response and the society is being highly complimented from all sides on the work it is doing. Grocery men and other dealers are giving all the assistance possible. Signs are being placed in many stores, by the dealers and attention is being called by the dealers to the signs. A suggestion has been made that rubber stamps bearing the statement, "Do Your Shopping Early," be provided by the grocers to stamp on packages and bills, in order to keep the matter everlastingly before the eyes of the shoppers. It is getting to be a habit with Oregon Humane enthusiasts to always close their conversation with a friend by saying, "Do your shopping early." And then is added the admonition to "do your Christmas shopping early."

MYSTIC SHRINERS TO HOLD CEREMONIALS

Officers and nobles of Al Kader temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America, will hold ceremonials in Albany, Corvallis, Salem and Eugene some time within the next 30 days for the purpose of visiting non-resident nobles and giving them an opportunity to come in touch with the officers and inner workings of the order. The Shriners will have a special train as caravan to these towns, and as escort the officers will be attended by the Shrine band of 80 pieces and the Arab Patrol. Representatives of the Shrine have been sent to these places already to make arrangements for the affair. The party will be an afternoon and evening at each place. Through these towns there are many members of the Shrine, but Al Kader temple in this city is the only one near. This pilgrimage is for the purpose of giving the non-resident Shriners the privilege of attend a meeting. When the Shriners get together they always give a good account of themselves and needless to say, the meetings on this trip will not be exceptions. Journal Want Ads bring results.
