Tourists See Police Raid—Four tourists from Oklahoma were given an exhibition Wednesday night of how the Portland police raid a Chinese gambling game. Thirteen gamblers were arrested and a complete gambling outfit confiscated, and enough money seized to board one Chinaman 18 years. The tourists are stopping at the Oregon hotel. Shortly after 7 o'clock they telephoned Captain Riley for an escort through Chinatown. Patrolmen Tackbery and Martin were assigned to the "lighters." As the party passed 83 North Third street, the officers saw the game in progress. Before the gamblers could close the doors, the patrolmen gained an entrance, taking charge of the den. The tourists stood on the sidewalk watching and raids. "The money found on tables amounted to $625. The case will be heard Tuesday in municipal court."
