COLONEL STARTS FOR HOME; SAYS HE FEELS 'BULLY'

Leaves Chicago for Oyster Bay This Morning, Accompanied by Members of His Family and Newspaper Men.

SHORT WALK TO HIS CAR PROVES TO BE FATIGUING

Hospital Staff Waves Patient Farewell; Says He Enjoyed Stay.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Aboard Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's Private Car, Port Wayne, Ind., Oct. 21.—Announcement that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is resting comfortably and standing the trip well was made here this afternoon by Drs. Scoury Terrell and Alexander Lambert, who are accompanying the former president on the trip to Oyster Bay.

Roosevelt's pulse, temperature and respiration, the physicians said, are normal, the patient spending most of his time reading and chatting with Mrs. Roosevelt. The colonel was asleep when the train passed through here. Hundreds of persons gathered at every station where the train has stopped.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 21.—Colonel Roosevelt was peacefully reading when his special train passed through here on his way east. His doctors were pleased with his condition. The colonel's impatience had disappeared, and it was felt probable that he would stand the journey well to Oyster Bay.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Chicago, Oct. 21.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt started for his home in Oyster Bay over the Pennsylvania railroad at 8:25 o'clock this morning. Forced to walk a few steps from the hospital to an automobile, the colonel reached his private car exhausted. Except for fatigue, however, the former president insisted that he felt "bully."

Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler helped Roosevelt aboard the train. The colonel waved his hat and smiled at the assembled crowd. There were many shouts of "Good-bye and good luck" as he disappeared within. Roosevelt said he was glad to be started for home, and predicted that he would be back at work inside 10 days. As the train left the colonel lay in his compartment resting.

Family Accompanies Him. Roosevelt's baggage and his cousin, Philip Roosevelt, were picked up at Englewood, a suburb. The colonel was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt Jr., Dr. Alexander Lambert, Dr. Scoury Terrell, and Secretaries McGrath and Martin. Ahead of the colonel's private car was a special car for the newspaper correspondents.

The colonel awoke an hour earlier than usual this morning. He slept soundly from 10:30 o'clock last night until 5:45 a. m. Mrs. Alice Longworth and Theodore Roosevelt Jr. reached the hospital at 7 o'clock.

When the party started for the train, the former president was escorted by 50 uniformed and plain clothes policemen, with 10 motorcycle officers riding ahead. The colonel waved his hat at the assembled, nurses, sisters and other hospital attendants in the corridor, saying:

Nurses Say Good-bye. "Good-bye everybody. I have had a good time here. You may not believe it, but I have."

Then Colonel Roosevelt shook hands with a number of the nurses, sisters and newspapermen and was moved in an ambulance to the station off Twelfth street, where he boarded his private car. The colonel was accompanied to his car by Colonel Cecil Linn of Texas, Dr. John B. Murphy and Dr. Lambert. A crowd at the entrance to the hospital cheered the colonel as he was helped into his ambulance.

The last bulletin concerning Roosevelt's condition follows: "Pulse, temperature and respiration normal. There is still some discharge of serum, but less filtration. The point of the bullet was definitely located this

INVADERS TAKE TWO ADRIANOPLE FORTS IN ATTACK

Turkish Outer Defenses Fall in Battle Which Costs Both Sides Heavy Penalty of Killed and Wounded.

MOSLEMS SAID TO HAVE FLED IN WILD DISORDER

Kaimil Pasha, President of the Turkish Council, Predicts All-European War.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Vienna, Oct. 21.—The advance guard of the Bulgarian forces operating against Adrianople have captured the two outer forts which defend the Turkish city, according to advices received here today from Sofia. The Bulgarians were victorious only after a desperate battle, in which the losses on both sides were heavy.

It was semi-officially announced here that the Bulgarian troops advanced rapidly on the outposts, throwing the Turks into a panic. The Turks are said to have fled in a disorderly manner, abandoning their provisions, ammunition and arms.

It was also stated that Bulgarian troops are caring for Turkish women and children in the deserted villages.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Oct. 21.—A dispatch from Constantinople to the Evening Standard today says: "The Turks have surrounded a force of Montenegrins crossing the River Boyana, killing 300 and recapturing several positions."

The Turkish officials in Constantinople, the correspondent says, accuse the Montenegrins of using dum dum bullets, of shelling Turkish hospitals and of killing the wounded at Tuzi and Berana.

A dispatch from Constantinople indicates that a revolution is threatened in Turkey, but most of the Turkish government officials scoff at the report. Estimates of the killed on both sides as a result of Turkey's clash with the Balkan states is placed today at 1000.

Predicts European War.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Oct. 21.—A dispatch involving all Europe, instigated by a clash between Austria and Russia, is the alarming prediction of Kaimil Pasha, president of the Turkish council, in a dispatch from Constantinople today.

COMRADES WHO FOUGHT SIDE BY SIDE MEET AGAIN FOR FIRST TIME SINCE THE CIVIL WAR

Dr. S. J. Barber, Pioneer Portland Dentist, and General C. A. Woodruff, Recall Bloody Battle in Which Latter Received What Was Thought to Be a Mortal Wound; General Advocates Stronger Coast Defenses, Predicting That the Pacific Ocean Will Be Seat of Future Strife.

For the first time since the Civil war, Brigadier General C. A. Woodruff retired, and Dr. S. J. Barber, one of Portland's pioneer dentists, met in Portland today. They served side by side during the invasion of the south, Woodruff as a corporal of the A company 10th Vermont and Dr. Barber as a sergeant in K company 106th New York.

During the last two years of the great conflict they became close friends, and when General Woodruff was wounded in both legs shortly before the war ended Dr. Barber reported to the regimental commander in this wise:

"Corporal Woodruff shot in both legs. This is the last I shall ever hear of him, I fear."

"And I verily believed it," said Barber, to the general, in recounting the incident at the Perkins today after they had greeted each other.

Recall Old Times. The two old soldiers lived over old times for an hour before their chat was interrupted by veterans of the civil and

HUGE BREAKER HITS STEAMER, FLOODING ONE STATEROOM AND FRIGHTENING PASSENGERS

Woman and Son Have Thrilling Experience on board S. S. Breakwater When Vessel Is Struck by Monster Billow While Crossing in Over Columbia River Bar; Part of Luggage Washed Into Sea and Pair Is Drenched by Avalanche of Water; Girl in Upper Berth Escapes Wetting

"Almost carried overboard by a huge breaker that washed into her berth on the steamer Breakwater as the craft crossed the Columbia river bar yesterday morning, and tossed around in the berth until they were terribly bruised from head to foot, were the thrilling experiences of Mrs. J. W. McNall of Anacosta, Mont., and her 8-year-old son, who were returning from Marshfield to their home. Mrs. McNall and son are now stopping at the Perkins hotel, until her baggage, much of which was almost ruined by water, is returned to her.

"I realized how it felt to be near death, when that terrible breaker crashed through the door of my stateroom that had been carelessly left open by a waiter," she said this morning at the hotel. "The wave seemed to wrap itself about me and with my arms and feet braced against the sides of the berth, and with my body crowded against my son, who was deathly sick, I hung on for what seemed to be hours while that cold salt water washed over

RYAN AND PERKINS TELL OF GIFTS TO CAMPAIGN OF 1904

Former Gave $300,000 to the Parker Fund, Though Opposed to Candidate; Knew He Could Not Be Elected.

NEW YORK LIFE PAID $50,000 TO HELP T. R.

"Unmitigated Lie," Says Perkins, to Charge He Had Underwritten Campaign.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Oct. 21.—Thomas F. Ryan, the New York financier, was the first witness to appear before the senate campaign contributions investigating committee today when the hearings were resumed. He gave his occupation as "farmer." Ryan testified that in 1904 he was opposed to the nomination of Judge Parker as Democratic candidate for the presidency, favoring Senator Gorman of Maryland. After the nomination, he said, the adherents of Parker asked him to contribute. Ryan added:

"I contributed $50,000 and later gave small amounts totaling $100,000. Toward the end, the national campaign committee said that the Parker campaign would collapse unless more money were secured, so I decided to give further aid. Just before the close of the campaign I contributed about $300,000 to pay election debts. The result was that at the end of the campaign every party-debt was paid. I did this because I did not want to see the party disintegrated and disgraced."

"Every dollar was given by myself, and not one cent from any corporation or other business interest."

Aided Harmon Campaign. Ryan declared he knew nothing about the 1908 contributions.

"Last year I thought any good candidate could be elected this year with the exception of Bryan," said Ryan. "I was determined to aid anyone except him because I thought he was the only cloud on the party. I had no particular choice. I had known Governor Harmon for 25 years and from time to time I gave his managers sums aggregating between $75,000 and $80,000."

"Later Senator Bankhead of Alabama mentioned Underwood, so I gave the latter $30,000. I was not asked to help

AMERICANS MUST BE PROTECTED IN MEXICO, DECLARES SEC. KNOX

Ambassador Wilson Is Given Word to Carry to President of Southern Republic.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Oct. 21.—Returning from Washington today from Japan, where he represented the United States at the funeral of the late Emperor Mutsuhito, Secretary of State Phillander C. Knox found many problems awaiting his consideration. The most important, perhaps was the Mexican situation, which Knox went over with American Ambassador Wilson who is here on his way back to Mexico City.

Secretary Knox insisted that Wilson make it plain to President Madero that while the United States would adhere to its policy to not interfere in Mexico's internal affairs, that it is up to Mexico to safeguard American life and property.

"More troops should be permanently stationed in California, Oregon and Washington, in my opinion, and a more comprehensive system of coast defense should be arranged for. She says pheasants are eating all his corn crop, and that beavers are damming up a stream and flooding his property. He wants to know what is likely to happen to him if he takes his gun and begins to slaughter in "self-defense" as it were."

As the law prohibits killing of pheasants and beavers, the attorney general was unable to give Mr. Wolfer much comfort.

LOGGER ASLEEP ABOVE SALOON IN CENTRALIA BURNS IN FIERCE FIRE

Is Awakened but Does Not Get Out; Oil-Soaked Excelsior Is Found.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Centralia, Wash., Oct. 21.—Fire undoubtedly of incendiary origin resulted in the loss of one life early today. It broke out in "Holy Row," a row of saloons facing the old depot in Centralia, shortly after 4 o'clock this morning.

Three saloons, a poolroom, a barber shop and a restaurant were burned. The total loss is estimated at $6000, mostly covered by insurance. A high wind was blowing and the old frame buildings, fire traps, were roaring furiously before water could be turned on.

Exploding whiskey barrels added to the intensity of the fire. The body of George Cameron, a logger, was found in the ruins. He was asleep in the Olympia hotel and was awakened, but evidently went back to sleep. Excelsior soaked in kerosene was found in the winerom of the Commercial liquor house, where the fire originated.

Sheriff Urquhart and Coroner Sticklein have traced responsibility down to one of three men. An arrest will probably be made before night. The heaviest losers were Louis Minor, owner of the Davenport bar and poolroom, Charles Powers, proprietor of the Commercial liquor house, and George Moore, owner of the Olympia saloon and hotel.

WEST FINDS 3 OFFICES THAT CAN BE MADE ONE

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Oct. 21.—As another step toward eliminating boards and commissions that can be dispensed with, and reducing expenses of state government, Governor West announced today that he would recommend to the legislature abolition of the present sheep commission and the offices of sheep inspector and state veterinarian, and create a new office of state stock inspector.

The sheep commission received an appropriation of $2500 from the last legislature and the state veterinarian receives a salary of $2000 yearly and $1500 a year for expenses. The governor stated his belief that the work now performed by both departments could be handled easily by one.

The engine plied on top of the cabooses and set it on fire immediately.

FATHER OF CRANE CALLS ON MORGAN, WHO SHOT HIS SON

"Well, You Shot One of Best Boys in World," Says Parent With Tearful Eyes; "I Am Sorry," Says Morgan.

SLAYER OF VIRGIE HART WANTS NO LYNCHING

Shows "No Sorrow for Killing Her but Says She Was Best Girl in World.

(Special to The Journal.) Condon, Or., Oct. 21.—Robert Morgan, slayer of Virgie Hart, was captured at 5 o'clock yesterday evening about 15 miles south of Fossil, in Wheeler county, by Sheriff Montague. The sheriff followed a clue which led him to believe that Morgan had got into Wheeler and was in Fossil. He received information that a man had been seen walking south from Fossil.

The sheriff in an automobile driven by Dr. L. L. Taylor immediately started and finally found tracks in the road, which they followed. They expected to get sight of the fugitive at any moment, and prepared, the sheriff having a high power rifle. Coming to the top of a small hill they saw Morgan about 150 yards ahead but as the car was making no noise he did not know of their approach. When within 30 yards the sheriff stepped from the slowly running car and called to him to throw up his hands.

Morgan whirled quickly, but the sheriff had the rifle leveled on him and he immediately threw up his hands.

WILSON FUND CLIMBS CLOSE TO $5000 MARK, CROOK CO. MEN GIVE

Oregon City Courier Also Forwards Contributions Made by Supporters in Clackamas

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE WILSON FUND.

Table listing names and amounts contributed to the Wilson Fund, including Gus Nelson, Holbrook, Lester L. Wimberly, etc.

Total Contributions of $172 today raise the Wilson fund to $4900.50. Conspicuous in the list is $100 from Crook county Wilson supporters, and $55 raised in Clackamas by the Oregon City Courier. The Union Wilson club adds a second contribution and there are small offerings from various sources.

A lot of people in Oregon have joined the Wilson fund. Only a few counties remain with small showings. A great deal of the money handled by The Journal has come from dollar contributors.

It is Woodrow Wilson's way of keeping his candidacy free from entanglements with crooked business and corrupt politics. The dollar and the other contributions from plain people are the backing to strengthen him to refuse, when plutocracy and privilege knock at the White House for special favors. His candidacy grows stronger and stronger every day.
