

WOMEN MAY TURN GRANTS PASS DRY; HUNDREDS TO VOTE

Mayorality Issue Between R. G. Smith and C. L. Hobart Is Principal Issue; Liquor Men Are Fighting Smith.

(Special to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., Nov. 29.—An extra force of clerks has been employed at the city hall the last few days registering the newly enfranchised women who will participate in the municipal election here on December 2. Four hundred and 72 had registered up to last Saturday night and the number is now nearly 500. There are approximately 1000 women in Grants Pass who can qualify, and it is likely that nearly all of them will have their names on the books by Friday night when they close till after election.

Grants Pass has been dry for the past four years, but at the late local option election the vote was won by a majority of 21 votes, and it is because of this fact that the city election is arousing more than ordinary interest on the part of the women voters, the control of the saloons under the license system being the contested point. At its last session passed a stringent ordinance for the regulation of the liquor business, Mayor Robert G. Smith, who is a candidate to succeed himself, being instrumental in shaping the provisions of the new law. Under this ordinance the license fee is placed at $1200, saloons are prohibited from having any other than a front opening, can have no chairs, tables, pictures, phonographs or other furniture or ornaments within them, and must close at 10:30 at night. Because of his activity in prosecuting the "blind-piggers" during the past year, and now through the enactment of this ordinance, Mayor Smith has gained the enmity of the liquor interests, and they are making a determined fight on him.

The principal opponent of Mayor Smith for the office is C. L. Hobart, president of the Commercial club. Mr. Hobart has endorsed the new ordinance, and will support its provisions if elected, but the issue is strongly divided between the two men, about whom the battle will center. The most of the churches are supporting Smith, and he was endorsed from several pulpits Sunday. A third candidate, Thomas F. Hanley, is also in the field for mayor, having been nominated by the Socialists, who named a complete city ticket. There are contests in each of the four city wards for councilmen, but these are largely lost to view in the mayorality election.

DRYS SPENT BIG SUM IN STATE CAMPAIGN

Salem, Or., Nov. 29.—The Prohibition party spent $12,476.71 in the recent state campaign, according to an expense statement filed by the treasurer of the party's central committee.

The Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association spent $1704. The Clackamas Anti-Division League spent $341.44. Hugh McLain, treasurer of the Coos county Democratic committee spent $174.50. John D. Mickle, successful candidate for dairy and food commissioner, spent $117.25. C. E. B. Wood spent in behalf of the Democratic party $22.50. It cost Gale S. Hill successful candidate for district attorney for the Third district, $147.90 to conduct his campaign. Lester J. Aker, Democratic candidate for district attorney in the Ninth district, spent $290. W. H. Brock, the Republican candidate for the same office, spent $196.80. McKinley Mitchell, step-Republican elector, spent $22.50.

NEW FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS SWORN IN

The new federal grand jury was sworn in Monday afternoon and began active service yesterday. Of the venire chosen two were women. A number of the venire were dead. One man, who had been a resident of Portland for 40 years and who had never served on a jury before, was excused because of sickness and after the sitting was complete, just enough were left for a panel. The jury consists of the following men: Charles H. Page, Portland; O. C. Bancroft, Portland; Samuel S. Dallas, Gales Creek; J. E. Dignam, Portland; A. G. Dix, Portland; J. L. Durfield, Portland; Roy W. Gibbs, Portland; L. A. Jacobson, Portland; Philip S. Matthews, Portland; J. E. L. Mayhew, Lents; Captain George Pope, Portland; J. W. E. Rawlinson, Portland; L. L. Ray, Portland; Fred Rosdome, Clackamas; R. L. Sampson, Hillsdale; R. S. Shelley, Portland; James Short, Portland; T. A. Taylor, Portland; Axel Wallen, Gresham; F. Westenfelder, Portland. This jury will serve off and on until March.

Portland, Or., Nov. 19.—To the Editor of The Journal—Indeed, Oregon is a fine place to raise children, but little Lyle Marcelle Simpson, whose picture appears in Sunday's Journal, is not in it when compared with my lad of not 14 months. Enclosed you will find a picture, taken the day he was 13 months. He weighed 32 pounds and measured 44 1/2 inches; his build is perfect.

COTTAGE GROVE SLIGHTS WOMEN FOR COUNCIL

Cottage Grove, Or., Nov. 20.—The nomination of one or two women for city offices, which was expected to happen at the convention Monday night to name candidates for the city election, did not take place. One woman was prominently mentioned for mayor, but her nomination was not made. It is estimated that 75 women took part in the convention.

The following ticket was named: Mayor, J. H. Chambers; treasurer, Herbert Eakin; recorder, J. E. Young; aldermen, First ward, C. W. Wallace and A. L. Woodward; alderman, Second ward, R. E. Walker; alderman, Third ward, T. C. Wheeler.

ALBANY COLLEGE STARTS CAMPAIGN

Sea Food Dinner Opens Aggressive Movement for $250,000 Endowment.

(Special to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Nov. 29.—The Greater Albany College sea food dinner, which was held at the Armory here Monday night, proved to be a success of the most pronounced type, the attendance, menu and speakers being excellent and the enthusiasm of the highest order.

The dinner consisted of products of the sea, commencing with steamed clam soup, which was followed by baked salmon, cracked crab, crab salad and all the necessary trimmings, served by the young women of the city under the general management of an entertainment committee composed of three wives of directors, Mrs. J. H. Ralston, Mrs. John A. Shaw and Mrs. William Fortmiller; three members of the faculty, Miss Elizabeth Irvine, Mrs. F. G. Franklin and Mrs. Hans Flo, and three members of the alumni, Mrs. R. C. Hunt, Mrs. J. LeRoy Wood and Miss Flora Mason. Carl E. Sox, Albany '91, acted as toastmaster, and introduced Postmaster J. S. Van Winkle first. Van Winkle is also president of the Commercial club, and he spoke of the value of Albany college as a commercial asset to Albany, drawing from that the logical deduction that Albany people should be generous in responding to the call for an endowment fund that will place Albany college in the quarter million class.

President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, followed with an excellent talk on the genuine natural advantages of Albany as a place for a college. B. F. Irvine, of The Oregon Journal, spoke on the larger views of the subject. F. A. Young, of the class of '91, and President H. M. Crooks closed the program.

Big Salmon Catches By Hook.

(Special to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., Nov. 20.—The winter run of steelhead trout and silverside salmon is now on in the Rogue, and some big catches are being made. Yesterday Rallie and Ross Plumley and John Banfield, fishing from a boat on the long riffle below the Golden Drift dam, caught 55 of the fish, the total weight of the catch being over 200 pounds. Fishing with rod and line is permitted at all seasons of the year in the Rogue, but no other mode of taking fish is legal.

Kessler Challenges The Trade

W.H.McBRAYER'S CEDAR BROOK 2,956,944 (Bottles) Bottled in Bond 1911

I CONTINUE (with no denials) to CHALLENGE each and all the Distillers of bottled in bond whiskies, including all largely advertised, popular brands made in Kentucky, Maryland, Pennsylvania and all over the U. S.—that they cannot show proof that their combined bottling equaled, or even approached our last year's record on 7 to 8 year old Wm. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook: 2,956,944 (bottles) bottled in bond in 1911.

Most of their whiskies are bottled in bond immediately after only 4 years old, or just within the U. S. Law Limit. They can't deny that either. The stamps over their bottles proves that.

On this showing, having bottled in bond more 7 to 8 year old Cedar Brook Whiskey in our one Kentucky Distillery last year than all other brands put together, it is therefore The Oldest and Best Quality on the market, which has always made it the biggest seller and will continue to do so. Bar None!
