

80,000 DEER ROAM OREGON MOUNTAIN MEADOWS; 930 ELK

Labor Commissioner Hoff includes in His Biennial Report a Census of the Big Game of State by Counties.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Nov. 20.—There are 930 elk and 80,000 deer in the state of Oregon, according to figures compiled by Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff for his biennial report.

It is estimated that Clatsop, Lincoln, Union and Curry counties each have 100 elk, while Columbia has 80, Tillamook 75, Lane 70, Grant, Baker and Umatilla 50 each, Wallowa 45, Douglas 25, Linn, Yamhill, Clackamas and Wasco 15 each, Jackson and Washington 10 each, Harney 5 and Klamath 2.

Forest rangers and game wardens place the number of deer in the state at 80,000, scattered as follows: Curry 15,000, Douglas 10,000, Coos 9,000, Jackson 7,000, Lane 5,000, Josephine 5,000, Klamath 3,500, Yamhill 2,700, Union 2,500, Harney 2,000, Polk 2,000, Crook 1,500, Lake 1,500, Grant 1,500, Linn 1,500, Benton 1,000, Umatilla 1,000, Wallowa 1,000, Baker 1,000, Tillamook 1,000, Lincoln 1,000.

Mountain sheep are found in a few counties, Grant being credited with 5, Harney with 10, Baker with 50, Wallowa with 90.

The counties in which bear abound are as follows: Lane, Douglas, and Curry counties, 4,000 each; Union, 1,600; Columbia, Grant, Jackson and Lincoln, 1,000 each; Tillamook, 750; Clatsop, 700; Coos and Josephine, 500 each; Washington, 400; Klamath, Linn and Yamhill, 300 each; Baker and Crook, 250 each; Lake, 200; Wallowa, 150; Morrow, Clackamas and Umatilla, 100 each; Benton, Wasco and Wheeler, 50 each; Harney, 40. Antelope are found in six counties, Malheur containing 2,000, Lake 1,500, Harney 1,000, Crook 90, Wasco 20, Grant 15.

Wreck of Sloop Condor on Yaquina

The Condor was valued at $4000 and carried 65 tons of cargo.

Newport, Or., Nov. 20.—Gasoline sloop Condor, with ugly holes in her hull, lies fast in the sand on the north shore just inside the jetty entrance to Yaquina Bay, and is given up as practically lost by her owners.

The Condor had been lying at the dock here for the past two weeks waiting for an opportunity to cross in over the Alsea bar at Waldport, where her cargo of 65 tons of general merchandise was destined, which she had thought down from Portland. She crossed out Saturday and made an effort to enter Alsea, but the bar was too rough and she lay off shore until Sunday morning, when she put in over the Yaquina Bay bar. She had crossed the bar and was just entering the bay when she lost her propeller, rendering her helpless, and she was washed up against the rocks on the north jetty with great force. Great holes were torn in her side, she lost both masts and rapidly filled with water.

The life saving crew reached the vessel within 25 minutes after the accident and the crew of three was rescued without difficulty. She continued to float, however, inside the jetty, until she was beached.

The Condor was one of the oldest vessels that has been plying into this harbor. She was owned by the Waldport Lumber company, August Flecher of Corvallis holding the largest individual amount of shares. She was valued at $4000.

O. A. C. SHOWS WAY TO TEST SOILS AS TO THEIR ADAPTABILITY

Exhibit at Land Show Draws Crowds of Those Interested in Experiments Made at the Oregon Institution.

Farmers, orchardists and stock raisers are deeply interested in the display of the many types of Oregon soils made by the Oregon Agricultural college's department of agronomy at the land show. Not only every soil in the state from the lightest sand loam to the heaviest clay soil is shown, but information is given as to just what each soil is best adapted for.

All the highly technical information about soil properties is being simply explained. A number of experiments are being carried on, including percolation, mulching, leaching and other soil improvement methods.

As interesting is the seed testing laboratory of the government which was moved to Portland from the college for the land show week. This shows how seeds are tested for purity and germination powers. By another demonstration the amount of impurity frequently found in commercial seeds is demonstrated and ways of knowing when seeds are good are shown.

The Agricultural college exhibit is on the basement floor. Every student of better farming who attends the land show is drawn toward it. There are included in the exhibit explanations of the valuable extension and demonstration work being done by the college throughout the state, and indicating how crops are improved, livestock grown and homes built where better methods are adopted. From Crook county dry and irrigated land demonstration farms have come some unusually fine exhibits of corn and potatoes.

ROSEBURG COUNCIL REPLIES TO WEST

Resolution Invites Governor to Try Cases in Court, Not in Newspapers.

(Special to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Nov. 20.—The city council of Roseburg, believing Mayor Micell to be an efficient mayor and that he is enforcing such laws as are within his power, unanimously passed the following resolution at the regular meeting Monday night:

"Whereas, Governor Oswald West has repeatedly stated in the last few weeks through the newspapers in substance and effect that the mayor, and incidentally the other officers of the city of Roseburg, have failed and neglected to perform the duty enjoined upon them by law, and that it has become necessary for him to use the authority that he assumes is vested in him to clean up the town and compel the county and city officers to perform the duties required of them; and

"Whereas, these statements published broadcast throughout the country, emanating from the governor of the state, are calculated to do in fact injure the good name and business of the city, and cause people residing elsewhere to gather the impression that Roseburg is lawless and immoral, and an unfit place for the homes of law-abiding, self-respecting people, a place where the officers fail to perform their duty, and wink at and approve violation of the law; and

"Whereas, in truth and in fact, Roseburg is a law-abiding and well governed as any city in the state, and violators of the law are as speedily and as severely punished as elsewhere in the state, and the statements made by the governor to the contrary are a slander upon the city of Roseburg and its officers; therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the common council of the city of Roseburg, duly assembled, that Governor West be, and hereby is requested to try any criminal or civil actions he may have against the officers or inhabitants of the city of Roseburg in the court and not through the papers, and that the recorder of the city be and hereby is instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution, attested by the seal of the city, to Governor Oswald West at Salem, Or."

LITTLE FALLS MARSHAL SLUGGED AT MIDNIGHT

(Special to The Journal.)
Little Falls, Wash., Nov. 20.—Town Marshal George Pumphrey was assaulted by an unknown person at midnight Saturday night as he was rounding the corner of Sixth and A streets. His assailant dealt him a blow on the right cheek with some heavy object, which knocked him into the gutter, rendering him unconscious for a minute. Owing to the intense darkness the marshal was unable, after regaining consciousness, to ascertain his assailant.

It is thought the person may have been looking for money, or that he was trying to do away with the marshal for his active efforts to run to earth the criminal who stabbed Rev. Mr. Simpson, pastor of the Evangelical church at this place, on the night of November 2.

GAS COMPANY OFFERS $750 FOR $15,000 BILL

The dredging back of Sand Island which the Port commission authorized Manager Talbot to offer to do for the United States government is for a channel way to Fort Canby improvements and involves the moving of 2,000,000 yards of the river bed. This at the proposed price of 5 1/2 cents, amounts to $110,000.

The fill made for the Portland Gas & Coke company in front of their property opposite St. Johns, measures about 780,000 yards. The port's bill for this was $15,000, amounting to about 2 cents per yard. The gas company resists payment, claiming the fill was made partly at the convenience of the port as a place to deposit dredgings and offers to pay $750.

SAYS OIL MEN ARE PROTECTED

Texas Claims Attorney General Wickersham Will Not Let Them Be Arrested.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Nov. 20.—Charges that Attorney General G. W. Wickersham is protecting John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, from arrest on a federal indictment returned in Texas were made here today by Attorney W. H. Gray of Houston. The Texan conferred with Wickersham regarding the indictment, which charges Archbold with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"If a poor devil of a congressman or a 'moguls' had been indicted," said Gray, "he would have been 'plucked.' But in this case, where the powerful Standard Oil company is concerned, Wickersham steps in and says: 'I understand the evidence is not sufficient to convict,' and directs that the warrant be not served on Archbold."

"It strikes me that the Texas federal grand jury, and not Wickersham, should determine whether the evidence is sufficient or insufficient. The grand jury and a United States district attorney in Texas thought it sufficient. Wickersham's action amounts to a trial of the case by the department of justice and not by a court."

BURIED DEED UNEARTHED BY PORKER, NOW MAN AFRAID OF SCHEMERS IS GLAD TO SELL

(Special to The Journal.)
White Salmon, Wash., Nov. 20.—Charles Frick, who pushed his goods in a wheelbarrow out to a five acre tract on the White Salmon river three years ago, has sold his land to the Northwestern Electric company for $1600 and gone back to Germany to live.

When the Northwestern right of way buyers began picking up land along the river Frick became so fearful that some one would get his name to a deed that he buried his deed, some other papers and money in a hole back of his cabin and fled from the country in the dead of night. He went to British Columbia, returning to Portland in the summer, where he recognized a White Salmon rancher named Murphy, thought he was after his land and immediately left for Eureka, Cal., where he found employment.

A few weeks ago he returned to White Salmon and the first man he saw was Murphy. Frightened, he hurriedly left the station and detoured through the woods back of Underwood, approaching his cabin from the west bank of the river. The Northwestern had ploughed a way for its pipe line through his place, and someone had been digging his place, apparently in search of his treasure box. He, himself, could not find it and became almost crazy, believing it had been stolen and that now his wife, who had left him some years ago, would at last "get his land from him."

What took him to a pile of refuse which some hogs were rooting over is not certain, but one of the things which a porker had nosed out was a rusty old can. It made Frick's heart beat as fast as when the bases are full, two men out and two strikes and three balls called, for it was the can which he had buried. The contents were uninjured.

Frick says it cost him $800 to flee from the country and keep himself from being found. He finally concluded to sell, and though the company had offered $1500 for only a 20 foot strip, he let someone purporting to be a representative of the company have the whole tract for $1600, immediately leaving for Germany, where he said people are not such schemers.

PRISONER IS CAUGHT CRAWLING FROM JAIL

(Special to The Journal.)
Corvallis, Or., Nov. 20.—A prisoner at the Benton county jail, whose name is Reynolds and is said to be an escaped convict from a Canadian penitentiary, tried to make an escape from the county jail yesterday morning. Discovery by County Clerk E. J. Newton prevented the getaway.

Reynolds during the daytime has been allowed the freedom of the corridor. This morning he battered bricks loose in the wall and with a knife left with his breakfast pried out the loosened bricks and soon had a hole large enough to crawl through. The county clerk saw the prisoner as he was attempting to crawl through and called to Justice of the Peace Lane, who stopped him.

Reynolds was sent up in Canada for 10 years for highway robbery, but made his escape and was arrested here a few days ago for the Canadian officials. He is fighting extradition.
