TONIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS

HELLAS—Lambert Grand Opera Co. in "Salome."
BAKER—The Baker Players in "Seven Sisters."
L'AMIC—Kating & L'ood Musical Comedy company in "The Heartbreakers."

Weather Conditions.
Portland vicinity: Rain tonight or Friday. Southerly winds.
Oregon and Washington: Rain or snow tonight or Friday. Southerly winds.

Stolen Goods Restored—The efforts of the shoplifters who were recently sentenced to a year in the penitentiary and paroled by Circuit Judge Gantenbein to return the stolen property to the original owners are slowly bringing results and the greater part of the goods as the list of goods stolen is lengthy and the identification marks have been removed from the greater portion. The men and women who were sentenced are Henry Rohs, Fredrika Rohs, Gus Heinrich and Bertha Heinrich, Mrs. Rohs was found guilty and the others pleaded guilty. Emma Gaisiek, the other defendant, turned state's evidence and the indictment against her was dropped. The reason for the clemency shown was the fact that the men and women are parents of large families of minor children.

Made in Oregon Special—Chief Brown, East Third and East Morrison, are offering rare bargains in household furniture this week. It will pay those visiting the Land Show to walk two blocks east on Morrison and save real dollars. $20 library tables, $14.95; $37.50 bedavenport (imitation Spanish leather, $27.50); $14 chairs, $10.55; $15.50 rockers, $12.50; $21 rockers, $14.50; beautiful five piece white enameled bed room set, $35. For the balance of the week we will also offer bed room furniture from the famous Emory line, Jamestown, N. M., values from $34 to $42; $20; values from $23 to $34, $17.50; values from $18.75 to $28, $15. Don't fail to see our window display; walk two blocks east on Morrison from the Land Show, corner East Third, Chief Brown.

St. Johns to Celebrate With Musicians—The music loving population of the Peninsula is looking forward with eagerness to the big event scheduled for the evening of Thanksgiving. An agreement has been made by which the great baritone soloist Bergen will stop here on his tour of the west, and will appear for one night at the St. Johns High School auditorium. With him are coming six distinguished fellow entertainers, Hans Dreschel, violinist; Carl Machill, pianist; and Leon Marx, violinist. Judging from their popularity elsewhere, this company surely will eclipse any of the entertainments held here lately. St. Johns, although a small place, gets her share of good things.

Wanted in British Columbia—Complaint was lodged before United States Commissioner Cannon Tuesday by William J. Carroll, deputy warden of the provincial prison of British Columbia at Westchester, Washington. Carroll, who is now lodged in the Corvallis city jail, White escaped from the Canadian prison November 29 last year, and has been at large since that time. He was sent to prison for 70 years after committing a robbery. Trouble between the former warden and Mrs. Bragdon has existed for several weeks, starting when she preferred charges against him for abusive language. On the morning of the fire, three shots were fired through her bedroom window, which shots awakened her and saved the life of herself and children.

Former Patrolman Arrested—G. S. Bennett, former patrolman who was recently discharged, was arrested Thursday upon complaint of Mrs. D. Bragdon for setting fire to her home at the foot of Corbett street on the morning of October 2. Bennett waived preliminary hearing yesterday in the municipal court, asking to go before the grand jury. Trouble between the former patrolman and Mrs. Bragdon has existed for several weeks, starting when she preferred charges against him for abusive language. On the morning of the fire, three shots were fired through her bedroom window, which shots awakened her and saved the life of herself and children.

A Day Nursery, under the management of the Fruit and Flower Mission, will be opened at 44 Union ave., north, Monday, Nov. 25. Children of working mothers cared for at 10c per day. West side day nursery at 231 12th street.

Bishop Scadding to Lecture—"Oregon, the Land of Enchantment," is the title of a lecture which Bishop Scadding will deliver tonight at Ascension chapel, Nineteenth and Spring streets, Portland Heights, for the benefit of the Sunday school, which will be illustrated by 150 colored lantern slides many of them from photographs of various places in the state taken by the bishop when on his missionary journeys. Bishop Scadding believes in trying to reach people through the medium of the eye as well as the ear, and his pictures of the field in which he works, and his explanation of them, give a striking realization of the opportunity in Oregon to make religion keep pace with commercial growth.

Club Argument Ends in Row—Trouble in a Slavonian musical club on Everett street last night ended in an assault upon Professor Peter Grigillo, the leader, who signed a complaint this morning in the municipal court against John Celich, Michael Tomaszovich and Louis Tako. At the meeting, the members were discussing the advisability of changing the name of the organization, one faction also wishing to divide the club. This professor stood with the main wing of the club, urging harmony and consolidation of the factions. He says the three men pounced upon him, kicking him in the head, from which part of his scalp was torn, and badly bruised his shoulder. He lives at 226 North Sixteenth street.

Stabs Man Over Tools—In a fight at 7:30 o'clock this morning between C. Grammer and A. E. Mills, two colored men employed by the Oregon Independent Printing company, at Thirtieth and Hawthorne avenue, Grammer was given a severe stab in the abdomen. The man was taken to the St. Vincent hospital in the Red Cross ambulance, his injuries being pronounced serious. Mills escaped at the time, going to his home at Twelfth and Johnson, where he was caught at 10:30 o'clock by Detectives Tichenor and Abbot. He said the trouble started over tools both claimed.

Owing to the blockade on Morrison street, on account of the accident to the Mt. Tebor and Sunnyside cars will run around the loop on Third and Yamhill streets. The Montgomery cars will operate between Sixteenth and Montgomery and Seventh and Morrison streets. The Willamette Eight cars will run south back at Seventh and Morrison. The Portland Heights cars will run to the depot and take care of the depot passengers that were previously handled by the Willamette Heights cars. P. R. L. & P. C.

His Troubles Legion—Dr. Abe Frank Neuwsky is having trouble attempting to renounce his allegiance to Czar Nicholas and become an American citizen and his troubles are proving expensive. For the second time he has taken out his first citizenship papers. Applications for his second papers only to be refused because he has failed to comply with the rules and regulations. Should he gain his naturalization this time his efforts will have cost him $14.

10095 Damages Allowed—Damages of $1095 were awarded Axel Person in a sealed verdict returned in Circuit Judge Gates' court yesterday against the Seattle Dock company and the Riverside Portland Cement company. Person sued for $10,000 on account of a fire which resulted in a 1800 pound load of cement struck him, injuring his back. The remarkable recovery of the man saved the defendants from a heavier verdict, as Person is practically well again.

Says Husband Choked Her—Charging that her husband, Michael Glenn, broke the family dishes when mad, choked her until she became black in the face, threw potatoes at her and treated her cruelly and inhumanly, Alice Glenn asks to be freed by divorce in a complaint filed in the circuit court. Glenn also asks the custody of a 2-year-old boy, her maiden name, Alice Durst, and $15 a month alimony. The Glens were married in this city on May 25, 1909.

Explain Garnishments—Three dozen employes of the city appeared before the ways and means committee of the council yesterday to explain why their last month's salaries were garnished. One explanation was all the committee cared to listen to. "It looks like we will have to hear a lot of hard luck stories," said Councilman Maguire. "I think the proper way to prevent garnishments is to establish a city loan fund for the benefit of needy employes."

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has sold this day, November 21, 1912, all his real estate, and all interests therein with connected, at 281 Washington street, corner Fourth, in Portland, Ore., to Jacob Hahn. All persons having claims against the undersigned in connection with said business, are hereby requested to present the same at said place within five days from the date hereof, November 21, 1912. C. D. Elder.

Excitement Over War News Causes Fire—War news from their fatherland kept a number of Greek laborers up late last night at 239 Dwyer street, where they were reading and translating the latest reports. Shortly after midnight, one of the men became so excited he kicked over a kerosene lamp, which exploded, causing a fire. The men formed a bucket brigade, putting out the flame before the department arrived.

Fined for Speeding—While fines of $25 were given E. L. Channess and Lawrence Henry for speeding, the same amount was not required of E. P. Preble yesterday in the municipal court. A fine of $25 was also given Paul J. Feely for a similar charge. Testimony of the two motorcycle officers was that all four men were greatly exceeding the speed limit. Channess and Henry are drivers, while Preble is the owner of a car.

Workman Gets $5000 Damages—Because of injuries received from a 60-foot fall on the new railroad bridge last May, Karl H. Boeckel, a structural iron worker, was awarded $5000 damages against Robert Wakefield, the contractor who employed him, by a jury in Circuit Judge Kavanaugh's court yesterday. The damages asked were $25,000. Several hours of deliberation were spent by the jury.

Mamas to Take Moonlight Walk—The Mamas will walk by moonlight on Saturday evening. They leave the head of Washington street on the King's Heights car, at 7:30 p. m., and go to Mt. Calvary cemetery, whence they walk out to the high promontory called "Blasted Hill." After a stop here they will continue on to the Cornell road and return by the latter to the city. The walk is about five miles.

Gets Damages for Auto Crash—Damages amounting to $2000 were awarded to Nannie Allbritten against the United Railways company on account of injuries received when an automobile in which she was a passenger was struck by a car belonging to the company at Twenty-second and Savier streets December 28, 1911. She asked $25,000. The case was tried before Circuit Judge McGinn.

Woman, Put Off Train, Sues—Claiming that she was carried beyond her destination, Shalaps Station, late on the night of October 14, was forcibly ejected from an Oregon Electric train because she refused to pay fare to Eugene and demanded that she be taken back to her station. Esther C. Pewtherer has started suit for $10,000 damages against the Oregon Electric Railway company in the circuit court. The complaint states that the woman presented a communication book as fare, and enough was removed to pay her fare to her station; that the train failed to stop, and that she arrived back at the station at 5 o'clock the next morning. She says she was forced to wait at the station until it became light enough to go home.

Rigo in Trouble Again—The troubles of Jack Rigo, gypsy violinist, are many. Arrested in connection with the scandalous case of the juvenile court he lost his job and spent some time a disgraced inmate of the county jail. When he was released because the evidence against him was insufficient to convict he was overjoyed. Now he is again in trouble, as the Ames Mercantile Agency has started suit to recover $3000, the unpaid balance of $1839.45 loaned him since July 1 by Theodor Kruse, his former employer. Two of Rigo's violins have been attached.

Sues for $10,000—A suit for $10,000 has been filed in the circuit court by Catherine Dugan as guardian of 14-year-old Hughie Dugan against William Westberg on account of injuries received by the lad when shot twice, once in the leg and once in the arm. The complaint alleges that the shooting was done by Westberg at Linnton on October 21 while under the influence of liquor.

Starts $3000 Damage Suit—Claiming she was permanently injured when shocked by electricity in an automatic elevator in the Hotel Leonce at Seattle, Caroline E. Casey has started suit in the circuit court against Carl B. Webb, lessee of the hotel for $3000 damages. The shocking accident occurred October 9, 1910.

Isn't it a Mystery?—Don't it beat all, how the big clothing stores can knock half and a quarter off their prices and at the same time pay the big rents and huge running expenses. My rent for two stores is only $75 a month. Jimmy Dunn, room 315 Oregonian bldg.; also Majestic Theatre bldg.

Schlussel Sues for $50,000—Damages of $50,000 are claimed by Mark Schlussel because he was sent to the insane asylum on September 11 and kept there 11 days. He has filed suit for that amount in the circuit court against Drs. S. E. Joseph, B. F. Smith and E. D. Johnson, alienists, who examined him and declared him insane. Schlussel declares he was never insane and that $10,000 of the amount asked represents loss of business.
