

MAY CRIPPLE WATER WORKS

Hood River Already Has Spent One-Fifth of Its $90,000 Fund.

(Special to The Journal.)
Hood River, Or., Nov. 22.—That the city of Hood River must put in the municipal water system with the limit of $90,000, as was voted by the citizens of Hood River, is the mandate of the city council. While engineers have submitted estimates far in excess of the amount available, the council has ordered the city engineer to change the plans so as to bring it within the amount voted by the people. In view of the fact that $18,000 has been spent in law suits, right of ways, and other such matters, the city will have only $72,000 with which to bring in the Tucker spring, a distance of nine miles.

FINED HEAVILY FOR SELLING INDIAN LIQUOR

That the government is not going to allow its Indians to be filled up with whiskey when they come to Portland to testify on official business, was intimated yesterday when Judge Bean, in the United States district court, assessed Clinton Tuttle, a Madison street bartender, the stiff sentence of 60 days in jail and a fine of $100. This came on top of the fact that Tuttle pleaded guilty to the charge. Away last spring Henry Wilson, a Klamath Indian, came to Portland as a government witness. Henry went out the first day and imbibed so freely that he was of no service to the federal officers for several days afterward.

The practice of selling liquor to the Indians has become so bad lately that the government prosecutors and others who have business with them when they come to Portland have to keep a never ending watch on them while they are in the city. Once they get away from the federal building too far, they are gone.

BOW MAKER TAKES LONG JOURNEY FOR YEW WOOD

(Special to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., Nov. 22.—Captain F. S. Barnes, the bow maker, has just returned to his home in this city, after a trip into the Cascade mountains after yew wood, which is used in the manufacture of the bows. The trip into the mountains is one that would tax the endurance and staying powers of a young man, but Captain Barnes, though past three score years and ten, stood the trip well. This will probably be the last trip the captain will ever make for yew wood, as he now has a supply that will last him during his remaining working years.

The bows made by Captain Barnes are used the world over by lovers of archery, and he is constantly receiving orders for bows from disciples of Robin Hood from all parts of this country and abroad.

Effect of Great Kidney Remedy Is Soon Realized

I feel it my duty to let you know what Swamp-Root did for me. I was bothered with my back for over twenty years and at times I could hardly get out of bed. I read your advertisement and decided to try Swamp-Root. Used five bottles, and it has been five years since I used it, and I have never been bothered a day since I took the last bottle of it. I am thoroughly convinced that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root cured me and would recommend it to others suffering as I did.

My husband was troubled with kidney and bladder troubles and he took your Swamp-Root and it cured him. This was about five years ago.

You may publish this letter if you choose.

Very truly yours,

MRS. MATTIE CAMPFIELD,

R. F. D. No. 3 Gobleville, Mich.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 13th of July, 1909.

John Grussel, real estate-dealer and former deputy sheriff under Tom M. Ward, would like to be United States marshal under the incoming Democratic administration. He is seeking endorsement of Portland Democrats for the position.

Floss Crabough of Castle Rock, Wash., would like to be a fish warden on the lower Columbia or a deputy at the Washington state penitentiary under Governor Lister of Washington. During the campaign he obtained a quantity of literature from the Oregon state headquarters and gave much of his time to the Wilson campaign in the Columbia river counties on the Washington side.

WOMEN WILL GET TO REGISTER IN MARCH

Letters are being sent out by County Clerk Fields to all voters who were found to have been registered in the wrong precincts advising them to call at his office to sign the registration books properly. Many were signed up in wrong precincts through inadvertence, and these must change their registration to avoid further trouble at the city election next June.

Registration books for that election will open March 16, 1913, and will close April 15. At that time all of the new women voters may register, all who are not registered at present must register and all changes of address must be noted.
