

ORTIE CONCLUDES TESTIMONY; STORY STANDS UNSHAKEN

Rumor That Three of Defendants May Be Released by Court's Order for Lack of Evidence.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Nov. 27.—Ortie E. McManigal will leave the stand probably late this afternoon, his cross-examination ended with his story of alleged countrywide dynamiting practically unshaken. Ortie's answers to the questions propounded by Senator John W. Kern, chief counsel for the union men on trial here for illegally transporting dynamite, have been sharp and clear. Efforts to confuse the witness have failed. "I did not care when I was arrested," said McManigal today. "You see I had been expecting arrest at any time. I commenced to feel indifferent to arrest after the Times building at Los Angeles was dynamited." It was rumored today that indictments against three of the union men on trial would be quashed by United States Judge Anderson on the ground that no evidence against them had been produced. The defendants mentioned in the report are S. P. Meadows of Indianapolis, secretary treasurer of the Marion County Trades council; William K. Benson of Detroit, president of the Detroit Federation of Labor; and Milton H. Davis of Philadelphia, a former member of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers. Senator John W. Kern, counsel for the defense, announced today that he probably will continue as counsel until the case is finished. This indicates that Senator Kern will not attend the opening of congress in December.

SUSPECT TAILOR OF MURDERING MOTHER

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Suspected by the police of murdering his aged mother, Mrs. Lena Jones, here yesterday, Joseph Jones, a tailor, was subjected to "the third degree" today. No confession was obtained. "I didn't kill my mother," insisted Jones. "It is true that I quarreled frequently about her property, valued at $20,000, because she would not improve it, but the thought of murder never entered my mind." Investigation showed Mrs. Jones' living room littered with her belongings. The son's property was untouched. Costly trinkets scattered about the place convinced the police that robbery was not the motive of the crime. One of the most important factors in the case, the police say, is the disappearance of the aged woman's will. A charred paper was found in the kitchen and the police believe it to be the missing will.

BOY KILLS MAN WHO ELOPED WITH MOTHER

(United Press Leased Wire.) Marion, Ohio, Nov. 27.—Vito Benedetto, a 14-year-old boy, stabbed to death Antonio Stephano for eloping with his mother and is in jail here today. The mother also was taken into custody. Fire on Board Walk. Atlantic City N. J. Nov. 27.—Fire which broke out on the board walk today destroyed more than half a block and caused damage to the extent of $50,000.

J. N. TEAL GETS ENDORSEMENT

Chamber of Commerce Trustees Take Action Setting Usual Custom Aside.

The board of trustees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce this morning unanimously passed resolutions endorsing J. N. Teal for appointment to the office of secretary of the interior. The resolutions will be forwarded to President-elect Woodrow Wilson at once. The chamber has also requested the associated chambers of commerce of the Pacific coast to give Mr. Teal its endorsement. This is the first time in the history of the chamber that resolutions endorsing a local candidate for a political office have been passed, as is explained in the drafted endorsement, as follows: "It is contrary to the established custom of this body to recommend any man for public office. The only exception to this precedent heretofore made was in the case of Franklin K. Lane, whose appointment to the interstate commerce commission was recommended by the united commercial bodies of the Pacific coast by reason of the admitted necessity for coast representation on the commission. "The Portland Chamber of Commerce feels that a like extraordinary condition has now arisen. The future welfare of the west region west of the Rocky mountains depends in great measure on the way in which the problems, now acute and pressing, of the right use and disposition, the development and conservation of the public lands and waters, and other natural resources, are dealt with. It is again generally admitted that the appointment to the cabinet position having most to do with these problems of a man from the states where they are most urgent is proper. "We believe that J. N. Teal is more competent, by reason of extensive and intimate acquaintance and experience with these questions, both in their physical aspects and in their legal and social conditions, and by reason of proved and extraordinary administrative ability, sound judgment and right mind-ness, than any other man in these states. "Therefore we most earnestly urge the appointment of J. N. Teal as secretary of the interior on behalf of Oregon and the west, and with a view to the welfare of the whole country and the success of the coming administration."

DENVER OFFICER ON WAY TO GET PRISONER

Local detective headquarters received word last night from Denver that an officer, armed with all necessary extradition papers, left Colorado last evening for Portland to return John E. Hudson, alias J. E. Ringling, to that place for prosecution on a charge of swindling a bank. Hudson is to be held in the jail until Friday, says Judge Zaavell of the municipal court, but if an officer is not here then he will be dismissed. The Baltimore officers have failed to call for the man whom they first asked to have held for them. Hudson takes the affair mildly, saying that if he is taken to Denver on the $500 check deal he will tell things that persons back of the prosecution do not wish told. The Denver officer is expected Thursday evening.

COOS WRECK DEATH LIST NOW 6; 7TH IS DYING

(Special to The Journal.) Marshfield, Or., Nov. 27.—Wicka Murks, employed at the McDonald-Vaughan logging camp, was struck by a falling tree and badly hurt. He has been brought to the hospital at North Bend. Fred Adkins, the sixth of the victims of the railroad wreck on the Bear creek logging road, is dead. Roll Anderson, the brakeman who crawled a mile to give the alarm of the wreck, cannot live. His death is expected at any time. "This will leave none of those on the train surviving."

PROSECUTORS CAN ENFORCE THE LAW

Those Who Say They Can't Incompetent or Not Straight, Says Gov. West.

(Special to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Nov. 27.—Governor Oswald West addressed a capacity audience at the opera house here last evening on the general subject of "Civic Righteousness and Law Enforcement," after he had been the guest of honor at a banquet given by the leaders of the law enforcement movement in this city earlier in the evening. He said it was difficult matter for the governor to secure enforcement of the laws of the state if the prosecuting attorneys and sheriffs did not cooperate with him in the work and that he was having a bill drafted for presentation at the next session of the legislature, having for its object the giving to the governor of power to remove from office, or at least suspend, officers who do not enforce the laws and giving him authority to appoint special prosecuting officers to do the work. Another bill he said was being worked on at the present time requires express companies to release all shipments of liquor not plainly labeled as to contents so that liquor cannot be shipped into dry territory in plain packages. He complimented the people of Albany for having handled their own problems without coming to the governor's office for help, as he said he had trouble of his own. He reiterated his former statements that he did not intend to run for governor again, and that he had no political fences to build and no one to shield in his efforts to enforce the laws of the state. In speaking of his labors throughout the state recently, he said: "The prosecuting attorneys of the state have the power to enforce the laws, and when they say they cannot do so they are either incompetent or crooked and should be removed." At the close of his address, L. E. Hamilton read a resolution of support of the governor's policies, which was unanimously adopted by a standing vote.

AUSTRIA REFUSES TO ARBITRATE HER SERVIAN DISPUTE

(Continued From Page One.) day by the Vorwaerts, a Socialist newspaper. The $40,000,000 entered in the new budget for the general finance administration, the newspaper says, "is really intended to pay for the enormous reserves, clothing and provisions for men and beasts which the army and navy has accumulated against the possible outbreak of war." The Vorwaerts says it reached its conclusion from what is already known of the current budget, pointing out that the increase in army and navy expenditures over that stated by the government is $11,500,000.

Recall Troops From Turkey.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—It is reported that Serbia has recalled practically all her troops from Turkey to resist an expected Austrian invasion. If the news is true this action will seriously affect Bulgaria and probably will force Czar Ferdinand to accept the sultan's terms of peace. The situation is regarded as favorable to Turkey.

Austrians Ordered Home.

Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, Nov. 27.—Orders to report to their regiments have been received here by Austro-Hungarian subjects, members of the army reserve corps. Funds with which to pay their fare to the Austrian frontier also accompanied the order. Similar orders were received by Hungarians and Austrians employed in German mining districts.

Adrianople Reported Burning.

Sofia, Nov. 27.—That the besieged town of Adrianople is burning, is the report here today. Fighting has been going on there since the negotiations for peace began.

TOMORROW LEGAL HOLIDAY; NO MAIL WILL BE DELIVERED

Acting Postmaster W. E. Williams has issued the following statement in regard to Thanksgiving day: "Thanksgiving, November 28, being a legal holiday, will be observed by this office as such. "There will be no delivery of mail by carrier or through the general delivery windows. All windows at the main office and at the stations will be closed during the entire day. "The regular holiday collections and discharges to and from the stations will be made." Only two other holidays of the year are as completely observed by the postoffice as this one. They are Memorial day and July Fourth. "With the exception of the sheriff's office and the county jail, the courthouse will be deserted tomorrow. The sheriff's office will be open only as much as is necessary to care for criminal work. The federal courts and the city hall will be closed."

TAKING EVIDENCE IN SUITS FOR DAMAGES

Three damage suits are being heard in the circuit courts today—Albertine H. Rugenstein vs. Henry J. Ottenheimer before Judge Gatens, for $520; John T. Gorcoran vs. the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, before Judge Kavanaugh, for $2500, and Perry Hannan vs. W. F. Scott, before Judge Gantenbein, for $500. Miss Rugenstein was struck by an auto belonging to Ottenheimer on Washington street, near Nineteenth, deluged by Albert J. Makon. Gorcoran was thrown while hanging to a strap in a Rose City Park car by the lurch of the car as it went along a temporary track. Hannan was knocked down by Scott's automobile as he was riding a bicycle down Washington street.

BIBLICAL QUOTATION USED IN COURT CASE

Biblical quotations entered into the proceedings of Circuit Judge McGinn's court yesterday, the quotations being from the old testament. The occasion of the words was a suit between two brothers, Volney and Leroy Cahill, sons of the late A. C. Cahill, over the distribution of the estate. The quotations were admissions to parents to be fair in dividing the goods of this world among their children and the children to be fair in their dealings with each other. In conclusion Judge McGinn gave the sons two weeks in which to come to an agreement. The property in question is worth approximately $5000. A. C. Cahill, several years ago made a contract with Leroy Cahill to give him the property of which he was possessed if the son kept him for the remainder of his life. Trouble arose later and the father broke the contract in a suit decided by Circuit Judge Kavanaugh, and gave the property to Volney Cahill. Meantime Leroy Cahill had spent money in the upkeep of the father and Judge Kavanaugh gave him a judgment for all so spent. Leroy Cahill heard his brother was about to sell the property and started suit to secure the amount of the judgment and to set aside the deed from his father to Volney Cahill that he might have an equal share of all remaining property.

Defendant Gets Verdict.

Judge R. S. Bean in the United States district court today dismissed the damage suit of James A. Harvey against the Hurley-Mason Construction company, with an instructed verdict from the jury in favor of the defendant company. Harvey, a bricklayer, was suing for $15,000 for injuries received when a sling in which he was working scrubbing the outside stone of the new Lipman-Wolfe company building broke. Harvey's suit confined all the blame to the construction company, and it was intimated by the judge that the plaintiff's action would have had a better chance for success had he included the architects in the suit.

THINKS PARTNER BEAR; KILLS HIM

Hunt Results in Death of Louis Carnahan, 25 Years Old, Near Kluckitkat.

(Special to The Journal.) Kluckitkat, Wash., Nov. 27.—Louis Carnahan was killed Sunday by his business partner, William H. Smith, through being mistaken for a cinnamon bear. Carnahan was 25 years old and one of the most popular young men in the Kluckitkat river country. "Lon" Carnahan, as he was best known, with his partner had made a remarkable showing on an uncleared 40 acre apple tract they had acquired from John Finch about a year ago. The scene of the tragedy was about seven miles up the river on the north side from this point. Over zeal on the part of the victim and a disregard to obey orders of the captain of the party caused the accident.

Bad Roads in the Country May Mean Life or Death

During the winter months the roads are impassable. The country doctor's fees are high because it takes him so long to make calls—and his own health is in danger. Good roads mean to the farmer and the town man what good streetcar service means to the city man—cheap and rapid transportation all the year around. Every breakdown, accident or injury to vehicle, beast or produce adds something to the high cost of living in the cities. Small, narrow-tired wagons, instead of big auto freight trucks, are now being used, and the cost of transportation is therefore more than double what it ought to be. Roads built on Portland cement concrete base provide hard, smooth surfaces—and therefore cheap and rapid transportation.

"Permanent Construction" is a book published for all who wish to know how to manufacture PORTLAND CEMENT CONCRETE, and how to lay it properly. Follow the directions in this book or see that your contractor does it, and you will be absolutely certain of permanent improvements which will not need to be replaced in your time. This book is mailed free.
