

BRYAN CAN HAVE JOB, SAYS MACK

Commoner Entitled to Cabinet Place if He Wants It, Says Former Chairman.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 San Francisco, Nov. 28.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the New York commission to select a site for the Empire state at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and former Democratic national chairman, declares that William J. Bryan will undoubtedly be a member of President-elect Wilson's cabinet if he will accept the position. Mack said that when he left New York there was a general feeling of approval of Wilson's announced intention to call a special session of congress to deal with the tariff.

"The tariff will be revised in accordance with the Baltimore platform," said Mack. "It is not possible to say where or in what particular it will be revised. It is the general feeling that a special session to deal with the question is a wise move in order that the revision may be completed expeditiously and the business men of the country may be relieved of their anxiety."

Mack said that New York's participation in the San Francisco exposition would be commensurate with the character of the enterprise. New York, he said, had appropriated $700,000 already to be expended for a building and exhibits, and that as much more money as is needed will be forthcoming.

SHRINEERS' BAND GIVES INITIAL PERFORMANCE

The newly organized band of El Kader temple, Myrtle Shrine, gave its initial concert in the auditorium of the Masonic temple last night before a large and enthusiastic audience. The concert was given for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of uniforms and a large fund to be applied along that line was received.

Consisting of over 20 members, the band rendered a program of orchestra and solo numbers. Of the former, the ones most liberally received were the "Lustspiel" (Keler-Bela); "The American Patrol" and the "Caliph of Bagdad" (Boleldou). A. A. Davidson, piccolo player in the band, sang two baritone selections. Two selections were given by a quartet consisting of Lou Gerlinger, first tenor; James Hislop, second tenor; A. E. Davidson, first bass and Gus Cramer, second bass. George Appleby gave two clarinet solos with the band accompanying him, and the director of the band, Dr. Emil Ema, gave several selections in addition to his highly satisfactory work as leader.

The first rehearsal of the band was held six weeks ago and no one was prepared for the splendid showing made by the shrine musicians. Most of the members of the band have had previous experience with organizations of the kind, and a first appearance had no terrors for them. One of the pleasing features was the dash and confidence which the band showed from the very start of the concert.

The band's second public appearance will be Saturday when it will accompany Portland Shrine and the Arab Patrol to Seattle, where a big three-day ceremonial is to be held.

DANCE HALL MEASURE NOT BEFORE COUNCIL

Opposition of Councilman James McGuire to an agreement made by the mayor with the O. W. R. & N. company failed to keep the necessary majority from voting to sustain the veto of the ordinance appropriating $10,300 from the general fund for the extension of Larabee street to the east approach of the new steel bridge. Under the agreement the railroad company will donate enough land for the extension of the street to the bridge approach provided that the route of the approach is planned so as not to cut off a corner of valuable railroad property.

Permission was granted the Orpheum theatre to use the Bungalow for a period of 90 days, the moving having been necessitated by the fact that the Marquam building is being torn down.

The ordinance providing that the mayor be made a member of the vice commission was indefinitely postponed. The dance hall ordinance did not come before the council on account of the fact that the members of the health and police committee did not sign the majority report recommending its passage.

An ordinance abolishing such perpetually musical organizations as the little German band was introduced in the council, but was quickly defeated. The measure provided that no playing of music could be indulged in by wandering musicians who gain their revenue by soliciting it from those who have been favored with the "music."

SEATTLE MERCHANTS AFTER FAKE ADVERTISING

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Seattle, Wash., Nov. 28.—Declaring that Seattle merchants are duped out of at least $100,000 a year by fakers, who solicit advertising for pamphlets and programs under the guise of getting money for charitable purposes, the Ad club of this city is pledged to lead a "show them up" campaign. Each merchant will be asked to sign an agreement not to give money or buy advertising from solicitors unless they show proper credentials.

EX-SENATOR JONES OF NEVADA IS DEAD AT 83

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—Former United States Senator John P. Jones is dead, after a long illness. He was 83 years old. Senator Jones was one of the leaders of the famous Comstock lode in Nevada, and was a prominent figure among the Argonauts of California. He served several terms in the United States senate, retiring to Santa Monica, where he has lived for 20 years.
