

DUAL PERSONALITY STRONGLY MARKED IN BOY'S SLAYER

Frank Hickey, Educated Man, Cannot Suppress Lust for Murder Despite His Remorse Following Crimes.

(Continued From Second Page.) Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Frank Hickey, 24-year-old murderer of two boys and a man, who acknowledges himself guilty of vicious assaults on at least a dozen other boys, is not a paranoiac. That much was admitted tonight by Dr. James W. Putnam, alienist, who, at the request of District Attorney Dudley, has had the prisoner under observation.

"Hickey has no delusions," declared Dr. Putnam. "However, I have reached no conclusions yet as to whether he is insane."

"Never in the history of modern crime in this country has the dual personality been exemplified to a greater degree than in the person of Hickey. His degeneracy is not a constitutional weakness; it is an acquired habit, fostered in the delirium of fear and grown to full strength in the frenzied fits of a lust induced by excessive alcoholism." Presents Strange Case.

"Obviously, with his record for killing and attacks on human life, Hickey should be a fiend in human form. He has not that appearance. On the contrary, he seems a contained and studious person, intellectually alert and very capable. That he has had charge of hundreds of workmen on a construction enterprise is clear evidence of special ability. In drink, his whole nature becomes changed and his impulse to kill is irresistible, he says."

statement to newspaper men at Buffalo today. Hickey elaborated on the killing of Edward Mowrey at Lowell, Mass., 20 years ago. He was 17 years old then, and a student in Lowell High school. He said he killed Mowrey by giving him a glass of whiskey with an overdose of salaridin in it to get rid of him. Hickey was employed in the drug store after school hours.

"For thirty years I have been haunted by the death scene in that little drug store," said Hickey. "I took to drink after that to get Mowrey out of my mind."

Killed Three Persons. Asked if there were any other killings on his conscience that those of Mowrey and the Josephs and Kruck boys, Hickey declared there were not.

"There were numerous instances when by the grace of God, the boys were not killed," he said. Hickey then related a long series of crimes.

District Attorney Dudley tonight stated that he had obtained the confession of Hickey in the killing of the Josephs boy, and also of the Kruck boy in New York in 1902, without coercion, promises or threats. Hickey related the harrowing details of his crimes without apparent emotion, but after he concluded and had attached his signature to the confession, he broke down and sobbed.

District Attorney Dudley will not make public the confession before the trial of Hickey, which, it is believed, will begin December 15. He will be arraigned before Justice Wheeler on Monday.

CRACKSMAN USED KID GLOVES IN SAFE JOB

New York, Nov. 30.—Cracksmen blew open the safe of Alexander "Dudnut" drug store, at 1020 Third avenue, and escaped with $450. The burglars left no clues, not even a finger print could be found.

Hudnut occupies the entire building, a five-story structure, and the offices of the concern, which also does a wholesale business, are located on the second floor. The cracksmen, the police believe, got into the building from the tenement at 1022. They climbed to the roof and then reached the roof of the Hudnut building by a short ladder. They forced the skylight and then descended to the second floor.

A hole about three quarters of an inch in diameter was drilled into the safe just above the combination. The police declare it to be one of the most complete jobs that has been done before the department for some time.

The manager of the store discovered the robbery. The police believe the robbers broke in shortly after the store was closed Sunday night and worked leisurely in blowing the safe. It was due to the length of time they had that the men were able to erase any clues that might have led to their discovery. It is believed by the police that they either wore gloves, or else where they touched the safe they were careful enough to wipe over with a cloth.

There were men on fixed posts at Third avenue and Fifty-ninth street and at Third avenue and Sixty-second street. The store is between Sixth and Sixty-first street, and there is a bright light in front of the store. Third avenue at this point is well lighted on both sides of the street.

The United States' new wireless law, aimed to prevent interference with official and commercial service, recognizes the experiment and permits him to be licensed without cost under certain restrictions.

"77" FOR GRIP & COLDS

It is known to every user of Dr. Humphreys' "Seventy-seven," that if taken at the first feelings of a cold, lassitude, weakness, chill or shiver, it will break up a cold. Ask your neighbor.

If you wait until you begin to cough and sneeze it may take longer.

"Seventy-seven" breaks up colds that hang on.

It pays to keep "Seventy-seven" handy.

Al Kader Temple of Portland Conspicuous Among Shriners at Seattle.

Portland Shriners from Al Kader Temple photographed as they were about to leave for Seattle.

(Special to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Nov. 30.—Members of Al Kader temple were conspicuously present tonight at the semi-annual ceremonial under the auspices of Nile temple, Seattle.

The Portland brethren arrived in their special car at 4:30 p. m., and were welcomed by a reception committee from Nile. Forming in line they marched to the Armory, where supper was served and preparations made for the evening festivities. En route from the depot the members of Al Kader made a fine appearance, the band of 25 pieces and

ORENCO CHILDREN ORGANIZE A FAIR

With Help of 50 Adult Members They Expect Fine 1913 Exhibition.

(Special to The Journal.) Orenco, Or., Nov. 30.—The Orenco School Children's Fair association was organized here last evening. B. W. Barnes, county superintendent-elect; Professor S. S. Duncan, superintendent of Yamhill county; W. T. Macey, president of the Yamhill School Fair association, and M. McDonald, president of the Oregon Nursery company, Orenco, were the speakers.

The executive committee of the new association is composed of Rev. L. M. Booser, W. J. Head, R. L. Wann, H. V. Meade and F. W. Power. Fifty adults have already joined and 50 of the school children. Much enthusiasm is shown and there is every promise of a splendid fair next year.

One half block south of school house will be planted in vegetables and all garden products, while a half block along the railroad track will be converted into a flower garden. The girls will have charge of the latter. The ground was donated for the use of the boys and girls by the Oregon Nursery company.

Committees were appointed on school gardens, poultry and pets, on-growing products for exhibit, domestic science and mechanical arts. In addition to these exhibits a committee will have complete charge of the fair and it is proposed to hold a large exhibit in the fall, and probably one during the summer to show the flowers.

In addition to this the Orenco Horticultural club, another uplift society, will hold weekly meetings for study and consultation, and at least one meeting during each month will be an open meeting with a speaker from abroad, lecturing on some live horticultural subject. Among the speakers already promised are several members of the faculty of the Oregon Agricultural college; W. K. Nowell, president, and H. M. Williamson, secretary of the state board of horticulture; A. C. Goodrich, commissioner for the First district, and H. C. Atwell, ex-president of the State Horticultural society.

BALL PLAYER'S ARM PROBABLY "GONER"

Getting Medford Brakeman Free From Cars Is Torturing Task.

(Special to The Journal.) Medford, Or., Nov. 30.—With his arm crushed and caught fast in the couplings between two freight cars, J. Riggs of Medford was forced to run 26 yards and wait six minutes before the train was halted and the cars separated.

Before the suffering lad, who has been a brakeman for the Southern Pacific but three days, could be extricated it was necessary to uncouple five cars, behind him one at a time and then "crowbar" the cars back to give space to move the car which held him.

Riggs is a Medford boy and well known here as a ball player.

The crushed arm will probably have to be amputated.

the Arab patrol attracting special attention. Prior to the opening of the ceremonial the Portland Shriners renewed acquaintances with the Seattle brethren.

While Nile, Afifi temple of Tacoma and Ghesh temple of Victoria each had its patrol present, none made a better showing in uniform than the one from Portland. The band of Al Kader made a great hit and had one of the places of honor.

Seventy-five novices were conducted over the burning sands tonight amid great merrymaking. The program was

ARCADIAN CLUB TO REPEAT PROGRAM

Under the name of "Thanksgiving Spontaneity" the Arcadian club held an entertainment at their auditorium on Almsworth avenue and East Thirty-seventh street on Thanksgiving night.

The program was made up of musical selections by the Arcadian orchestra, instrumental and vocal solos, readings and recitations, with a Spanish dance by Edythe Connaway. Mabelle Gerber gave an African monologue and the program was concluded by an original song and dance by the Whangoodle sisters.

A vocal solo by Lou I. Heft was one of the features of the evening. The program was rendered to a large and appreciative audience, and their vociferous applause encouraged the amateur performers to consent to arrange another program in the near future.

After the program refreshments were served in the form of baskets arranged by the women of the Arcadians, which were auctioned off by Fry O'Neill. The festivities lasted until almost midnight. Those on the program were Olga Mc-monial meeting at the Armory. Illustrious Potentate W. W. Burke, of Ghesh temple, Victoria, B. C., arrived this morning, accompanied by 50 nobles from that city.

MORGAN MUST ORDER OWN WAR TO VIEW ONE

Included in the long list of Shriners from all parts of the Pacific northwest who took part in the big doings are a number of prominent bankers, who were entertained at the new Washington hotel at dinner. Past Potentate Ralph S. Staley of Tacoma was in charge of this part of the entertainment. He was assisted by N. H. Latimer, J. E. Chilberg, J. A. Swalwell and Past Potentate Ernest B. Huesey.

JURY FINDS GIRL KILLED HERSELF

Suitor of Dead Woman, Who Had Been Detained by Police, Released.

That Matilda Schmid, daughter of Charles Schmid, of 144 East Second street North, who was found dying in the back yard of her home Thursday night, came to her death from carbolic acid poisoning, having purchased the acid and taken it with suicidal intent, was the verdict reached by a coroner's jury last night, after listening for three hours to testimony.

Following the decision of the jury, Jose F. Carretero, a marble cutter and the girl's sweetheart, who had been held in connection with the case, was released from custody.

On his way out from the jury room he asked to see the remains, and upon his request being granted, he bent down over the dead young woman and kissed her.

Probably the most important testimony introduced at the inquest was that given by a clerk in a downtown drugstore where the acid had been purchased. He testified that he had sold a bottle of carbolic acid to a woman at about 8 o'clock on the night of the suicide, and that later he had identified the dead young woman as the one who had purchased the poison. He also stated that the name of E. Taylor which had been signed on the poison record at the store was in the same handwriting as that of the dead woman.

It is now asserted by the police and others interested in the affair that Matilda Schmid knew that her lover would come to see her on Thanksgiving night and that she took the poison so that he would see her die. The empty bottle, however, was picked up over 30 feet away from where the girl was first found by Carretero. The police say that the girl must have been waiting and when she saw her lover approaching, swallowed the acid, then threw the bottle away from her and then ran to a secluded spot in the yard, where they were in the habit of meeting.

Present at the inquest yesterday were the relatives of the dead girl and several friends of Carretero. The state was represented by Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald, assisted by Deputy Coroner Dunning, while Carretero was represented by Attorney Edward D. Baldwin.

SURE AND EASY WAY TO CURE A COLD NASAL CATARRH AND SORE THROAT

Simple Remedy Stops Your Cold in Sneezing Stage and Prevents Catarrh.

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and a most distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, raw surfaces. Even in severe, chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually clear the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hacking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless. Agents, Owl Drug Co.
