Miss McCredie for Damages—For a broken collar bone and three fractured ribs, one of which punctured a lung, Albert Sagner seeks $25,000 damages from Walter W. McCredie, part owner of the Portland baseball club, and his wife, Alice McCredie. The suit is the result of an automobile accident, which occurred at Union avenue and Killingsworth street, last July, when the boy was run down by the McCredies' automobile as he stepped out from behind a car which he had just left. The boy resides with his mother, Emma Lichthorn, and is 11 years old. Mrs. Lichthorn, as guardian, filed the suit in the circuit court, and charged carelessness and negligence.

Assessed $250 Bail Money—Because he was not present in court when his case was called Charles Helt was assessed $250 bail money this morning and his bondsmen will be called upon to pay the amount. Judge Morrow, in declaring the bond forfeited, said he intended to put an end to the habit of men leaving town when cases were to come up. Helt was under bonds on appeal from a $50 fine for assault and battery imposed by the justice's court.

Mayor Names Committee—Councilmen

Joy and Schmeer were today appointed by Mayor Rushlight a committee to confer with City Engineer Hurlburt as to the best method of securing the right of way for the Rainier street sewer through the Cornell tract to Powell street. The committee has full power to act.

fort station at Sixth and Yamhill streets. The lowest bid for the work, which will be done under the surface of the street, was by the firm of Gleblish & Jopin, the bid of that firm being $14,583. Bids for the construction of a public recreation building at Franklin street are now opened, but owing to the fact that each bidder figured on a different plan, the bids will have to be tabulated before the lowest one can be determined.

Thirty Days for Insulting Woman—Thirty days on the rock pile was the sentence given Ernest Olson this morning in the municipal court for insulting Miss Laura Evans, 998 Kelly street. Olson approached the young woman at 23 Johnson street, where she is employed. The woman ran to a neighbor for help, the neighbor taking after Olson with a pistol. Olson stopped, when commanded to do so. Patrolman Lillis was nearby, brought the man to the police station and he was released until this morning. Olson is employed by a local hardware firm. He pleaded intoxication this morning. "Being drunk is no excuse for such an offense," said Judge Maxwell. "A man who insults a woman drunk or not drunk, deserves a rock pile sentence, so the court will give you 30 days."

Couple Begin Life Anew—After sneaking the city three days, the father of "Sadie" Taylor, 321 Montgomery street, located her with her former husband this morning in the Barton hotel, where they had patched up past trouble and agreed to begin life anew. Taylor reported Saturday to the police that his former son-in-law had kidnapped the daughter, taking her to Vancouver, B. C., but they have been in Portland all the time. When the father located them a fight followed, in which the police were called. All parties involved agreed to go to the police station, and talk their trouble over with the chief. The conference was postponed until after lunch, as the chief was not ready to act as peacemaker.

Boys' Conference a Success—The Y. M. C. A. and church club boys' conference that closed Sunday night at Eugene was the best and largest gathering of its kind ever held in Oregon, it is said. There were 247 boys present, representing 22 different cities, 14 churches and 112 organizations. The boys had entire charge of the program throughout the two days' conference, and are credited with having managed the meetings extremely well. Portland had the largest number of visiting delegates.

Leaves $125 for Low Masses—That her soul may rest in peace, Elizabeth Shans, whose death occurred in Newberg recently, left $125 with which she directed her sister, Mary Shans, to provide low masses. The will was admitted to probate yesterday and shows that the entire estate is to go to Mary Shans. The estate is composed of 2000 shares of mining stock, two quarter sections of land, about $1000 in cash and two small insurance policies.

Approves Claim of $1600—Probate Judge Gleason this morning approved a claim for $1600 brought by the James Gleason estate against the Rachel Hawthorne estate for legal services rendered Mrs. Hawthorne by Mr. Gleason. The services were rendered during the last few years of Mrs. Hawthorne's life, and were admitted by the Hawthorne heirs, but for the sake of legal-ity, the matter was submitted to the court for a decision.

Verdict for $2000 Damages—A verdict for $2000 damages was returned by a jury in Circuit Judge McGinn's court this morning in favor of Bertha J. Boatright against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. She was injured by stepping into a ditch at the Anabel station, on the Mount Scott carline, when the trailer car was stopped about 20 feet from the station platform. The damages asked were $5300.

Indian Accused of Murder—Columbia George, a Umatilla Indian, recently indicted for the murder of an Indian squaw on the reservation near Pendleton, was brought from the county jail at Pendleton last night by Deputy United States Marshal Will Griffith for incarceration in the federal section of the Multnomah county jail. He is held without bail on a charge of first degree murder.

Morrison Street Ordered Opened—Morrison street, between Sixth and Seventh, after being closed for more than a week owing to the dangerous condition of the Marquam building, was this morning ordered by Mayor Rushlight to be opened to streetcar traffic. The mayor issued the order after he had conferred with Acting City Inspector of Buildings R. E. Kremers.

Sandy Boulevard Extension—A committee from the East Side Business Men's club met with City Engineer Hurlburt yesterday to consider a plan for the extension of Sandy boulevard from East Sixteenth and East Davis streets to the intersection of East Burnside and East Twelfth streets. The club is back of a movement to consummate this project.

Club for Mount Scott Boys—All boys living in the Mount Scott district over 15 years old, are asked to join the Laumex club, which is being organized at the Episcopal church, a recently organized nonsectarian club. The club meets every Sunday morning in the clubrooms of the church and attention is paid to the social, athletic and moral needs of the young men.

Annual Christmas Bazaar—The annual Christmas bazaar of St. David's Women's Guild will be held at the parish house, Morrison and East Twelfth streets, tomorrow afternoon and evening; attractive articles for Christmas presents will be on sale, and a musical program will be given.

Arrested by Federal Authorities—A man giving the name of Lon Crawford was arrested last night at 430 Morrison street and turned over to the federal officers. White slavery charges have been made. Mrs. Crawford, his wife, is held as a witness.

The Arts and Crafts Shop, for the past four years occupying the second floor of the Thiford building, is now located at 404 Morrison street, south side. New name, The Art, Craft and Curio Shop. Everything new and novel. Agency for Dedham pottery, the Poshon Galleries, and genuine Indian curios.

Auto Driver a Coward—James Peters, a laborer, was struck and dangerously injured by an auto yesterday afternoon at Sixth and Burnside street. The driver ran away, leaving the injured man on the street. Detective Craddock was nearby, taking the man to the police station, where he was given medical attention. An auto driver by the name of Hudson struck J. P. Swanson, 319 Grand avenue, last night, stopping to take him home. Swanson was crossing Sixth and Hoyt streets, when the car hit him.

Mobbers Use Taxi—Two men using a taxiab to leave the Foster hotel last night robbed the room of Stacy Pleasant and A. L. Chase. The loss consisted of a pair of shoes, gold watch, fountain pen and $31 in cash. No trace of the thieves could be taken up, as they left the hotel in the auto, their visit not suspected until after the loss was reported.

Another Portland Man in Trouble

Exclusive Store Is Closed Up

The Keystone Woolen Mills Store, 84 Third street, next door to the Portland Trust Co., one of the finest clothing and furnishing stores in Portland closes its doors. For years the Keystone Woolen Mills Store has had a wonderful trade; a following of the best dressers of the city. Always carrying full lines of high grade, exclusive clothing, fine hats and furnishings. The proprietor has spent a small fortune on fixtures, plate glass, etc. Lavish expenditures have been made from time to time in fitting up the interior of the store attractively so as to form a proper setting for the high grade classy merchandise, making one of the exclusive stores of Portland. As the public know, business has not been at its best in the past year, yet the optimistic proprietor, believing that with his swell store, nothing could ever happen to cause business to fall off, and thinking that in ordering a larger winter stock than usual he could sure make the place pay, he now realizes his mistake, for he had ordered far more high grade clothing than any ordinary store could handle. Day after day box after box of merchandise has arrived, and not until he saw that he could stand it no longer, and that he was putting up a losing fight, did he give up and see the doors closed. Just as well be frank about it; the creditors must have their money.

The Store Is Forced to the Wall

This beautiful stock consisting of Stratford System and Griffon Clothes, Mallory, J. B. Stetson and imported French Velour Hats, Cluett Shirts, Cooper's Silk and Wool Underwear, Lisle-wool and Silk Hosiery, Silk Ties, in fact everything to be found in a high class, up-to-date clothing and haberdashery store.

Store has been ordered out from top to bottom. Not one article is reserved; even the plate glass show cases, tables, counters, etc., are for sale. Every article in the store will go. Every classy, dresy, nobby suit; every article of haberdashery, contract goods and all will be sacrificed to the one purpose of exchanging it for cash. This store has failed to meet its bills, and conditions exist wherein cost and values are ignored, for the stock will go if it has to be sold to the highest bidder.

The public will remember that every article, clothing or haberdashery is guaranteed merchandise with the Keystone label. The store closed its doors last week. In the meantime a large force of clerks have been employed and are working day and night invoicing this stock and at the same time marking every article in plain figures and in many cases goods are being marked way below the wholesale cost.

Sale Will Open Thursday, Dec. 5th, 9:30 A. M.

Merchandise will be sold wholesale and retail. A big crowd of discriminating buyers will be there. It will be the greatest slaughter of classy, up-to-date men's apparel ever seen in Portland. The Keystone Woolen Mills store, 84 Third street, between Oak and Stark, next door to the Portland Trust Co. bank.

Anyone wishing to make bids on all or any part of the stock or fixtures, call at 723 Chamber of Commerce. Main 5129.

with at least a $5000 per year ambition and earning capacity.

It is possible for a first-class man to earn $10,000 if he will work hard enough.

After January 1 I expect to see the greatest activity in Portland realty we have ever had, and with over $3,000,000 worth of Portland's best property all ready for sale, I should get my share.

The properties which I am selling (Westover Terraces, Golf Park and Eastmoreland) are fully improved and ready for homes. It is not necessary to draw on your customers' imagination regarding the improvements. They can see them.

I prefer experienced real estate men, but that is not necessary. Men who have had selling experience in other lines will receive consideration.

The most successful men I now have never sold real estate until coming with me.

You must be a live wire, however, because my offer is a live one, dealing in live properties, and dead men get lonesome around here.
