The Lingerie Shop

—Like everything else that is manufactured, there is a vast difference in Paris lingerie. Not all French hand-made underwear is practicable nor well-fitting. In order to overcome these objections all the underwear that we import is cut on lines for models furnished to suit the American figure—thus we escape the criticism so often justly expressed against the cut and styles of some of the French lingerie.

—We know our styles, no matter what the garment be, are correct. The price question has never arisen, for on that score we are positive that all our lingerie is marked fairly and at figures that cannot be duplicated, for all our importations come to us direct through the local Customs House.
