Value of Butter Produced in United States for 10 Year Period Shows an Increase of 44.9 Per Cent.

Washington, Jan. 1. - A bulletin umarizing the data collected for dairy products in the United States for 1909 has just been issued by Director Durand of the bureau of the census, department of commerce and labor. It prepared under the supervision of John Lee Coulter, expert special agent

There were 5,140,869 farms in the United States for which the enumerators reported dairy cows on April 16, 1916. For only 4,413,333 of these farms were dairy products of any kind reted as produced in 1909, and for only ported as produced in 1909, and for only 4,671,460 was the quantity of milk produced in 1909 stated.

The total number of dairy cows on farms April 15, 1910, was reported as 20,625,000, while the number on farms which reported the production of any kind of dairy products in 1909 was 18,-745,000, or 90.9 per cent of the total number, and the number on farms which reported the production of milk in 1909 was 16,069,000, or 77.9 per cent of the

In considering these figures, it should be borne in mind that there is no precise distinction between dairy cows and cows not kept for milk. In a good many cases enumerators probably reported as dairy cows animals, which, in fact, were primarily kept for breeding purposes and which were only milked for short periods, if at all, during the preceding

As La Foliette has been an advocate of the new plan in the past, consistency will require him to support it now. Mer like Barnes and Penrose, who opposed it before, will be more likely to favor it, because it will work to their advantage on the basis of the popular vote for Taft in 1912. It seems likely, therefore, that something akin to the Bourne plan will be adopted by the national committee when it apportions the delegates to the
