

INDIAN BOY MAKES RUN TO SAVE TRAIN

Pile of Ties Placed on Track Near Quinaby Nearly Causes Disaster.

(Special to The Journal.)
Quinaby, Or., Jan. 7.—A pile of ties several feet high was discovered across the Oregon electric track near Quinaby yesterday by an Indian student of Chamawa, who ran to the store of McFarlane & Sarff and secured a piece of red calico with which he flagged the train.

The 2:30 o'clock northbound passenger was almost derailed and the lad found himself unable to remove the ties unassisted, so made a record run to the station where he obtained the flag and ran back to the ties, arriving there barely in time to prevent a wreck.

The agent at Quinaby believes the attempt to derail the train was the work of two tramps who had hung about the station earlier in the day.

TO PUT COOS-DOUGLAS ROAD IN GOOD SHAPE

(Special to The Journal.)
Bandon, Or., Jan. 7.—Bandon Commercial club has approved a petition sent to Bandon by A. T. Morrison of Coquille, president of the Coos County Good Roads association. This petition recites the necessity for a good permanent road from Roseburg to Coos Bay and Bandon because of its twofold importance as a road used for conveyance of the United States mail and being the principal thoroughfare for overland traffic. The county court is asked to levy a small millage over the county so that the section of the road in Coos county will be placed in equally as good condition as the Douglas county road.

The Commercial club manifested, through the expression of its members, a very unselfish spirit, showing a disposition to pass over for the present some pressing needs for repairs in the roads leading directly into Bandon, that all effort may be concentrated toward improving the Coos-Douglas county road.

Bandon Has New Newspaper.

(Special to The Journal.)
Bandon, Or., Jan. 7.—Bandon now has three newspapers—the Bandon Recorder, semi-weekly, the Western World, a weekly, and the third and latest is the Bandon Star, which this week makes its first issue. The Star is a weekly and is published by M. A. Simpson. The editor, Mr. Simpson, has not determined on any political policy for the paper, but it is intended primarily as a news gatherer and disseminator.

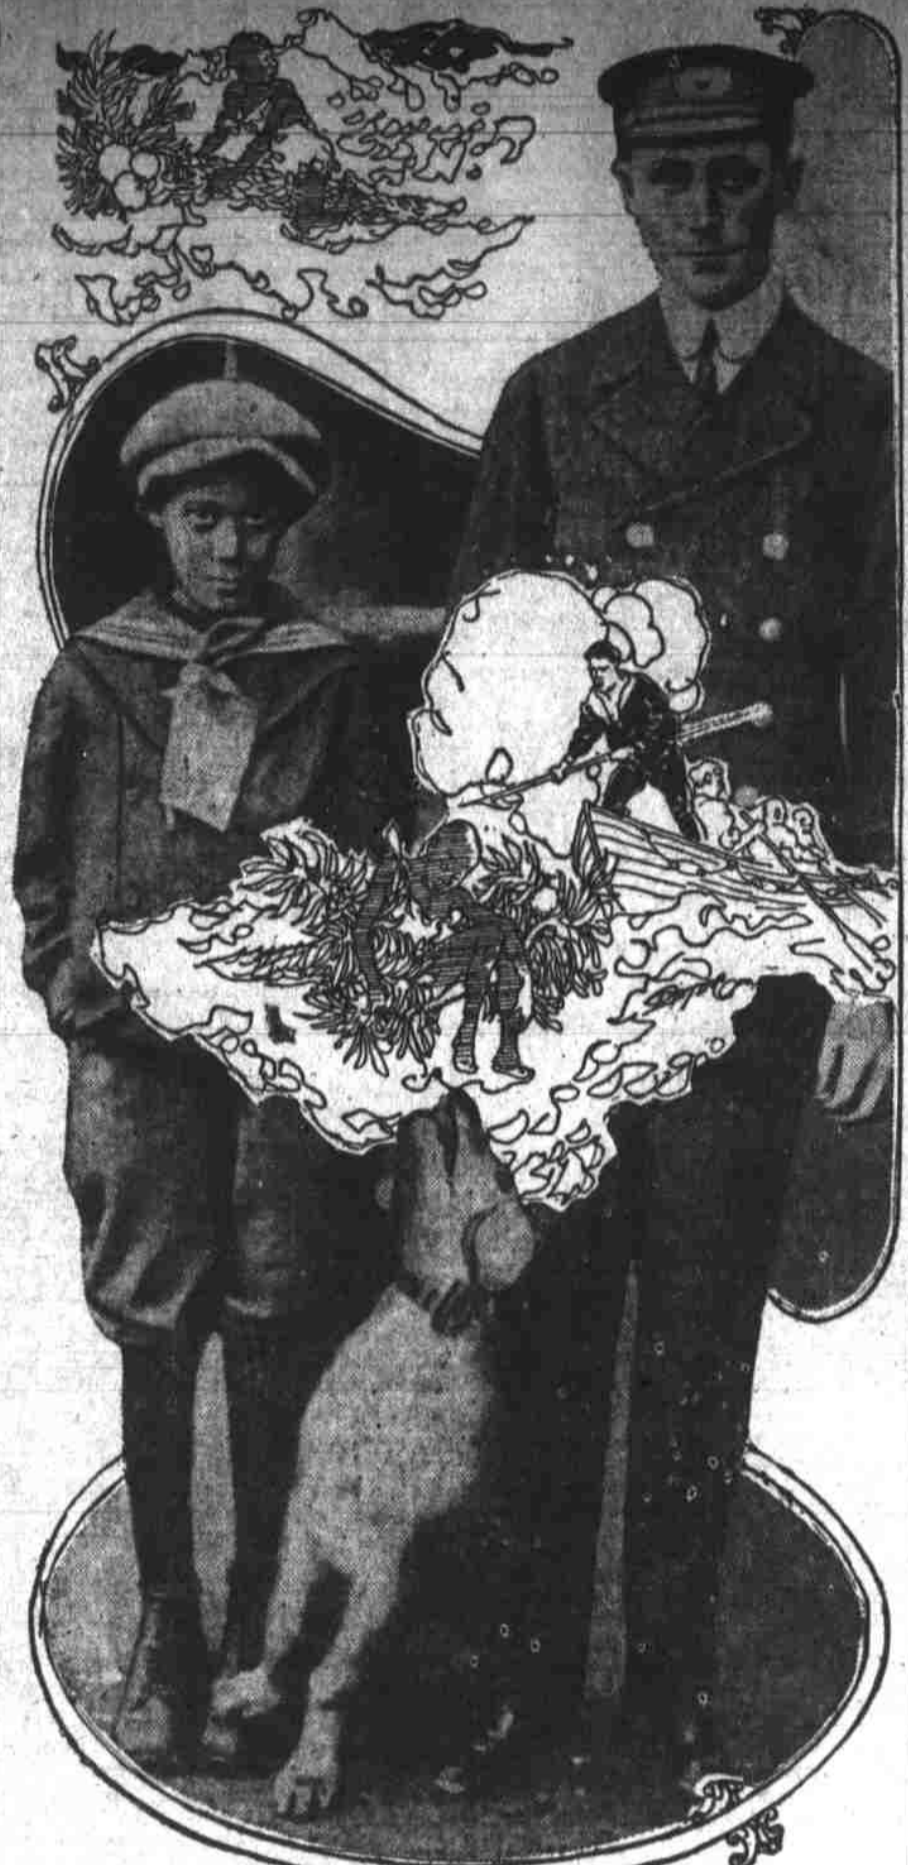

FIRE DRIVES HOTEL GUESTS OUT AT NIGHT

(Special to The Journal.)
Centralia, Wash., Jan. 7.—A spectacular early morning fire which had all the appearance of being incendiary, practically totally destroyed the P. & I. building in Centralia. Flames were discovered at 2 o'clock, but by the time the fire department arrived there was little chance of saving the structure, as it was of frame construction. The heaviest losers were: Dusty Miller, ball player, who operated bowling alleys on the ground floor; Eagle band, which had its instruments and music stored in the dance hall over the alleys; Will Black, who operated a transfer office; C. T. Armantrout, owner of blacksmith shop adjoining the building on the north and Pacific hotel adjoining on the south. Hotel guests were aroused in plenty of time to escape suffocation from dense clouds of smoke which poured into the hotel. Total loss is estimated at $9000.

SHERMAN'S ESTATE IS COMPARATIVELY SMALL

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Utica, N. Y., Jan. 7.—A report on file today in the tax appraiser's office here shows that the late Vice-President James S. Sherman's estate worth $270,750, with debts and expenses amounting to $46,423. The balance goes to Mrs. Sherman.

Hurricane Wail Found on Tree at Sea

Willie Gee, Rescued Boy, and Chief Officer M. A. Donnelly, of the Steamer Foxton Hall.

New York, Jan. 7.—When the steamer Foxton Hall arrived in New York from Calloa the other day the most interesting passenger was a little 10-year-old colored boy named Willie Gee who had been rescued from the Caribbean sea while astride a coconut palm after the devastating hurricane which swept over the island of Jamaica last month. November 14, last, the youngster was swimming about in shallow water, when a terrific gust of wind alarmed him and he took shelter in a small hut on the shore. The next fierce blow struck the shack and carried it far out into the water. As Willie came to the surface he grasped a coconut tree floating nearby. He climbed astride the tree and worked his way up to the fork and foliage, where he wedged himself. He spied a lone coconut in the branches, and after munching on this he fell into a sort of coma and was unconscious when picked up by Chief Officer Donnelly and his men, who rowed from the Foxton Hall to the tree in a gig.

Rates Not Too High But Too Low, Is Complaint State Railroad Commission Hears Unique Charge

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 7.—A complaint that is different was filed with the state railroad commission today. Usually complaints are that public service rates are "excessive and exorbitant," but this time the complaint is that the rates are too low, and ought to be raised in order to give a competitive company a chance to do business. The complaint was filed by the Home Independent Telephone company of La Grande, against the Eastern Oregon Co-operative Telephone association of Eugene.

The complaint alleges that the defendant company is giving its service to its patrons so cheap that no other company can compete, and that it (the plaintiff company) was in the field first. The cooperative company is not charging enough to pay its operating cost, the complaint alleges, when an effort was made to get the company to raise its rates it refused. Complex remedies that most women recommend they wouldn't use themselves.

AURORA'S HAVING BUILDING EPIDEMIC

Many New Structures and Increased Business Promised for 1913.

(Special to The Journal.)
Aurora, Or., Jan. 7.—Building activity and increased business operations promise better for 1913 than ever before in Aurora. A new $6000 school building has just been authorized and plans for it are now being drawn. The Knights of Pythias are considering the erection of a concrete or brick building of large size.

It is said that J. M. Will may build on the corner of Main and Second streets. More warehouses may be put up the coming summer and several residences will be built.

The Will-Snyder company has filed articles of incorporation and will put a general merchandise establishment in the Mishler & Gribble building.

The Commercial club is trying to secure more produce and commission men to locate here. They also want a creamery, a furniture store and a nurseryman, as well as poultrymen, swine breeders, general farmers, dairymen, orchardists, horticulturists, hop growers, etc., to locate in Aurora's tributary country.

The club has just issued a neat little booklet, setting forth the agricultural and other advantages of this section. The booklet is well illustrated with Aurora scenes in town and country and is being widely distributed among those inquiring for information concerning this part of the state.

INDEPENDENT LINE TO START IN TWO WEEKS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Jan. 7.—Within two weeks the Luckenbach Steamship company of New York will inaugurate a freight service between the eastern metropolises and this port, according to an announcement here today of J. Lewis Luckenbach.

The recent failure of the California Atlantic Steamship company hastened the determination of the Luckenbach interests.

L. D. CARLE, WHO MADE IT RICH IN ALASKA, DIES

(Special to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Jan. 7.—Lorenzo D. Carle, a well known resident of Roseburg for nearly 30 years, died here Monday at the age of 63 years.

Mr. Carle was born in Indiana and came to Roseburg in 1883. He was one of the many thousands who went to Alaska during the gold rush of 1897, and was one of the few who struck it rich. He left Roseburg with only $50 in money and a prospecting outfit and three years later returned with $21,000, and then in 1901 sold his claim for $10,000. During the year of 1901 he shipped livestock to Alaska as a business in partnership with R. B. Dixon, of Roseburg.

Mr. Carle has been an Odd Fellow for over 40 years, first joining the order in St. Louis, Mo.

Invoke Referendum on Licenses.

(Special to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Jan. 7.—A referendum petition asking for a popular vote on the new city license ordinance recently adopted by the city council has been filed with the city recorder. The question will be placed on the city ballot for the regular election on October 9 next. This action suspends the action of the new ordinance, but in no wise affects the city license law heretofore in operation. The voters can decide whether the city license tax shall be increased or left as in the past, or abolished altogether.

Postmaster of Koler Resigns.

(Special to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Jan. 7.—The first appointment of a postmaster in Douglas county since President Taft placed fourth-class postmasters under the civil service recommendations will be made at Koler, a town near Glendale. The former postmaster there has resigned, and Postal Inspector Morse of this city has gone there to select a postmaster.

EASTERN OREGON FOR COUNTY ROAD PLAN

(Special to The Journal.)
Umatilla, Or., Jan. 7.—At a meeting of delegates from all of eastern Oregon on good roads many matters were taken up and a few radical suggestions framed as resolutions were adopted by unanimous votes. Among the more striking actions taken by the good roads delegation from the whole of eastern Oregon was the recommending of bonding each county for roads built in the county and not through a state highway commission. Bonding instead of direct taxation was approved, as it gave the farmers, settlers and taxpayers the benefit of improvements without the burden of taxation along with the building.

COMPENSATION ACT FOR WORKMEN OPPOSED

Opposition to the proposed workmen's compensation act for Oregon is contained in resolutions adopted January 2, at a joint meeting of the electrical workers of Portland. The proposed act is opposed on the ground that the compensation laws of Washington and California are unsatisfactory to the laboring classes, and that the act as proposed for Oregon is "entirely inadequate in every particular, and nullifies the employers' liability law."

ELK RESENTS FARMER'S METHODS AND KNOCKS HIM OUT IN ONE KICK

(Special to The Journal.)
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 7.—August Hettelstadt, a Snoqualmie farmer, is recovering from a vicious kick in the solar plexus from a chipper little elk, whom he tried to coax back into the county corral with a pair of oats. When he recovered there were seven elk noses in his oats. They had escaped from the corral, to which 40 elk were recently brought from Yellowstone for propagation here.

ALLEGED ABDUCTORS GIVE THEMSELVES UP

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—Following the return of their alleged victim to Los Angeles, Mrs. Violet Ake, and C. C. Boxley, charged with abducting pretty Reatha Watson, 16, have given themselves up. They will appear Friday morning before Judge Frederickson.

Following her return to her home here after an absence of several days, the Watson girl stated she had gone for an automobile ride with the couple, who had compelled her to accompany them to Santa Barbara. She was sent home, she declares, when publicity was given to her disappearance.

TEN-YEAR-OLD BOYS SUCCEED AS HOLDUPS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—Ten boys, whose average age is about 10 years, are evading the police today, after holding up and robbing two Japanese pigeon farmers at Hollywood. They secured $35 from the Japanese. The youths, who were armed, lined themselves across the street and demanded money at the points of their leveled guns. According to the police several similar robberies have been reported from the same locality.

Interesting Words

A prominent New York food expert recently said:

Statistics show that of 20 million school children in this country 15 millions are more or less defective in eyes, teeth, glands, bony structure or otherwise.

This is largely due to their being fed upon substances in which the twelve minerals in the human body, and necessary to renew that body, are deficient in the food. Chief among these twelve minerals are Phosphorous, Iron, Magnesium, Calcium and Fluorine.

Common flour, rice, corn meal and some breakfast cereals have been robbed of 75 per cent of their mineral elements, largely by being prepared to look "white and nice."

Grape-Nuts FOOD

Made of whole wheat and barley, contains all the valuable mineral elements necessary to the building of sound bodies and keen brains. This food is particularly rich in organic Phosphates, the essential mineral element necessary to brain building and brain development.

A regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and cream is the daily, healthy habit of thousands of families, who for years have found by actual test that this food has properly won the title of "King of Breakfast Foods."
