

PASTOR REFUSES TO YIELD THROUGH GIVEN A REBUKE

Heated Discussion Follows Over M. E. Church, South, Question; Rev. M. Bennett Remains Firm.

Attempts of the Methodist pastors in the regular weekly meeting held yesterday in the First Methodist Episcopal church to have Rev. James Hardy, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, attack the word South to the title of his church in all advertisements, failed, although they succeeded in having passed a resolution condemning Rev. M. Bennett's action in changing the church name. The Union Avenue Methodist church was formerly known as the First Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The resolution follows: "Resolved that we, the pastors and ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church of Portland and vicinity hold in high esteem the Methodist Episcopal church, South; have welcomed their coming to our city and rejoiced in their mutual assistance in evangelizing the people, but we are astonished at the attempt to conceal their identity in this locality by eliminating that part of their distinct corporate name, which name their general conference adheres to and refuses steadfastly to change. The ulterior purpose of this procedure is not likely to escape a discriminating public."

Heated Discussion Follows.

Before this resolution was adopted a lively discussion took place concerning the rights of Pastor Bennett in changing the church name. Rev. Benjamin Young said he objected to a statement that had been made concerning the ignorance of Methodist ministers, and that Methodist in Portland were just as intelligent as any of any city. He said that the name South should be plainly brought out, especially in all church advertisements.

"I am just as much a Methodist, as you are Methodists and a Methodist I shall remain. The name of my church, which is certainly a Methodist church, shall remain as it is now," replied Mr. Bennett. "If I want to change the name of the church, that is out business and not the business of any other Methodist pastor."

Will Not "Be Shot Up."

Several of the ministers also held this opinion, but Rev. Delmer, who stated that if a Methodist Episcopal church of the north went down south, they certainly would not change the name to M. E. church, south.

"I do not propose to be shut up by any sectional prejudices such as now seems to be rife," returned Rev. M. Bennett. "Why should we mind up in any racial discussion which should have been dead and buried before we were born? What have these prejudices to do with the church? Nothing at all. We are here to preach the gospel and let us do it."

"I was one who helped to locate the Methodist church South in this city, because I thought those of that denomination were going to the 'bow wows' in not attending church," declared Rev. C. E. Cline. "We needed a church here to look after the Democrats."

He was interrupted by Rev. Mr. Bennett, who said that he was a Republican, and that he objected to having politics brought into the discussion.

Aged Man Answered.

Rev. Mr. Flynn, known as Father Flynn, who is 96 years old, wanted to know why Pastor Bennett had taken down his flag.

"Owing to respect for your age, I shall answer you," replied Rev. Mr. Bennett. "I have not taken down my flag. The only flag I know is Old Glory, which is the only one I will ever respect. That flag is yours, and it is mine. But I certainly will not foster any hatred and eat up my spiritual life by doing so."

Even though Pastor Bennett told of how his family had taken part in the Civil war because they thought they were in the right, the resolution was passed with a large majority.

A number of negro ministers and church members who were present to listen to a paper on the American negro leader, by Rev. A. T. Crow, pastor of the Bethel African M. E. church, they did not take part in the discussion.

REFLECT J. D. GORDON MAYOR OF NEWBERG

Newberg, Or., Jan. 14.—It was not until 10 o'clock last night that the counting of votes in the city election was concluded, but a crowd of men waited to learn the outcome. The campaign for mayor had been actively carried on between the friends of Mayor J. D. Gordon, candidate for reelection, and Professor S. E. Lanner, his opponent. The result showed that Gordon had won out by a majority of 141.

W. W. Nelson was re-elected recorder. W. E. Wharton was elected treasurer.

Duchess of Connaught Better.

(United Press Local Wire.)

Montreal, Jan. 14.—That the crisis in the condition of the duchess of Connaught has passed seems borne out by the fact that the physicians attending her today issued but one bulletin, which was favorable in tone.
