STATE PRINTING FIGHT LOOMS ON SALEM HORIZON

Senate and House Committees Apparently Are Opposed, Governor's Friends Controlling One, Duniway's Other.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—Around the committees on printing of the two houses are surging the first waves of what may become one of the real storms of the session. For within a few days a bill will be introduced to repeal the flat salary bill passed two years ago, and once more the state printer fight will be on.

From the makeup of the committee in the senate and house, it is predicted that the senate committee will be favorable to Governor West's flat salary ideas, while the house committee is expected to line up for State Printer Willis S. Duniway in opposition to a state owned plant.

Committees Are Opposed.

Milton A. Miller of Linn, one of the governor's political and personal friends, is chairman of the senate committee. The house committee is headed by Allan H. Eaton of Lane, who has always opposed the flat salary idea, and with him on the committee is James D. Abbott of Multnomah, one of Duniway's consistent supporters. It is believed that each committee will finally dissolve a majority standing with its chairman.

It will be remembered that after a fierce fight two years ago, in course of which Speaker Rusk absented himself to permit the bill to go through, a flat salary bill was passed under pressure from the governor's office. It was modified to provide that it should not take effect until the end of Duniway's term in January, 1915.

People Turned Bill Down.

At the last election a bill was initiated to make it take effect at once. A bitter fight was waged, and the people turned down the bill by a decisive majority. Duniway's friends have been encouraged by this result to hope that the legislature will repeal the act at this session, claiming that the election returns should be interpreted to mean that the people do not want the flat salary policy.

This is not conceded by the other side. It is declared to amount to nothing more than a concession to Duniway, insuring to him a continuance of the present policy for the term to which he was elected.

Nevertheless it is clear that the great majority rolled up will give courage to the repealing forces, who will point out that Duniway has been several times upheld when confronted by flat salary opponents.

END OF ROAD HOUSES IN STATE IN SIGHT

(Staff Correspondence.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—The roadhouse is the target of one of the first liquor bills of the present session of the legislature which was introduced in the house today by Representative Gill of Clackamas.

The bill prohibits the issuance of a license to sell liquor outside of any incorporated city or town.

It also hits at the near-beer industry, providing a heavy penalty for selling near-beer, no matter how small the percentage of alcohol, in territory that has voted dry.

The sale of near-beer in dry communities has been a prolific cause of trouble. The governor's recent squabble with the Roseburg brewery, which was bitterly fought in the courts, was due to a controversy as to whether alleged near-beer contained enough alcohol to bring it within the real beer classification.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex; or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Pinex is fully guaranteed by Laue-Davis Drug Co. (distributors), Portland.

PRISON FOR "BLUE SKY" OPERATORS

Blanchard of Josephine Has Measure to Substitute for Kansas Act.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—As a substitute for a "Blue Sky" bill modeled after the Kansas law, which he believes entirely too radical, Representative Blanchard of Josephine introduced a bill today which defines a conspiracy and provides penitentiary penalties for its violation.

The particular feature of the bill is its severe penalties and drastic anti-trust provisions. For conviction of conspiracy, penalties up to five years in the penitentiary are provided, and for conspiracy to injure a person, character, business or property rights of another the penalty is up to three years in the penitentiary with no alternative of fine.

The anti-trust provisions set forth that any corporation organized under the laws of Oregon becoming party to any combination to regulate or fix the price of any article, or to get control of any manufactured product to lessen the production and fix the price, shall be guilty of conspiracy.

BILL MAY ABOLISH PILOT COMMISSION

Measure by Gill of Clackamas Hides Radical Proposals Behind Mild Title.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—Behind a bill of unexciting title introduced by Representative Gill of Clackamas is provision for repeal of certain laws that would automatically abolish the Columbia River Pilot commission.

The passage of this measure would change to very great degree the status of Columbia river bar pilots and pilots of the Columbia and Willamette rivers.

Under the present laws, the pilot commission, which is composed of two members, has the examining and licensing of all pilots in these jurisdictions. Any person who pilots a vessel over the bar or up the river, other than its master or owner, the law provides, without a license, is liable to a fine of $500, or six months' imprisonment.

With the commission abolished, this law, too, would be repealed.

MULTNOMAH MAY NAME SCHOOL BOOKS

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—A bill designed to exempt Multnomah county schools from the provisions of the present state textbook law has been fathered by Representative Latourette of that county, with the approval of L. R. Alderman, state superintendent of public instruction.

This bill, if enacted into law, would have the effect of segregating Multnomah county into a separate district, with full power to choose its own textbooks and make contracts for them. The board of education is to do the selecting.

It is provided that the same school textbooks may be kept as long as desired, but no change is to be made in less time than four years.

Whenever any other district of the state contains 20,000 inhabitants, the bill is so worded that it would automatically be entitled to the same privileges.
