Bridgie's new kitty pussy Killarney Rosie, has a lot o' cute 'ittle chickens. She traded famblyz with the ol' hen—Mrs. Cockle-doo has free cutes 'ittle kitty pussies out in the barn—an' me'n Gwendylin 'Vangeline May—we started a circus wif 'em—an' we had a big tent—an' we charged two pins admittance. What-che-know-'bout-'at?

An' lots o' 'ittle boys an' girls an' babies comed—an' Puppo he was the eflunt wif a pretend trunk tied to his mouf—an' a "How-de-do-dah" on his back—an' the 'ittlest babies taked a ride on the eflunt for two-pins 'xtra—an' Gwendylin 'Vangeline May was the eflunt's keeper—an'—an' Puppo was a magniferous eflunt.

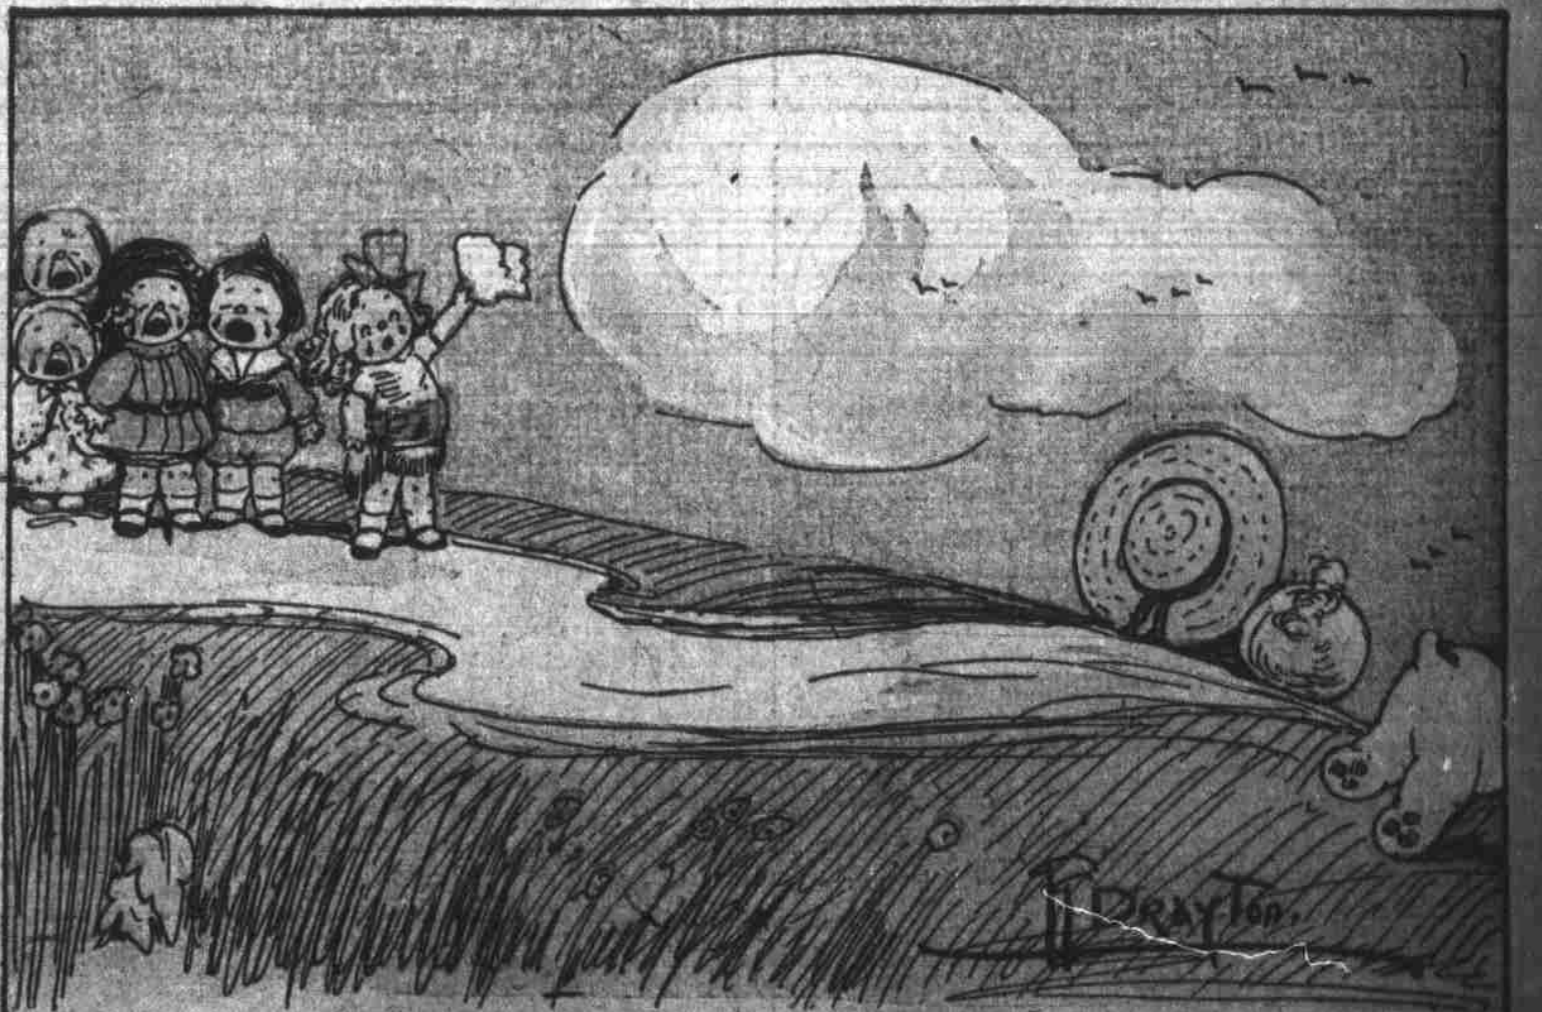

An' the 'ittle chickens had a trapeze—an' mine baby bruvver managed 'em, an' 'ey was splendiferous tight rope walkers—an'—an' actorbats—cause 'ey had winges to 'em so's 'ey could fly—an' the ol' gray hen—Misses Cockle-doo—she was the on' y livin' trained African ostrich.

An' all the kiddies an' babies clapped—an'—an' Killarney Rosie was a fierce horribliferous jungle tagger cat an' we painted stripes on to her—an'—an' she gr-r-owed somepin horribliferous—an'—an' suddently a big—fierce rattleybang snake comed coilin' an'—coilin' long ther'.

O An'—an' eve'buddy was orful scared but me—'course I wasn't not—I jus'—er—I jus' taked mine pistol an' shooted him full o' holes, 'en I taked mine dagger a n'—an' I cutted his hed orf an' all o' the peoples at the circus sed I was a moe' magniferous hero what never was.

An'—an' the circus was over now—an' I sed it was time for me to go to bed, so I—well—I kissed all o' the 'ittle girls an' I kissed all o' the 'ittle babies, an' 'course I didn't kiss the boys—us fellers doesn't slobber—an' me'n Puppo an' mine baby bruvver goed home—an' all o' those 'ittle kiddies was cryin' an' sayin'—'Goodby! Goodby! Goodby! Oh you cute 'ittle Kiddo!'
