

TEAL'S ABILITIES ARE PRESENTED TO GOV. WILSON

Senators Chamberlain and Newlands See President-Elect and Urge Him to Name Western Man in Cabinet.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Jan. 21.—"I have picked no one for my cabinet," governor Wilson told Senators Chamberlain and Newlands yesterday. He added that his mind was a perfect blank on that question.

The two senators visited Trenton to urge on Wilson the selection of a western man for secretary of the interior. Chamberlain championed J. N. Teal, Newlands had a candidate from his own state, but in case he could not be chosen he was for Teal. For an hour both senators went over the situation, explaining why a western man would be better qualified to cope with questions arising in the department of the interior than a man from any other section of the country.

Chamberlain assured Wilson that Teal would be satisfactory to all factions, ultra conservationists as well as others, inasmuch as he is generally recognized to be capable, eminently just and thoroughly well informed on all matters pertaining to the business coming under the jurisdiction of the interior department. While they received no assurances except that the state is clean, both senators seemed to come back to Washington considerably reassured.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Representative Warburton will recommend the reappointment of Postmaster Conn at Columbia.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Congressman Hawley was notified today that the postoffice department has authorized mail service for Fisher, Lincoln county, where the mail supply had been cut off on account of a lack of funds.

TUBERCULOSIS CURE NOT YET ON MARKET

Apparently Portlanders will have to wait some time before they will have an opportunity of viewing first hand, tests of the world-heralded serum for the cure of tuberculosis, discovered by Dr. Friedrich Friedmann, of Berlin.

LOCKED IN ROOM BY HIGHWAYMAN

Robber Gets $7 From Restaurant Man; Grocery Store Raided.

William Paulos, proprietor of the Star restaurant at 484 Washington street, and his waiter were forced into a rear room of the place last midnight, locked inside, and held prisoners for half an hour. A man about 25 years old then robbed the cash register of $7. From all appearances, the man is the same who held up a grocery early in the evening at Park and Yamhill streets.

Shortly before midnight a man entered the restaurant. Instead of ordering, the man whipped out a revolver, commanding the two restaurant men to go to the rear. The door was locked upon them. Special Officer McKay came in the restaurant half an hour later, going to the rear, where he heard the two men trying to break out.

At 6:50 o'clock in the evening a lone highwayman entered the grocery store at 355 Yamhill street, conducted by J. H. and J. L. McElroy and John Fredrickson. Fredrickson was standing in center of the room, while J. H. McElroy was sitting at a table near the front and to one side. The holdup man commanded the grocers to stand in the corner, while he emptied the contents of the cash register. He got about $50. The highwayman then ordered Fredrickson to open the safe, from which a ring and gold watch were taken. The grocers were ordered to empty their pockets. The robber backed out the door and disappeared on Park street.

Repeating to a letter sent him by Dr. Herman R. Bierdorf, of Portland, Dr. Friedmann declares his remedy is not on the market at present. In his communication the noted German, says that patients are being treated only under his personal direction at his institute for tuberculosis at 49 Lutzow street, Berlin. Regarding the length of time necessary to perfect a cure he says: "It is impossible to give an estimate of the length of time necessary for treatment without examination. Where cases are not too far advanced, treatment usually covers a period of several weeks or months. The treatment consists in some injections of the remedy. In cases not yet too inveterate, three or four injections made at intervals of three or six weeks will be sufficient."

Beach to Be Tried for Slashing Wife

Mrs. Frederick O. Beach.

(By the International News Service.)
Aiken, S. C., Jan. 18.—State Attorney Robert L. Gunter has announced that one of the first cases to be tried at the February term of the court of general sessions will be the case against Frederick O. Beach, millionaire New York clubman and society whip, known among his associates as "Beauty"

Beach, who is accused of having slashed the throat of his beautiful wife, Mrs. Camilla Moss Havemeyer Beach, on February 26, last, in the yard of their winter home here. The state attorney declared that nothing will be allowed to delay the Beach trial, which has been postponed twice since the arrest of Beach after the mysterious attack on his wife.

AMERICAN PROFESSOR'S WIFE DISAPPEARS IN ITALY; FEAR BANDITS

Mrs. William Mansfield of Columbia University, Lost at Salo; Suspect Kidnapping.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Rome, Jan. 21.—Italian authorities continue today their investigation into the disappearance from Salo, on Lake Garda, of Mrs. William Mansfield of New York, wife of Professor Mansfield, head of the College of Pharmacy at Columbia university. A report that Mrs. Mansfield was seen at Venice was run down today, but proved unfounded.

Reports that brigands kidnaped Mrs. Mansfield are unconfirmed, but the police believe that Professor Mansfield will soon receive a demand for ransom. The police have searched both the Austrian and Italian frontiers without success.

Mrs. Mansfield was a guest at the Hotel Victoria here until a week ago. She reached Salo safely, where all trace of her was lost.

New York, Jan. 21.—Professor William Mansfield, head of the College of Pharmacy at Columbia university, was greatly alarmed today over reports that Mrs. Mansfield had disappeared from Salo, on Lake Garda, in northern Italy. "My wife has been traveling in Europe," said Professor Mansfield. "The last I heard from her was four days ago. I know she expected to go to Italy, but had heard nothing of her disappearance."

OREGON HOUSE TO SEE FAMOUS MARYHILL ROAD

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 21.—The Oregon house of representatives today accepted the invitation of Samuel Hill, the famous good roads worker, to be his guests on a trip by special train to see the fine highway of Klickitat county, Washington.

By unanimous vote of the house, the report of the roads committee fixing Sunday, February 9, for the trip, was adopted. The legislators will meet in Portland at 9 o'clock that morning with members of the senate, who already have accepted Mr. Hill's hospitality. From the special train Mr. Hill's guests will be taken in automobiles along the famous highway he built to his beautiful home at Maryhill, Wash. The purpose of Mr. Hill's invitation is to give the members of the Oregon legislature an opportunity to see for themselves what has been done in road building in Washington under state supervision. These roads were built by convict labor.

U. O. BUDGET NOT CUT IN COMMITTEE

Joint Ways and Means, However, Provides for Further Consideration.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 21.—Appropriations for the state university for the biennial period were considered at a joint meeting of the ways and means committees of the senate and house last night, at which President P. L. Campbell of the university presented the budget of $587,832.73 made up for that institution.

It was agreed that the bill be introduced in the house by the ways and means committee shall carry the budget outlined and heretofore published, with the understanding that the bill shall be thereafter referred to the ways and means committee for possible revision of the figures. President Campbell explained the bill in detail.

The bill as it will be introduced will carry $100,000 for an administration building and museum. For this purpose $150,000 was voted two years ago, but the bill was referred to the people and defeated by the people. The amount has now been scaled to $100,000.

In addition to the regular $125,000 annual item for salaries and maintenance, the bill carries proposed increases in salaries of about $25,000.

President Campbell explained that the university has lost some of its best instructors because of the low range of salaries as compared with other states. He said that the average salary of professors, the highest classification of those who teach, is $2100, compared with $2500 as the average in other states, while the average number of students per teacher is higher in Oregon.

A motion by Representative Graves to reduce the additional allowance for teachers from $50,000 to $30,000 was voted down by the committee. In a separate bill an appropriation of $50,000 for two years for equipment and maintenance of the University of Oregon Medical school in Portland will be asked, an increase of $30,000 over two years ago.

The law department is self sustaining and asks no appropriation.

DUNNE TO BE NAMED ON CITY PARK BOARD

T. Morris Dunne, well known local official of the American Athletic union, and popular society and club man, will be appointed by Mayor Rushlight to fill a vacancy that has existed on the city park board in Portland since the resignation of Dr. J. R. Wetherbes two years ago. This is the unofficial information that percolated from the city hall yesterday, though Mayor Rushlight declined to make any definite announcement, saying that he had not yet consulted Mr. Dunne.

The vacancy in the park board will be filled Thursday. On that date Carl Stoll will also be reappointed to serve another term on the board.

Dr. A. W. Smith's term on the city health board expires Thursday. He will be reappointed, as will also Theodore B. Wilcox and W. B. MacKay.

COFFMAN ORDERED TO PAY WIFE ALIMONY

A. J. (Jack) Coffman must pay $100 a month alimony pending the divorce proceedings instituted by his wife, Mabel Ines Coffman, who charges cruelty. The petition for temporary alimony asked for $500 a month, but Judge Kavanaugh decided $100 should be plenty to keep Mrs. Coffman and baby. Coffman lost his stores and factory recently when creditors swooped down on him, and he left town suddenly. His wife announced through her attorney that she had gone home to her mother, and Coffman came back, only to find her in Portland and prepared to fight in the divorce courts.

GOOS BAY AGAIN HEARS FROM WORLD

Communication Is Reestablished After Period of Almost Complete Isolation.

(Special to The Journal.)
Marshfield, Or., Jan. 21.—Mail and telegraph communication with Coos Bay has again been established after a period of almost entire isolation from the rest of the state. The mails have been brought through with great difficulties, being three days late.

Roads in the mountains were under water because of the freshets, and in several places landslides from mountains completely covered up the stage road. Travel overland for passengers has been impossible for several days. Telegraph wires were down five days. There was not much damage further than was suffered by the telegraph and telephone lines.

John H. Burgard was yesterday appointed by Mayor Rushlight for a five year term on the public dock commission to succeed George M. Cornwall.

RALPH B. DYER OF ASTORIA DIES

Vice-President of Clatsop Mills Company, Passes Away After Short Illness.

(Special to The Journal.)
Astoria, Ore., Jan. 21.—Surrounded by members of his family, Ralph B. Dyer, vice-president and manager of the Clatsop Mills Co. and one of the most highly esteemed and influential business men of Astoria, passed away at his home in this city at 3:15 o'clock last night following an illness of several weeks' duration.

On January 7, he received a stroke of apoplexy and after that time he gradually weakened until the end. He was born in San Francisco, January 16, 1864. He was first associated in the lumber business with M. F. Callender at the Knappa Mills and was married to Miss Anna Callender in 1892. He was transferred to South Bend, Wash., from Knappa and from there to Astoria, where he has resided for the past nine years.

Mr. Dyer was a member of the Masonic lodge at South Bend, a member of the local lodge of Elks.
