New Broadway Bridge to Be Completed by April 1

View of section of new Broadway bridge, which is nearing completion.

At the left of the completed leaf of the bascule lift of the Broadway bridge, may be noticed a slight projection. It is a large spike, a stick or perhaps a piece of rail, would be an expected question. As a matter of fact it is the forge of a bridge builder.

LOGGING CAMPS OPEN; MARKET IS STEADIER

With the disappearance of the snow in the timber, logging camps in the Columbia river district are gradually resuming operations after a shut down of more than a month. This will be welcome news to some millmen who in the past month have run short on logs as a result of the good demand for the sawed product.

The demand for lumber has been better this winter than for more than two years and it is pointed out by those keeping closely in touch with market conditions that it will continue to improve with the approach of spring.

HILL CARRIES FIGHT TO MEMBERS OF I. C. C.

Samuel Hill has called upon the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C., and the public service commission of Washington to recognize the justice of his appeal for a change in location of Biggs station on the O. W. R. & N. He filed a formal petition with the Oregon railroad commission some time ago. Now the railroad has replied and today he filed an answer to the answer. SONS OF JOVE HONOR WATTS

"Reigning Jupiter" of Electrical Organization Guest of Honor at Banquet.

J. E. Watts.

An event literally so brilliant was the dinner given by the Sons of Jove in honor of J. E. Watts, national head of the order, in the Imperial hotel last night.

Electrical contrivances of many kinds contributed uniqueness to the entertainment. Just as the soup was served the room became very dark and in a minute a huge red devil, patron of the organization, sprang into brilliant relief before startled eyes.

M. Watts, whose title is "reigning Jupiter," told of the comparative newness of the Order of Jove, an organization which is rapidly evolving from pure fraternalism into a cooperative body of men numbering 5000 in 50 branch organizations of as many large cities of the United States.

George R. Saylor enumerated the propitious principle, saying that in the west, where power, mostly undeveloped, abounds. For the future he predicted a strength to the order and influence of its pronouncements exceeded by none.

At the dinner in honor of Mr. Watts there were present: F. A. Barnicott, F. N. Simonton, Paul Maloney, G. Bump, A. E. Vander Wielek, A. H. Wahl, Burton R. Stare, C. R. Dederick, H. T. Van Ripper, J. R. Wood, E. L. Van Drasler, C. J. Franklin, Horace S. Clark, A. C. McCleken, M. E. Connor, A. M. Wilson, W. E. Olan, C. M. Wright, H. B. Rogers, A. L. Saylor, S. C. Jagger, Wilfred L. Juggals, William F. McKenney, W. C. Campbell, E. E. Meyers, E. W. Bonness, J. L. Thatcher, R. S. Fisher, H. R. Wake-man, W. B. Foshey, E. S. Whitney, H. Wells, J. L. Priest, I. N. Chamberlain, F. N. Averill, J. T. Ryan, R. G. Litterer, R. F. Monges, C. P. Osborne, Edward A. West.

Official tests in German South Africa with the trench hazel dividing rod seem to vindicate the efficiency of what generally has been deemed a superfluous.

LOW WAGES DRIVE WOMEN TO SHAME

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Feb. 1.—Declaring low wages are the chief cause of immorality among women, Senator Works of California testified today in the senate hearing on the La Follette bill establishing an eight-hour work day for women in Washington. He stated:

"The underpaid women go on the streets to increase their small wages. This measure is aimed at improving the moral life by giving the women a decent chance. If the employer suffers, I would favor having the public bear the loss."

Senators Kenyon of Iowa, and Jones of Washington, endorsed the measure, while Senator Dillingham of Vermont, opposed it.

Official figures, so far incomplete, indicate that less gold was mined in the United States last year than in any year since 1907.

WILSON FAVORS TAX AMENDMENT

Wants New Jersey Senate to Ratify Federal Income Tax Measure at Once.

(By the International News Service.) Princeton, N. J., Feb. 1.—President-elect Wilson said he would discuss the proposed income tax amendment to the United States constitution with the New Jersey senators on Monday. The assembly has already passed the resolution providing for the amendment and the governor having urged it in his message, is anxious that the senate shall likewise act favorably upon it.

The governor arrived from New York early this afternoon. When the newspaper man entered his study he was standing before the open fireplace nibbling toasted crackers. His two days of rest appeared to have greatly refreshed him.

"New I'm feeling fit." It is not his intention to attend the hearings which will begin Monday morning on the corporation bills introduced in the legislature at his instance. He expects, however, to have a talk with the senators and assemblymen about them at a conference next Tuesday.
