

HOUSE TOLD WHAT PEOPLE WILL DO WITH SWAMP BILL

Ancient Efforts of Oregon Republicans to Put Democrat Hagood "in a Hole" Always React, Says Hagood.

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—While the Thompson swamp land bill, that one giving title to certain tracts of swamp land included what is known as Swamp land certificate No. 144, was speeding along to final passage over the governor's veto yesterday afternoon, Representative Hagood of Multnomah, forced the house to pause while he recalled a portion of the political history of Oregon to them.

Some of the members did not like it. They protested and stormed and arose to points of order and to points of personal privilege. When the speaker sustained Hagood, Latourette appealed from the decision of the chair. The house sustained the speaker.

Hagood went on with his story of the many attempts made in the past by Republican legislators and Republican city councils to put democratic governors and democratic mayors "in the hole," and of the boomerang effect the attempts invariably had.

Says People Are Behind West.
"The people have punished you every time," declared Hagood, "and mark my words two years hence they will punish you for trying to put Oswald West in the hole."

"I'll tell you a little more, Latourette," shouted Hagood to his colleague of Multnomah. "Not only will the people elect Oswald West governor again, but they will send him to the United States senate."

Beginning with Governor Sylvester Penney, Hagood told of the attempts made by the legislature and Republican city councils to put democratic governors and democratic mayors "in the hole," and of the boomerang effect the attempts invariably had.

Republican Lesson Unlearned.
"You haven't learned your lesson," said Hagood. "You tried to put him in a hole, but you never did it. George Chamberlain never was in a hole. The people stood by him and elected him the last time by a bigger majority than ever."

"Then you Republicans tried to put Harry Lane in a hole when he was mayor of Portland. Did you do it? About a week ago you voted in this house, after receiving the mandate of the people, to send him to the United States senate."

This onslaught from Hagood particularly riled Forbes of Crook, who stood for the vetoed bill, and he retorted with personalities until he was called down by the speaker for violating the rules of the house.

"When Hagood takes such a course to secure votes against this bill he is false to his constituents and proves himself unfit to sit in this house," the Crook county member fairly shouted.

To Forfeit of Votes Upheld.
Others spoke upon the bill and upon Hagood's speech, and Speaker McArthur read the headlines and a portion of a story printed in The Journal showing that 70 per cent of the governor's vetoes had been already sustained. He wanted to know whether the governor was being put in a hole.

When the vote was taken the result stood 38 for the bill, 17 against, and five absent. As it requires a two-thirds majority to pass a measure over the governor's veto, there was a rush to the speaker's desk by members who wanted to help figure out whether the required majority had been obtained. The law was looked up to see whether it was necessary to have two-thirds of all the members or only two-thirds of those voting, and it was found that the latter provision was the law. So the bill was passed with one vote to the good.

LICENSE OF $10 FOR REALTY MEN

It Would Make Money and Act as a Regulator, Says Senator Moser.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—A revenue getter and real estate regulator is the title that may be applied to S. B. No. 227, introduced yesterday by Senator Gus C. Moser. He proposes in this bill to make all real estate brokers register with the secretary of state and pay $10 for the privilege, with an annual renewal license thereafter of $5.

A commission of five, four to be named from among real estate dealers, is to be appointed by the governor. If any agent is guilty of defrauding a principal, an action may be begun for revocation of license, with a right of trial by jury guaranteed to the accused. The penalty for violation of the act is a fine of $25 to $500 or a sentence of 1 to 30 days in jail.

stood 38 for the bill, 17 against, and five absent. As it requires a two-thirds majority to pass a measure over the governor's veto, there was a rush to the speaker's desk by members who wanted to help figure out whether the required majority had been obtained. The law was looked up to see whether it was necessary to have two-thirds of all the members or only two-thirds of those voting, and it was found that the latter provision was the law. So the bill was passed with one vote to the good.

2 SENATE INVESTIGATORS IN W. T. GARDNER CASE

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—President Maloney has announced the appointment of Senators Day and Patton as members on the part of the senate of the committee to investigate the boys' and girls' aid society of Portland and the conduct of the superintendent, W. T. Gardner, against whom charges have been made.

MOOSERS WOULD SLIP UNDER WIRE

Bill to Enable Them to Participate in 1914 Primaries Is Now Ready.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—Invading Salem for the purpose of putting the Progressive party on the political map and otherwise advancing legislation favored by the Bull Moosers, a portion of the legislative committee of that party appeared yesterday afternoon. B. E. Kennedy, chairman of the delegation, and T. B. Neuhausen, new chairman of the Progressive state committee, brought from Portland the bills in which they are most interested.

Chief of these is one which changes the basis of official party recognition in Oregon from 25 per cent of the vote cast for congressional to 20 per cent of the vote for presidential electors. Under the present law, the Bull Moosers will have no right to participate in the primaries in 1914. If the bill proposed is passed, it will give the third party a right to nominate at the primaries, instead of forcing it to hold conventions. Another bill calls for the election of national committeemen of each party at the primaries. This is an echo, possibly, of the resentment of the Bull Moosers over the choice of Ralph E. Williams as national committeeman from Oregon at the Chicago convention, after the state had declared for Roosevelt and elected a majority of La Follette or Roosevelt delegates to represent it.

PORTLAND COUNTY INTENT OF BILL?

Speaker McArthur Proposes Amendment That Would Make It Possible.

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—To give the city of Portland and county governments is the evident purpose of a house joint resolution introduced yesterday afternoon by Speaker McArthur. It provides for an amendment of section 4 of article 15 of the constitution. This amendment provides that where a county contains a city of over 100,000 population, by an act of the legislature, or by the initiative, the boundaries of the city and the county may be made to correspond, and the outlying parts of the county can be annexed to adjoining counties.

SPRING CREEK HATCHERY ISSUE NEAR SETTLEMENT

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—There is now a prospect of a compromise on the Spring creek fish hatchery bill, which was vetoed by the governor after the close of the last session of the legislature. This bill, S. B. 224, came up yesterday for a final vote in the house, but Chairman Epton, of the committee on vetoed bills, explained that there was a possibility of the committee effecting a compromise with the fish and game department, which is strongly opposed to the bill, and upon his recommendation the measure was referred again to the Klamath county delegation.

GOV. WEST PROMISES TO VISIT EUREKA IN AUGUST

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—Governor West yesterday accepted an invitation to attend a big good roads meeting at Eureka, Cal., next August, when the governors of Pacific coast states, Samuel Hill, and many men noted in the movement for good highways, will be the guests of the California city. The invitation was extended by Rufus Wilson, who recently removed from Seattle to Eureka, where he has become the head of an advertising campaign that is to extend over a period of three years. Governor West, Governor Lister of Washington and other northwest visitors are to be taken from Red Bluff, Cal., by auto to Eureka.

U. S. SENATORS URGED TO SUPPORT HEALTH BILL

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—Senator Perkins yesterday secured the adoption of a memorial appealing to the Oregon senators in congress to support the health regulation bill pending before congress, authored by Senator Owen of Oklahoma. This is the bill which is meeting with such strenuous opposition from Senator Works of California, a Christian Scientist, and a number of other interests, who claim it infringes upon their religious opinions. The bill provides for coordinating the work of the marine hospital service, the public health service and the food and drug division of the bureau of chemistry and vital statistics. The senate adopted the memorial without a dissenting vote.

HOUSE VOTES FOR NEW PUNISHMENT

Only Eight Oppose Sterilization on Final Ballot on Measure in House.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—When the test came, after a great deal of bluster yesterday afternoon, only eight representatives voted against the Lovell sterilization bill. These eight men were Belland, Chapman, Childs, Handley, Heltzel, Johnson, Mitchell and Murman, Campbell, Logren and Stanfield were absent. So the bill passed by a large majority.

In the course of the debate Heltzel and Belland quoted scripture in an effort to show that the divine teachings were opposed to subjecting man to the punishment imposed by the measure. Heltzel quoted the first verse of the 23d chapter of Deuteronomy, while Belland referred to the story of the creation as told in Genesis.

On the other hand, Howard of Douglas, a minister, quoted scriptures in support of those favoring the bill.

"There are crimes before which murder pales," he declared. "Who wouldn't rather see his sister or his daughter buried than see her fall the victim of such moral perverses as are defined in this bill?"

"If such a man came into my home and accomplished the downfall of my daughter I would take a gun and kill him as quick as I would a yellow dog," vehemently cried Scheibel of Clackamas.

"Then what would happen to you under this bill?" interrupted Mitchell of Baker, who led the opposition to the bill.

"I would take my chances," retorted Scheibel, the reply being greeted with applause.

"I think the speakers are taking a one-sided view of this bill, the same as society has done for a good many years," said Scheibel. "As soon as a girl goes wrong you point the finger of scorn at her, and I want to say that the same finger of scorn should be pointed at the man."

He derided the view that the woman should be punished by being made an outcast and the man should escape.

"This bill is not aimed at the clean young man or woman, and I am surprised at the arguments being made in its defense," he said.

Heltzel of Marion opposed the bill, and said he did not think it would be a remedy for any of the evils it was intended to reach.

Spencer of Multnomah objected to the bill, because he said it did not contain proper safeguards.

"I'm surprised that anyone has raised a voice against this act," said Speaker McArthur. "This bill is a matter of protection to society, and we have a class of criminals against whom society needs protection."

He said he did not think there was one chance in a thousand that an innocent person would ever be made to suffer by reason of the act.

Take the class of perverses as revealed in Portland," he said. "I don't think there is a man in this house who does not believe that such perverses should come within purview of this act."

Hagood and Olson of Multnomah and Bonebrake of Benton spoke in support of the bill.

"We are dealing with the lowest order of beasts and brutes, individuals who have sunk so low that they are no longer entitled to be called men," declared Hagood. He pointed in particular to white slavers.

WILLIAMS STATUE IDEA PROGRESSES

Special Senate Committee Recommends One Costing $25,000.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—A memorial statue of George H. Williams of heroic size and costing $25,000 is recommended in the report of the special committee of the senate to which was referred a communication from the commission of investigation appointed by the governor by authority of the last legislature. A bill appropriating the money probably will be introduced in a day or two. The statue is to be given a prominent place in Memorial hall, in the national capitol, each state being allowed to honor the memory of two of its distinguished citizens in this manner. The committee suggests that the marble should represent the late Judge Williams as he appeared when pleading a case in court.

7 JUDGES PROPOSED FOR SUPREME COURT

(Staff Correspondence.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 4.—Increase of the supreme court from five to seven members, as provided in a bill introduced by Senator Butler, was approved by the senate committee on judiciary last night and will come before the senate for action tomorrow.

The bill creates two departments of the supreme court, of three judges each, and determines class, except such matters as may be heard by the court en banc. This plan, it is argued, would make practically two supreme courts and thereby greatly lighten the duties of cases. An amendment was approved to the bill fixing the allowance for additional clerk and stenographer bills for the supreme court at $6000 per year.

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

By a Specialist.
That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you. Get 2 ozs. of ordinary Lavona de Cologne (a well known and inexpensive herb extract), and mix half of it with 8 ozs. of common Bay Rum and 1/2 drachm (about 10 cts. worth) of Menthol Crystals in an 8 oz. bottle. After three days use, the other half of the Lavona de Cologne be added to properly increase the strength of the compound when hair growth begins. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the fingers. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of 20-Kalos perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color. Caution: Do not apply where hair is not desired, and be sure to avoid tonics containing poisonous wood alcohol.
