

PRIDE IN DEEDS TAKES EDGE OFF GRIEF OF BRITISH

Heroism of Captain Scott and Party in Winning South Pole Arouses Patriotic Spirit to the Highest Point.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Feb. 11.—The keen edge of grief felt yesterday by the English race over the death of Scott and the remains of his exploring expedition was worn off today by realization that Scott attained his life's ambition before he died.

"Antarctic travel," said Vice President Freshfield, of the Royal Geographical society, "would not be what it is—a training ground for the highest qualities of the British race—if these perils could be avoided."

The heroic deeds of Scott and his party have caused a glow of pride in every Englishman that the sting of death cannot dim and the nation's patriotic spirit is more aroused over the affair than by any happening of recent years.

Roosevelt Expresses Grief. (United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Feb. 11.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt issued a statement here today expressing deep grief at the death of Captain Robert F. Scott, polar explorer, and sympathy for his bereaved wife.

Sympathy From Peary Club. (United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Feb. 11.—The Peary Arctic club cabled today to the Royal Geographical society of London its sympathy for the death of Captain Scott.

"Surely misfortune could scarcely have exceeded this last blow. We arrived within 11 miles of our old One Ton camp with fuel for one hot meal and food for two days. For four days we have been unable to leave the tent and a terrific gale has been blowing about us. We are weak. Writing is difficult.

"But for our own sake I do not regret this journey which has shown us that Englishmen can endure hardships, help one another and meet death with as great fortitude as ever in the past. We took risks. We know we took them. Things have come out against us, and therefore we have no cause for complaint. We bow to the will of Providence, determined still to do our best until the last."

Appeal From Dying Man. "But if we have been willing to give our lives to this enterprise, which is for the honor of our country, I appeal to our countrymen to see that those who depend upon us are properly cared for. Had we lived I should have had a tale to tell of the hardships, endurance and courage of my companions which would have stirred the heart of all Englishmen."

"These rough notes on our dead bodies must tell the tale, but surely a rich country like ours will see that those who depend upon us are properly provided for." R. SCOTT.

glory, children and wife. Then, across the bright horizon of hope and longing, came the shadow of defeat and, perhaps, death appeared.

Scott's brave spirit was used to hard things and he brushed aside other encroaching perils many times before.

Attacked by Scurvy. First, as I picture it, scurvy—that most horrible of all diseases—began to attack the returning victors. They had been cutting down food, because perhaps they had taken inadequate supplies owing to the fact that they themselves were dragging the loaded sledges, Captain Evans of the Terra Nova was stricken with scurvy a few days after his return. This shows that the germs of the disease were present. Scurvy, inconceivable cold and low provisions then began their deadly work. One of the men finally fell exhausted. There were no dogs to pull him on the sledges. The other four men, themselves suffering terribly from disease, cold and hunger, attempted to save their companion by drawing him across the snow. The burden was almost too much.

On and on, sick, freezing and starving, the little party staggered over the blinding glare of eternal ice and snow, looking, always looking, for that provision depot—that life saver. But it never came.

When the End Came. At last the truth must have reached them—they had missed it. But they went on. All now, perhaps, were consumed by scurvy. Parts of their bodies were continuously frozen. Their suffering must have been terrible. I am conservative when I say it must have been the most horrible tragedy that ever occurred in a region where tragedies are almost commonplace.

Then one day when it seemed help must come, a great blizzard set in—the most terrible blizzard Scott ever encountered. It was too much for the tempest-tossed, disease-eaten, freezing, starving men. So they pitched their little tent in the middle of the blizzard—to die.

And there they found them—huddled together, frozen and starved and sickened to death. But their deaths are more triumphant than most of our lives. For they left records—Scott left a record—for honesty, sincerity and bravery—everything that makes a man.

And this, to me, is greater than having discovered the pole.

Well, Portland has become big enough for a few trunks, and quite likely is up to date in that respect.

MADERO LEAVES CAPITAL; PORFIRIO DIAZ MAY RETURN

General Huerta, a loyal federal commander, are progressing satisfactorily."

Capata Will Join Diaz.

General Zapata, with a large force, is reported marching on the capital to join General Diaz.

The Madero administration was dealt another body blow today when General Angeles, on whom President Madero had depended for support, led his command to the arsenal, where Diaz is fortified and joined the revolutionists.

The Mexican president's hurried flight to Chapultepec Sunday night caused the reports that he and his family had left for the eastern coast.

Madero, it developed today, has but 1500 troops still loyal to his cause, while it is estimated that Diaz' rebel force exceeds 3000 men. Both Diaz and Madero are confident of success, but the rebel commander is admitted to have every advantage.

Will Protect Americans.

"The revolt is progressing," said Diaz early today, "and within a few hours will have been settled. All chances favor us. You can give assurance that my future policy will be to protect American property and citizens in Mexico City, as I did when I controlled the seaport of Vera Cruz."

The movements of General Angeles have been mysterious since the outbreak of the Diaz revolt. First reports, issued by a Madero official, announced that he was hurrying to the capital at

Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

"Home shampooing among society women is rapidly gaining in popularity," says Mae Martyn, writing for the Boston American. "This is not a fad or fancy, but rather because splendid results are attained in this manner, through the use of canthrox."

"If you would have luxuriant growth of glossy hair, try this easy way of shampooing: Dissolve a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water, then pour on the scalp and rub vigorously for a few minutes, after which the hair and scalp should be rinsed carefully. When the hair is dry you will be delighted with its fluffy, glossy condition."

While canthrox is not expensive, you should be careful to get it in an original package.—Adv.

UNITED STATES WILL NOT INTERVENE IN THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Feb. 11.—Heavy pressure for American intervention in Mexico was brought to bear today on President Taft and Secretary of State Knox by capitalists, financiers and representatives of "big business." This was followed by the official announcement that the present administration would not swerve from the nonintervention policy it has maintained throughout the disturbances in the southern republic.

Only one condition, it was stated, would cause Uncle Sam to step in and restore normal conditions in Mexico. Should American life and property be jeopardized by conditions there, both the army and navy stand ready for immediate action. Military experts long ago determined just where to mobilize, and send troops if the necessity should arise.

Rankin Ordered Released.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Diego, Cal., Feb. 11.—Immediate release of Roy Rankin of Los Angeles from the jail at Tijuana, Mex., was ordered today by Jose I'Espinoza Ayala, governor of Lower California.

Rankin, a secret service officer connected with the office of District Attorney Fredericks of Los Angeles, was shot by a Mexican soldier early Monday morning, and although seriously wounded, his appeal for medical assistance was refused. This resulted in immediate action by Fredericks. An appeal was telegraphed to Washington, and the governor of Lower California was appealed to by the American consul at Ensenada. Rankin was shot while he and Guy Rockwell, also of the Los Angeles district attorney's office, were returning to their hotel at the Mexico town. The circumstances surrounding the matter have not been cleared up. Rockwell and Rankin declared they were shot without provocation after answering the soldiers' challenge.

Diaz Asks "Hands Off."

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Feb. 11.—A strong plea for the United States to "keep hands off" is voiced today by General Felix Diaz, the rebel leader now reported in control of Mexico City, in a telegram received by the United Press.

"There is no reason at all for intervention," telegraphed Diaz. "I am strongly of the opinion that there is no necessity for foreign aid."

'PORTLAND COUNTY' GETS ON BALLOT IN '14

(Staff Correspondence.) Salem, Or., Feb. 11.—Spencer McArthur's plan to submit an amendment to the people in 1914 to allow consolidation of the city of Portland and county of Multnomah was adopted in the senate this morning, insuring it a place on the ballot in that year.

Senator Dimick was worried by the possibility that the eastern part of Clackamas county will under such a plan be annexed to the eastern part of Multnomah. Moser of Multnomah asured him that Multnomah has no designs on adjoining counties, and asserted that if Clackamas is affected either way, that county may secure a part of Multnomah after the boundaries of the consolidated territory are fixed.

The amendment, if adopted, will not of itself effect a consolidation, merely enabling the people of Multnomah to combine city and county government if they desire.

HE REDUCED 57 POUNDS

New Method of Flesh Reduction Proves Astonishingly Successful. Jointown, Pa., Feb. 11.—Investigation has fully established that Hon. H. T. Stetler, of this city, has reduced his weight 57 pounds in an incredible short time by wearing a simple, invisible device, weighing less than an ounce.

This, when worn as directed, acts as an infallible flesh reducer, dispensing entirely with fasting, medicines, exercises. Many prominent men and women have adopted this easy means of reducing superfluous flesh, and it is stated the inventor, Professor E. F. Burns, of No. 17 West Thirty-eighth street, New York, is sending these outfits on free trial to all who write him. Adv.
