PROVES SUCCESSFUL

By J. L. W. In her inwitation recital in the Lin coln High school auditorium last night, Mrs. Elfrieda Heller Weinstein, soprano, made a very favorable impression. It was her first appearance in concert since her return from a year's coaching in vocal and operatic work in Europe, and the audience was somewhat eager to note the result.

Mrs. Weinstein is more of the lyric soprano than before her departure for Europe, and her program was essentially lyric with the exception of "Brunhilde's Croy." from the "Valkyrie." which she gave for an encore with even greater dramatic power and temperament than when she sang it here before. It demonstrated that the short time the singer had at her disposal in the music centers of Europe was used to very good advantage, None of last night's songs were in English. They were in German, French, Italian and Croatian, the latter represented by two songs of Vjekoslav Ruzic, a modern composer. These were probably the most pleasing of the entire list, which included arias from Massenet's "Thais" and "Le Cid," aria from Puccini's "La Tosca," Richard Strauss "Befreit," Smetana's "Lerchenlied" and Debussy's "Beau Soir" and "Mandoline." The last named, too, was very charmingly rendered.

Mrs. Weinstein has a very charming stage appearance and sang with ease and perfect confidence. The J. Hutchison played the accompaniments very artistically.
