

FAILURE OF PUSH DILL IS APPALLING DISASTROUS TO PORT

Leaves Way Open for San Francisco and Puget Sound to Outstrip Portland, Asserts Writer.

By J. B. Ziegler. The failure of the legislature to pass the dock bill is such an appalling disaster to the fortunes of this port at this critical period in its history that one who cares may, naturally, feel not only discouraged, but stunned.

Our rivals, San Francisco and Puget sound, have long ago conserved their waterfront properties as an asset toward the creation of public terminals which command the respect of transportation lines, and invite the cooperation of those who like not our interior waterways.

Of course, the public after having been forced out of its natural and legal possession by the morbid and silly generosity of our legal representatives to riparian owners, can invoke its right of eminent domain and secure back at a cost of $1000 per front foot, more or less, what the aforesaid that dear and judicious, joyous and public spirited representatives granted—no, not granted, they couldn't do that, but manipulated away "free, gratis, for nothing."

Charges Criminal Conspiracy. I have read enough of the law on the subject to have no hesitancy in proclaiming that a criminal conspiracy exists against the public interest.

The last are so clear, emphatic and vigorously expressed, that they cannot be misinterpreted. Hear him—in Parker vs. West Coast Packing company—elaborating opinions in Johnson vs. Knott and other cases:

"That an owner of land bounded by navigable waters possesses important riparian rights by virtue of such ownership is not open to question. He has the privilege of building a wharf out to deep water, and may apply such frontage to any use not inconsistent with the rights of the public. He may reserve the rights to himself when he conveys away the land above high water mark to which they pertain, or he may grant them to others to enjoy, but in subordination to the public right of navigation. Such rights (riparian), however, are here incorporated herewith into a land below high water mark upon a navigable river, and which constitute a part of its bed, belongs to the state in its sovereign capacity, subject to the riparian rights of the owner of the land above and adjacent thereto. The state, however, cannot sell it, nor can the state control its use, except to increase the facilities for navigation and commerce. Nor can the riparian owner grant such land or any right thereon, except such right as himself is entitled to enjoy. * * * The deed, whatever its form, only operated as a grant of a right to erect structures in the interest of navigation, and it is limited by the stipulations of reservation in the deeds conveying the upland, yet the grantees had no more tangible interest than the original upland owner, which is not enough to recover in an action in the form brought. An action of ejectment will not be to recover possession of an incorporeal thing, as no possession can be given of such species of property."

Not Real Property. This decision was in effect that riparian rights to the beds of rivers below high water line are not real property.

Justice Lord went further and declared them to be merely licenses revocable by the state at will, unrevocable of. He also held, contrary to Justice Thayer, that "the riparian owner has no rights below ordinary high water mark, except such as the state sees fit to grant."

Two Girls Tell Story of Their Illness and How They Found Relief.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because my periods were suppressed and I had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, held in strict confidence.

SMART SET READY FOR BENEFIT SHOW

Rehearsals Go Without Hitch; Musical Comedy Opens Tonight.

All is ready for the big society show which opens for three performances at the Healy theatre tonight, and which, if predictions are fulfilled, will reap a most financial harvest for the New-boys' Home.

Final rehearsals were held yesterday afternoon and this morning, with full settings of the elaborate scenery, orchestration and everything complete.

The fund which is to be raised by the undertaking will be used for meeting the annual payment on the New-boys' Home property on Street street, between College and Hall, and to further equip the club house which is the joy, and incidentally the most wholesome possible influence for the 200 little new-boys of the city.

"The College Pennant" is a musical comedy in four acts, with many bright song hits, "whitely tunes" and jingly music. It is being put on by 50 men and women and boys and girls of Portland's most fashionable society.

Mrs. Harry Litt and Joseph Ferguson will have the two lead roles, Miss Marjorie Hausman will have a prima donna role; to Miss Elaine Carroll will fall the soprano specialties; Leo Shapiro, Gus Cramer and Nisim Abrahamson are working up the "Dutch" comedy of the piece; Nisim Abrahamson will play with Leo Shapiro tonight, and Gus Cramer at the matinee and evening performance tomorrow, in the Teutonic team. Philip Furbeck and Mrs. G. J. Frankel will also have comedy roles, impersonating an Iowa farmer and his wife; William Edri will give a correct imitation of a Pinkerton detective; Maurice Crumpacker will have the role of a gruff steamship captain, and Miss Clara Biles, Miss Margaret Webber, Miss Delberta Stuart, Miss Dorothy Wooster, Miss Neva Boniewicz, Miss Helen Adams, Miss Nell Brady.

ITCHING, CRUSTED ECZEMA IS CURED By a Single Jar of Resinol After Many Remedies Had Failed.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 27, 1915. ... would be very wrong not to tell you what Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap have done for me. My baby has been born with a rough skin. It kept getting worse all the time. It became weeping eczema and at times a thick crust would form. He would cry and itch most all the time. I cannot tell you all the remedies and salves I used before I sent for Resinol ointment.

"At once I washed him with Resinol Soap and put on Resinol Ointment. He slept for three hours. When he awoke I washed him again and, like a miracle, the scabs dropped off and have never returned. You would not have known him! Then I bought Resinol Soap and a large jar of Ointment, but before it was all used, baby was well. I would not be without Resinol Ointment and Soap. I have recommended them to all my friends." (Signed) Mrs. Katie Markert, 178 Ralph street.

If you or any of your little ones are suffering from eczema, rash, itching, ringworm, or other itching, burning skin eruption, there is only one better product of the value of Resinol. That is, try yourself and see! You can buy Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap at any drug store, or can get Resinol free by writing to Dept. 5-T, Resinol Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md. Resinol stops itching instantly. Prescribed by careful doctors for sixteen years.
