

CAPITAL CITY IS REAL PROUD OF ITS NEW BRIDGE

Whole Volley Is Invited Down to Salem Tomorrow to Shake Hands and Have a Good Time.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Ore., March 14.—This city has donned its "glad rags." It is dressed in gala attire today in anticipation of the big celebration to be held tomorrow in honor of the completion of the $250,000 railroad bridge across the Willamette river, which connects the Salem & Falls City branch of the Harriman lines with the Fir branch. Another link in the big system being constructed in the Willamette valley by the Harriman interests has been completed and the people of the valley are going to show their appreciation by the big jubilation tomorrow.

The officers of the Salem Board of Trade, which is handling the affair, have received assurances from practically every town and hamlet in this portion of the valley that they will be well represented here. Albany, Corvallis, Silverton and all the others are expected to send big delegations. A band will accompany the crowd from Corvallis.

Officials of the southern Pacific company and the Portland, Eugene & Eastern will be here. At 9 o'clock Saturday morning citizens with automobiles will assemble at the Board of Trade, and from there will go to meet trains carrying incoming visitors. At 10 o'clock the program of children's races will begin on Court street, between Liberty and Commercial. At noon the railroad officials will be guests at a luncheon at the Marion hotel.

A grand parade, including about 200 decorated automobiles, will be a feature at 2 o'clock. From 2 to 5 o'clock the visitors who desire can take in the free moving picture show at the Grand opera house.

At 3 o'clock a program of speeches will be held at the armory, or in Wilson park, if the weather permits.

In the evening at 8:30 o'clock a big banquet will be given at the Marion hotel. The city is decorated in flags and bunting, and every effort is being made to make this one of the biggest celebrations ever held here.

MAZAMAS TO VISIT OREGON MARBLE CAVES

(Special to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Ore., March 14.—The Grants Pass Commercial club has completed arrangements for the visit of the Mazamas to the Oregon Marble Caves in Josephine county starting Friday, May 30. One hundred of the mountain climbers are expected to participate. Twenty-five automobiles will transport them to Stevens, at the end of the Williams creek wagon road, nine miles from the cave entrance. There is only a foot trail from Stevens to the caves, and it is proposed to make about six or seven miles and go into camp till Saturday morning. Saturday will be spent in exploring the chambers and passages of the caves. Sunday morning the descent will be made in time to catch the evening train for Portland.

LITTLE HOPE HELD OUT FOR DR. BLALOCK'S LIFE

Walla Walla, Wash., March 14.—Dr. N. G. Blalock, pioneer physician, who was found unconscious at the hospital yesterday afternoon after a stroke of paralysis, was removed to the office at 10:30 this morning. He had not regained consciousness and little hope for his recovery is entertained.

Try the New Way of Curing Corns

Easy as One, Two, Three! No Pains, No Pain, by Using "GETS-IT."

Just take two seconds to put a little "GETS-IT" on that corn. That corn is "done for," as sure as the sun rises. The corn shrivels up, vanishes. That's the surprise you get by using

"When I Think of All the Things I Tried for Corns and Fungus, and 'GETS-IT' Got 'em in a Hurry."

This new-plan corn cure. There's nothing to stick to the stinging of sock. Your corns pain stop. You've saved the bother of applying plasters that make the corn huge and hot from the heat. You've saved saliva that eat into the healthy flesh and "pull" to more causing with bandages. You don't have to keep picking and dragging out your corns or cutting with knives or razors.

"GETS-IT" is safe, painless, stops pain, never hurts healthy flesh. It is guaranteed. Try it on warts, calluses and bunions, too.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists. It costs 25 cents a bottle or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Co.

RANCHES BATTLE OVER FENCED ROAD

L. R. Culp Has Bullet in Leg and Two Are Under Arrest at Vale.

(Special to The Journal.) Vale, Ore., March 14.—L. R. Culp is in the hospital and he and Henry McNece are under arrest as the result of a shooting which took place on the Owyhee, about 10 miles southeast of Vale, yesterday afternoon. Both have been bound over to the grand jury.

Culp fenced a road passing through the Huffman ranch, on which he resides, and when McNece, accompanied by his nephews and C. M. Barton, drove up with their wagons, they were forbidden to pass through the ranch. Culp notified the men that they must go around, and that he would shoot the man who attempted to cut the wire.

Barton cut the wire, whereupon Culp fired upon him, sending a bullet dangerously close to his head. McNece, springing from his wagon, returned the fire. After firing several shots, Culp fell, with a bullet wound through his left leg. McNece went to the house of a neighbor, notified him of the shooting and told him to go and see how badly Culp was injured.

FACTS MAY BE PLACED BEFORE GRAND JURY

In an informal conference yesterday afternoon between Postal Inspector Harry G. Durand and United States Attorney Johnson, it was tentatively agreed that the matter of the Inter-Continental Salvage company and the Sisson diving bell proposition shall be laid before the federal grand jury, which meets sometime in April. It is hardly likely that a complaint against the company will be made at this time which will result in arrests being made.

Inspector Durand had a short and not very satisfactory interview with W. D. Sisson, "inventor" of the bell yesterday. Sisson stoutly maintained that he was going to continue selling stock in the company and that he would continue to push his invention into practical operation.

The publicity that has attended this case has caused the postoffice inspectors to be flooded with complaints. People by the dozens with letters and literature calling for different investments, have appeared with tales of how they have been defrauded. Some of these schemes are so palpably of this air, it is said; that the postoffice officials will make further investigation, but in many cases they are not in the jurisdiction of the government. There are nearly a dozen of this kind now before Mr. Durand and his associates and the literature describes lucrative propositions all the way from investment in mining properties in the Cascades to the financing of a marriage bureau on new lines.

BANK IN NEW HOME; FORMAL OPENING HELD

The formal opening of the Commerce Trust & Savings bank, formerly the Merchants' Savings & Trust company, in its new quarters in the Shasta building, Morrison and Park is in progress today.

For some time the officers of this institution realized that it had outgrown its old location at Sixth and Washington streets, and that a change would be necessary.

February 24 the bank moved into the ground floor of the handsome new structure at Park and Morrison streets. The new quarters gives the bank about double the space that it formerly had. Elegant new mahogany fixtures have been installed, a modern burglar and fireproof vault extending from the basement to the second floor has just been completed.

The officers of the bank are: W. H. Fear, president; Lee H. Johnson, vice-president; O. C. Bortzmeier, cashier, and Walter H. Brown, assistant cashier. The board of directors is composed of the following: A. Welch, general manager of the Washington-Oregon corporation; J. B. Holbrook, president of the Holbrook Investment company; George N. Davis, judge of the circuit court; F. W. development company.

Mr. Johnson, the vice-president, has only recently come into the organization as an active officer. He has had a number of years of banking experience in eastern Washington.

THREE NEW PAPERS IN MALHEUR COUNTY

(Special to The Journal.) Vale, Ore., March 14.—Malheur county is soon to have two, and perhaps three, new weekly papers, which are to be established at Brogan, Malheur City and Westfall, respectively. D. M. Brogan, who built a railroad to the new town of Brogan, on the Willamette creek, north of Vale, is promoting the paper at that place, the first issue of which will appear within a week or so. The one at Malheur City comes as a result of the mining excitement, which has been on at that place during the past few months, and whereby the population has increased to such an extent as to demand a newspaper. The paper at Westfall has become a necessity by reason of development along the new railroad line and increased population in that section, caused by the Bully creek land project.

Mrs. J. M. McCoy Dies at Wamic. Wamic, Ore., March 14.—Mrs. Martha Emma McCoy, wife of James M. McCoy, died at her home Monday of tuberculosis. Mrs. McCoy was the daughter of one of the oldest pioneer families of the state, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lucas, who for over 50 years were residents of Oregon, having crossed the prairie by ox team.

Mrs. McCoy was born at The Dalles on July 9, 1871, at which place she resided until the family moved to this place, where she was married to Mr. McCoy July 23, 1889. Eight children were born to the union, seven of whom survive: Francis M. James Lewis, Delbert, Loyd, Minnie, Hollister and Wilton. Brothers and sisters who survive are Mrs. Tim Beatty of Hood River, Mrs. P. M. Driver, W. H. Lucas and George W. Lucas of this place.

WOMAN FLED WITH STONES CONN STATE

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, March 14.—Due to the fact that all the precious stones were piled from their settings in the plunder of Owen D. Conn, the "$100,000 burglar," captured here, the police are finding it difficult to identify the pieces for the owners. It is believed that Kitty Pope, Conn's alleged accomplice, fled with the stones.

Search for the woman was continued today. The police in the principal cities of the country have been asked to keep a lookout for her. The report that she may be with relatives in Detroit is being investigated.

CATS AND RATS MEET DEATH IN BARN FIRE

The only livestock to lose their lives in the fire that destroyed the remains of the big barn on the Ladd place south of the Reed Institute grounds last night was a countless number of rats and several cats. Half a dozen more or less singed felines dashed out from under the burning mass of timber during the evening.

The barn, a mammoth affair, four stories high, and over a hundred feet long, was being razed for a street that is being built through that portion of the Ladd estate. The whole structure was on the ground in an immense pile, and it is thought that the fire started from a carelessly tossed match that a laborer used on his pipe.

The blaze started about 7 o'clock and attracted attention in all parts of the city. The vivid column of flame and smoke was very deceptive, and some of the residents of the northeast portion of the city made a long dash to the scene. The fire could not be reached by the firemen, as there is no water within several blocks.

The barn was built in 1892, and was used in the raising of fine stock. It was constructed in a depression in the hills, and wagons from the tops of the hills surrounding could drive into the top floor of the barn by means of trestles.

WALLA WALLA SOLOMON AWARDS BABY TO MOTHER

(Special to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., March 14.—Modeling his decision after that of King Solomon, Judge E. C. Mills of the superior court yesterday gave Mrs. Elizabeth Hart custody of her little daughter.

Mrs. Hart is divorced from her former husband, Nat B. Hart, and he has the custody of their child, on condition that the child be placed in boarding school. Recently it became ill with the measles and the mother asked to be allowed to attend her daughter. Hart's mother also asked to take charge of it.

Judge Mills asked the grandmother if she would care for the younger woman's child, and she replied in the negative. But when the mother was asked if she would go to the home of her former husband to care for the child, she said: "I'd go anywhere for my baby."

Judge Mills gave her the child.

AUTO, IN COLLISION; CRASHES INTO STORE

In a collision last evening at Grand avenue and Burnside streets, the automobile of P. L. Harrecochou ran over the sidewalk and into the store of Skallerud & Co., breaking out the front window. The machine first collided with an auto driven by C. E. Bolds, with offices at 318 Board of Trade. In the car driven by Harrecochou were C. M. Williams, James Holman, C. L. Verne and J. Verne. None of the occupants was injured. Wong Tong, a Chinese merchant, was struck by an auto driven by H. J. Barbey, 266 Taylor street, last evening, causing a dislocation of the hip. The accident happened at Sixth and Couch streets.

PRESS CLUB KEEPING SURPRISE UP SLEEVE

The Portland Press club will have a number of surprises in store for those who attend the St. Patrick's day celebration in the club rooms next Monday night. While it has been announced the Messrs McCool, McCord, Murphy and other members of similar sounding patronymics are on the program to entertain, the committee in charge has a number of "stunts" up the sleeve that is promised will be especially appropriate. The affair will be informal.

Now Well After Using Eckman's Alternative

A Valuable Remedy for Throat and Lungs.

The makers of Eckman's Alternative, which is doing so much good for Consumptives, are continually in receipt of wonderful reports of recoveries brought about solely through the use of this medicine. These reports are always the command of any one interested and many of the writers in their gratitude have suggested that like sufferers write and learn what it did for them. Here is one specimen: 421 Second Ave., Aurora, Ill. "Gentlemen: Pardon me for not writing sooner, but I wanted to see if I would stay cured. I can now truthfully say I am perfectly well. I wish to express my heartfelt thanks. I have no pain, no cough, no night sweats, no hay fever. Since a child of two years, I have been ailing with lung trouble, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of three a doctor said I could not be saved unless I would strictly do of Consumption. Every winter I would be sure to have either Bronchitis, Pleurisy or Pneumonia. I had attacks of the stomach and bowels and had Hay Fever for the last few years; but have not anything of the kind this year. "I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering with lung trouble." ETTA PLATH. (Five years later reports still well.) Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in unobscured the system. Does not contain poison, opium or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

CAPTAIN BESLEY SEEKS A DIVORCE

Polo Player Trying to Clear Way for His Marriage to Los Angeles Belle.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, March 14.—Captain James Campbell Besley, soldier of fortune, polo player and mine owner, is moving through his attorneys to clear away barriers to a marriage he is reported to plan with Miss Elizabeth Modini Wood, a wealthy society girl of Los Angeles.

Besley, who is known as a polo player on the team with Lord Tweedmouth, Herbert and Leveson-Gower, has filed a petition in the superior court here to have made final an interlocutory decree of divorce granted him June 25, 1903, from Mrs. Margery Bennett Besley. All records of this divorce were lost in the San Francisco fire, and Besley now seeks to have them restored by the court and the interlocutory decree made final.

Besley's old marriage, which was contracted in Nome, 12 years ago, blocked his reported engagement to Miss Wood, when the fact that he was still a legally married man was revealed here some weeks ago. Mrs. Besley, it is reported, does not greet Besley's plan to free himself with pleasure, and a court fight is possible.

San Diego, Cal., March 14.—"I have nothing whatever to say, because there is nothing to say. I refuse to discuss the matter. Who is interested in it, anyway, except myself? Enough lime-light has been thrown on my private affairs without my adding to the glare."

These were the statements of Captain J. C. Besley at Coronado today when shown the report that he had taken steps to secure a final decree of divorce from his wife, who lives in San Francisco, in order that he might be free to marry Miss Wood of Los Angeles.

Besley refused to say whether a reconciliation had been brought about with the Los Angeles society belle. He said it was nobody's business.

SALEM IS TO HAVE MOTOR CAR SHOW, TOO

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Ore., March 14.—Salem is to have a real live automobile show, April 10-11-12, in the Armory. Joseph M. Reig, who managed the Portland show, has arranged to send a special exhibit and decorations. A number of Portland dealers are also asking for space for making exhibits.

YUCATAN NEARLY READY

Steamer Is to Be Put on Run to California Ports.

About three weeks will see the steamer Yucatan ready for the run between Portland, San Francisco, San Pedro and San Diego, according to the estimate of Henry Cave, chief engineer of the North Pacific Steamship company, who is in Portland for a few days on a visit. As she has no passenger accommodations since she was wrecked a couple of years ago in Alaskan waters, at which time she was bought by C. P. Doe, head of the North Pacific company, she will carry only freight for the present. As soon as her oil burning plant is installed and she is ready to go on the run the steamer Geo. W. Elder will be laid off to have new boilers installed and her machinery overhauled. It is probable that cabins and berths will be placed on the Yucatan as soon as possible so that she can go on the regular passenger run with the other steamers of the line.

Terrebonne Mail Service.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, March 14.—Representative Sinnott today took up with the post-office department the question of getting mail service six times a week between Terrebonne and the lower bridges.

ALIEN WOMEN NOT ON EQUALITY YET

Wife Must Wait Until Husband Becomes Citizen or Take Out Papers Herself.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Ore., March 14.—While the law provides that an alien man may vote in this state within a year after he has made his declaration of intentions to become a citizen, his wife will not be given the right of suffrage until he has completed his naturalization papers and is a full fledged citizen. This requires five years.

This is the interpretation of the law and constitution made by Attorney General Crawford in an opinion written today. The attorney general points out that a foreign born woman becomes a citizen when her husband, if he is an alien, becomes a citizen or when she marries a citizen. The state constitution provides that a person who is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention to become such is entitled to vote, but it does not say that the wife of a man who has declared his intention to become a citizen has the right of suffrage.

If a foreign born woman did not want to wait for the right of suffrage for five years while her husband is completing his naturalization, she could secure the right on her own account by making her declaration to become a citizen, points out the attorney general. She would not have to complete her naturalization, because she would become a full fledged citizen when her husband completed his naturalization.
