News for the Sunday society columns must be in the hands of the Society Editor, not later than Friday of each week and its receipt as much earlier as possible will be appreciated.

WERE you ever elected chairman of something or other and thereby had to take lists of names over a phone; lists that must be right? To appear on a program for instance. You worked hard. You glued the receiver to your ear. You used mental deduction but still they came to you thickly: Mrs. Ses Ses (you debate is it F. S. or C. S.?) If it is your first offense at such a responsible task, you take down the first impression you get from the hissing over the wire. If you have been there before the only thing you dare take down is the street number and the directory. You have a sigh of great content when that list goes to the printer. You never stop sighing after he has done his deadly deed with your copy. And then (climax! finale is near!) You meet your friends and then. The conversation runs thusly: "So sorry dear I was so busy I couldn't help you get out the program. How did you get along?" It looks nice. What a dandy lot of patronesses we have. Dear me! I should have read this over. This is wrong Mrs. X's initials are Frank S., not F. This should be P. E., not P. P., and George G. G., not George B. All wrong! And how you tried. You said to Mrs. X, Frank S. "Is for Sam or?" for Frank. An exasperated voice shouted back "No, No! Frank Ses. (Now did she say F or S? May be she is sensitive about that second name.) Then Mrs. A answered to your query. "Is the second initial 'B' for Bob or 'G' for George." "I don't know," came the answer. "There is no second name. Just the initial, Mrs. George B. or did she say George G. (Another secret you decide and put down George B.)

Sympathies extended. But still they will roast the press. "Always getting something wrong" is heard daily in grievous peevish accents.

WOULD RAISE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S PAY

An increase in the salary paid the Portland superintendent of schools so that the best educator in the country can be employed, is asked of the school board in a resolution adopted yesterday by the Northwestern University club. The statement of the club reads: "The Northwestern University club of Portland recognizes that the problem of filling the office of superintendent of schools of this city presents also an opportunity of the highest importance to public school interests of Portland. The club urges the school board to use great care and deliberation in selecting a man with the training, experience, sympathy for children and breadth of view to fill adequately this position. It is the judgment of the members of this club that the work of directing the organization, growth and conduct of the schools of this city is of such importance that a substantial increase in the superintendent's salary could properly be made, and that when the best man in the country for the superintendency is found a salary which will secure him for Portland should be offered."

Fried Chicken

(Cottolene Style)

The best fried chicken you ever ate can be made with Cottolene.

Cottolene

can be heated to a much higher temperature than either butter or lard, without burning. It fries so quickly that little of the fat is absorbed, preventing the food being greasy. For this reason, Cottolene-fried food is more healthful than food fried in butter or lard.

Cottolene is more economical than lard—goes one-third farther; costs very much less than butter.
