HOP SING GUNMAN CAME TO CITY ON PULMONARY ILL

Conductor Identifies Fong Gee Lung as One of 3 Chinese Passengers Three Days Before Murders.

Circumstantial evidence against Fong Gee Lung, the Chinese Hop Sing tong gunman who is held as a suspect in the killing of Lam Foon and Chung Ah Kuong in the Chinatown tong war last Sunday night, was revealed here today.

Previous to this three Pullman ticket stubs, all for March 19, had been found in Fong Gee Lung's suitcase.

The Pullman car conductor was found by Detectives Tichenor, Abbott, Vaughn and Hyde, who are working up the case against Fong and the other suspected Hop Sing gunmen.

Tichenor and Abbott today found three other important witnesses against Fong. Two of these witnesses will testify that they saw him in company with Huey Lung and Luey Hing, the gunmen named in the warrant of a coroner's jury last night as the slayers of Lam Foon.

These witnesses will tell that he was with the two gunmen in front of Lam Foon's store shortly prior to the murders, they say, which were committed on the same day.

After two days of deliberation, the coroner's jury last night, though fixing responsibility for the slaying of Lam Foon, had to return a verdict that the death of Chung Ah Kuong was caused by unknown persons.

It became known today that prominent Chinese are quietly discussing the project of organizing all law abiding Chinese in an effort to drive the Hop Sing tong and all its members out of Portland.

These Chinese, many of whom are tied up with no particular tongs, say that the actions of the bloodthirsty Hop Sing, who are comprised in great part of outlaws among the Chinese themselves, are bringing discredit on all Chinese of the city.

Part of the plan is for other Chinese to point out Hop Sing members to the police and have them arrested as vagrants. They could be sentenced to leave town by the municipal judge on pain of being given long sentences on the rockpile if they do not obey.

OLD FRIENDS GATHER AT DIVORCE COURT. (United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Cal., March 21.—An innovation in divorce litigation is established today, the result of the simultaneous appearance before Judge Monroe of Mr. and Mrs. Clement O. Peoples and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Burton, lifelong friends, all of Long Beach. As a result Mrs. Peoples was given a decree from her husband, while Burton was legally separated from his wife. The couple decreed ended a friendship that was begun in Iowa in 1885, when the two couples were married at the same time. Peoples and Mrs. Burton later decided they were wrongly mated.

"SEPTEMBER MORN." GETS HEARTY O. K. OF JURY OF 12 LAYMEN. (United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, March 21.—A printer, a farmer, a grocer and nine other laymen, sitting as a jury today, put the seal of artistic approval on Paul Chabas' painting, "September Morn." Chicago's sensitive police thought it was too much "in the altogether" to be displayed in an art store window. Chabas' picture, which is that of a nude girl, was ordered out of the window by the police. The proprietor of the art store refused, and resisted in the courts. Artists, clergymen and social workers gave expert testimony as to its purity or prurency for two days, and the jury finally gave the work its enthusiastic O. K.

TENDERLOIN BILL IS PASSED IN CALIFORNIA. (United Press Leased Wire.) Sacramento, Cal., March 21.—By 62 to 17 the lower half of the California legislature has voted to wipe out a tenderloin market for women. The five hours devoted to discussion of the Grant-Bonnett redlight abatement and injunction measure, as it is called, were not consumed in argument on the merits or faults of the bill so much as in explanation by practically every assemblyman of his prospective vote. The efficacy of the recall and of direct legislation by the people of the state was sounded in practically every speech before the final vote. After the vote, the representatives of the women from all over the state who had made this their great fight held a jubilation meeting. The senate will act on the bill within a few days.

KING ANXIOUS TO GET AT THE SUFFRAGETTES. (United Press Leased Wire.) London, March 21.—Working under the personal direction of officials of the home office, the police today are trying to locate the suffragettes who, early yesterday, set fire to Lady White's country home. It is believed that King George is personally interested, as his majesty has conferred frequently with Home Secretary McKenna since the outrage. It also is reported that bills enlarging the powers of the courts in dealing with suffragettes offenders will be introduced in the house of commons.
