CLEANING DAY AT GREAT SUCCESS

Students, Both Men and Women, Work With Will to Clean Campus for Coming Conference.

"Cleaning up the institution" was the watchword at Reed college Tuesday, when Professors Stahl, Torrey and Anderson, the entire faculty, responded to a call from the administration for help in cleaning up the campus, One hundred and thirty-two men and women spent the entire day at hard labor, and at night gathered around a crackling fire in the men's social room.

The college will soon have as guests at its conference on the "Conservation of Human Life" a crowd estimated by President W. T. Foster at 5000 persons. As adverse weather conditions have delayed the clearing and beautification of the grounds, it was believed impossible to get the campus ready for the reception of visitors by other than exceptional means.

By pruning trees, carrying and burn-ing rubbish, a large committee of women, in charge of Jannette Parker, prac-tically created a park in the natural grove at the western end of the campus. A gang of the men under the direction of Glenn Johnson, cleared away several unsightly stumps. The baseball field was put in better condition for the coming games. Planking was installed around the asphalt tennis courts, where mud has heretofore made playing some what unpleasant.

The most spectacular performance of the day was the removal of the old building formerly used as a pumping plant on the Ladd Crystal Springs farm. The men picked the building up bodily and carried it nearly a quarter of a mile to the edge of Crystal Springs lake, at the western end of the campus, where it will be used as a boathouse. The college furnished the noon lunch, and the dinner in the evening. The meals were prepared by a committee of the girls, of which Miss Agnes Winchell was the chairman, Marvin Howes was at the head of the student work, while the faculty commit-tee in charge of the day was Professor H. B. Hastings, Edward O. Sisson and Plans develop for the forthcoming conference on the "Conservation of Hu-man Life" at Reed college, with the siman Life' at Reed college, with the addition of several speakers and exhibits. Dr. Edward A. Steiner, of Grinnell college, has been invited to speak on immigration, of which subject he is an authority; Samuel Hill will illustrate an address on good roads with lantern slides; Professor L. M. Terman, of Leland Stanford university, will talk upon the subject "The Present Progress of School Hygiene"; Eugene S. Fisk is to School Hygiene"; Eugene S. Fisk is to speak upon "Linking the Life Insurance Companies to the Public Health Movement"; A. A. Flynn, of Pittsburg, Pa, of the federal bureau of mines, will talk upon mine inspection and rescue work. "Pure Water" is the subject of Professor T. D. Beckwith, of the University of Oregon.

Interesting exhibits will be provided City Chemist Gallaway, showing the wheeler, for the board of health, showing occupational diseases, and the state board of health and the Y. M. C. A.

President W. T. Foater and Dr. Ed-ward O. Sisson attended the meetings of the Inland Teachers' association, April 16-18, and both made several addresses.

Germans and Scandinavians to Confer With the State Immigration Agent.

State Immigration Agent C. C. Chap-man will probably hold a series of meetings with German and Scandinavian residents of Portland and the state for the purpose of getting the strongest kind of cooperation in the work that lies before the Oregon immigration commission to bring settlers to Oregon from northern Europe, the desire of which was expressed at a recent meeting of the commission.

Chapman believes that the people who have come here from northern Europe will be able to aid materially with suggestions how the work of arousing the interest of the people of these countries in Oregon, and he has placed before the commission a plan that if carried out will undoubtedly prove of very material value to the commission and to the immigration move-

Some organization in this state, made up chiefly of members of the nationmilities it is desired to attract, is thought very valuable in order to meet new comers on their arrival and ald them in getting located advantageously. this end, foreign born residents will be enlisted in a sort of advisory commit-

To make this plan most effective, it is suggested that conferences be held to which be invited representatives of each foreign speaking nation, German and Scandinavian consuls, state and national immigration officials, officers of development leagues and commercial clubs, the clergymen and lay delegates from each German and Scandinavian religious, commercial, fraternal or social organization. Foreign publications of the state have promised their cooperation and names are now being listed to whom notices of the proposed meetings will be mailed.

It is planned to divide the meetings as to nations, the idea being to hold German speaking people and other con-ferences with the Swedish, Norwegian, Finnish and Danish people.

Through these conferences the comstand the problems that will confront them in the prosecution of the immi-gration campaign.

KLABER ESTATE MUST PAY $3,300 IN TAXES

The estate of Herman Klaber, a vic-tim of the Titanic disaster, will pay the state of Oregon approximately $3360 in taxes, according to Deputy State Treasurer Ryan. The estate in Oregon amounts to about $122,000, and will pay about $1000 taxes. The remainder will come to the state as the result of the fecision of Probate Judge Cleeton that the personal property of the estate in Washington is subject to the inheritance tax law of this state. The personal property in Washington is valued at $178,000, and real property in the same state is worth $37,000 more. The real property cannot be taxed by Oregon, but Judge Cleeton holds that the personal property can when it comes into this state as it must before the estate Is .closed.

Judge Cleeton also ordered that the estate he appraised again. This order was occasioned by the fact that the property of the estate consisting of accounts of the hop firm of Klaber, Wolf & Netter was appraised 10 per cent below its actual value. Deputy Ryan objected to the reduction and Judge Cleeton sustained his objection. reduction was claimed to have been made to cover losses in collections. Atterney Joseph Simon, representing the heirs, objected to both proceedings, His objection in the first instance based on the assertion that the state of Washington would tax the property and that the Oregon tax would cover the same property taxed by Washington, thus subjecting the estate to double Wales Quite a Musician.

London, April 19.—During his stay at Stuttgart, the Prince of Wales is taking a course of lessons in music, both vocal and instrumental. Hitherto, conference with the Germans and with his other studies, the Prince has not been able to devote much attention to the art, but since his residence at Oxford he has developed an aptitude for the violin, on which his great-uncle, the late Grand Duke Alfred of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, was strikingly proficient. According to the Prince's tutors, he has capable of being developed by training into an admirable one.

FORTY-SIX BANKERS MEET AT SALEM AND ORGANIZE 'GROUP 2'

Hope to Get More Uniform Bank Assessments in Five Countles Represented.

Salem, Or., April 19 .- Forty-six bankers representing the 43 banks in Marion, Linn, Benton, Polk and Lincoln countles, met here today and organized the second group of the Oregon State Bankers' association. J. M. Poorman of Woodburn was elected chairman, J. H. Albert of Salem vice chairman, S. G. Sargent of Salem, secretary, and W. G. Vassall of Dallas, treasurer. An executive committee was appointed con-sisting of Mr. Poorman, Mr. Sargent, A. J. Johnson of Corvallis, W. P. Elmore of Brownsville and Ira C. Powell of Monmouth,

At the last annual convention of the Oregon State Bankers' association a ommittee was appointed to divide the state into six groups of banks, each group to be a subsidiary organization to the main association. The five counties represented here today were placed in group two, which is the first to of fect an organization. It was decided to meet twice a year, May and Novem-

At this afternoon's session by-laws were adopted and a general discussion was had on a number of subjects affecting the banking interests. Among them were "Uniform Taxation," " In-terest on Deposits," "Escrow and Exhange Charges," "Examinations." It was brought out that in Marion county only were the banks assessed at full The assessments in the others ranged from 70 per cent up. A committee was appointed to interview the assessors in the five counties and endeavor to have the assessments made uniform. It was felt that banks were being assessed higher than other classes of property.

A number of bankers from Portland attended the meeting, among them being F. A. Freeman of the Lumbermens National Bank, J. L. Hartman of Hartman & Thompson and also secretary of the State Bankers' association, R. J. MacDonald, assistant editor of the Paoffic Banker, Charles N. Hemphill, as-sistant cashler of the Northwestern Naional, and Mr. Jones of the Merchants

Tonight all the out-of-town bankers were the guests of the Salem bankers at a theatre party.

RICKREALL DECIDES TO PUT UP CANNERY

New Commercial Club Will Go Ahead With Numerous Improvement Plans.

(Special to The Journal.)
Rickreall, Or., April 19.—With a commercial club organized and a meeting held in which was decided the building of a creamery here, Rickreall is getting forward with rapid strides. The citizens will now proceed with numer-ous plans of civic improvement and will urge the starting of new industries. A loganberry concern in Salem has pur-chased a large tract of land just east of Rickreall where the berries, will be raised and the juice bottled for market. The company will employ many persons each year in harvesting the large crop planned for the factory.

A new band of 21 pieces gave its first

WOMEN VOLUNTEER TO SERVE AT ELECTION

More than a score of women yesterday answered City Auditor Barbur's appeal for more election clerks and judges for the primaries May 3. Some of the women who have offered their services are prominent in club circles and society. Every election the city auditor's office is confronted at the last minute with the problem of how to fill vacancies caused by failure of men appoint-ed for the various election boards to accept the appointments. This year the auditor resolved to invite the new voters to help him out of the difficulty. He is extremely pleased at the immediate response to his appeal.

LLOYD M'DOWELL OF G. N. IS IN PORTLAND

Lloyd MacDowell, publicity agent for the Great Northern, with headquarters at St. Paul, arrived in Portland yesterday to begin lining up a publicity campaign for this section of the country. He will probably remain in the state two or three months. Mr. McDowell has just completed a three months' trip with the Oregon-Washington-Montana exhibit cars through the central states. He says that more than 125,000 persons visited the cars and studied with the keenest enthusiasm the displays of agricultural and horticultural products.
