MORE CHICKENS ARE COMING

There were somewhat greater offerings of chickens on the local trade during the day, but conditions remained good and there was little if any change

FIRST CAR OF NEW ONIONS

First carload of new onions of the season was received from Taxas today. The stock was only in fair condition, and not nearly as good as the old local atock which is being freely offered at 75c a cental along the street.

CHEESE MOVEMENT IS GOOD

There continues an excellent move-ment in the cheese trade. While pres-ent business is confined almost exclu-sively to the local field, still all offer-ings are being absorbed at the prices formerly in effect.

VEAL MARKET IS GOOD

There is quite a good market along the street for country killed calves today. While sales of best quality were generally made at 14c a pound, occasional transactions were reported ½c above this. Market for hogs was steady along the street today.

GOOD APPLES ARE SCARCE

Scarcity is shown in offerings of good quality apples on the local market at this time. There is only a small amount of desirable sizes to be had, and the trade does not take kindly to the small fruit.

LOOSING MONEY IN GRASS

Practically every wholesale handler of asparagus has lost money recently. There is a badly glutted market for anything except the best green stock. It is hard to sell white grass at any price, and previous purchases of this stock

Higher Prices but Local Trade Tariff Taken Too Seriously Here,

Interest in the mobair trade is greater and higher prices have been forced in the southwest with a heavy volume of contracting. Locally there has been a-weak tendency in the hair trade recently but the transactions in the southwest are expected to stimulate the market

ere. The local trade has been more frightened over tariff matters than the south-west and the strong holding by that sec-tion has enabled them to secure better prices.

The New York Journal of Commerce of late date says:

"Corroboration of the report printed in these columns some time ago that the entire clip of Texas mohair would be placed under control before the regular season opened was regalized bers this season opened was regalized by season opened was received here this week. All of the leading collections such as the Kernville, the San Angelo and the Uvalda, have passed into the hands of spinners and dealers and it is estimated that about 2,000,000 pounds changed hands hanged hands.

Agents of large mohair consumers were on the ground weeks before the season opened and negotiations were carried on very quietly for fear the sus-picions of growers would be aroused and that prices would immediately fly up-

Pertland yards today to firmly establish prices. The only hogs that arrived brought the top received yesterday, $8.85, which left values unchanged for the day.

At Chicago there was a weaker tone in the hog trade and a loss of 10 to 15c was shown at the closing. Tops ruled at $9 or 15c above the figures at North Portland.

Kansas City hogs were a dime lower with tops at $8.90 today, or 5c above those ruling here.

Bids for club are now almost general at 87@ 87 %c, but bidders claim they are unable to secure supplies, as some of the interior mills are buying as high as 88c tidewater basis,

The reentrance of country millers into the market has complicated the situs-tion. In the vicinity of Spokane several lots of club were taken during the last 24 hours on the basis of 85c tidewater. There is fittle club to be had there at the present time.

Most of the holdings of club in the Pacific northwest are in the Walla walla and Pendleton sections. These consist almost entirely of scattered small lots There is little call for bluestem wheat at the moment, and prices for that variety are nominal.

For oats the market is holding firm, with bids freely made at $28@28.50 for No. 1 feed. A similar tone is shown for barley, with southern California a very anxious bidder. Supplies here are finding favor with buyers freely bidding $24.50.
