News for the Sunday society columns must be in the hands of the Society Editor not later than Friday of each week and its receipt as such editor as possible will be appreciated.

By N. L.

SOCIETY is really duller than April sunshine and showers might warrant. The weather is a hackneyed subject, yet it usually governs springtime activities in society. In winter there is no reason to expect sunshine with a function, no plans are made regardless of the season's caprices. But with the coming of spring, entertaining has more variations, all of which are dependent on the big "if" it is pleasant weather. A motor to the golf club, Auto club or a "day walk" in the garden, all with the inevitable proviso, I won't say "rain," for Portlanders ought to forget it. A concert artist said to me last week, in perfect courtesy, as of a foregone conclusion, "It rains always here." My hasty, "No, no, this is a 'Rose City' and we have roses and sunshine three fourths of the year," met with an incredulous frown.

Last week there was much sunshine, and why not more entertaining? Let's see, Easter is past and spring is here—the last possible excuse for dullness is gone.

Mrs. Morey Hostess.

At her lovely country home at Glenmorrie, Mrs. Frederick P. Morey presided at a delightful though informal bridge today, with a few additional guests for tea following. A profusion of Spring flowers from the woods, with clusters of cut flowers, decked the house in riotous bloom. Mrs. Loren A. Norris of San Francisco, the house guest of Mrs. Morey, was motif for the affair. There were six tables at bridge arranged.

Mrs. Norris will leave tomorrow for her summer home on Bainbridge island, near Seattle, where she will visit for a couple of weeks, returning here to pass about a week again with Mrs. Morey before returning to San Francisco.

Mrs. Holman Bridge Hostess.

Cards are out for two afternoon parties Wednesday and Thursday of this week, given by Mrs. Herbert Holman at her home on Overton street. Wednesday is arranged for auction and Thursday will be plain bridge, followed by a small tea.

Mrs. La Moree Hostess.

Mrs. J. H. La Moree, of 494 East Eleventh street north, gave a delightful ful tea Wednesday afternoon to the ladies of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Hays presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Fowler at the tea urn. Those present were: Mrs. J. C. Jameson, Mrs. Gus Reim, Mrs. McEachern, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Delamater, Mrs. W. M. Yama Yama Dance.

The Yama Yama masque dance, which was given at the Portland Rowing club last Thursday evening was an enjoyable event. Blossoms and Oregon grape were used in decorating the club house. The most unique instance of the dance was the appearance of the guests in the burlesque costumes. The unmasking took place at 10:30 o'clock. Those present were Miss Ruth Clarke, Miss Coleman, Miss McCune, Miss Irene Morgan, Miss Jean Day, Miss Bertha Van Der Meer, Miss Lucile De Vritt, Miss Delphine D'Aoust, Miss Mayer, Miss Muriel Ford, Miss Ina Wilcox, Miss Guterlund, Miss Frankie Bowers, Miss Charles Wilkes, Miss Harriet Marshall, Miss Weiss, Lloyd Baker, D. The committee members were Miss Credwyn Evans, Miss Josephine Ritter, Miss Abenatha Morgan, Thomas Stoughton, Warren Lewis and Peter J. Gotelli. Mrs. Jennie Francis-Evans, Mrs. Lena Lewis, Mrs. A. Morgan and Miss Charlotte Callwell were the patronesses. Mrs. Evans was the soloist and sang beautifully during the intermission. She was crowned in American Beauty shade chaperone with a black gown of chivalry lace and jet trimmings. Mrs. Morgan wore silk voile. Mrs. Lewis wore apricot crepe de chine with cream shadow lace overdress caught with rosebuds. Miss Callwell was crowned in pale green silk poplin with gold color chiffon tunic banded with fur and lace. The dance was so successful that the committee members have been requested to repeat the event.

Cable Kills Father of 10.

(Special to The Journal.)

Roseburg, Or., April 23.—The cremation of Robert Cavitt, the 80-year-old settler, who was burned to death when his cabin, 30 miles southeast of Roseburg, burned last Saturday, was purely accidental, according to the belief of Coroner Jewitt, who returned from the scene today.

It appears that Cavitt, who lived alone on his homestead on Cavitt creek, had allowed a large amount of paper and refuse to collect about the fireplace. This, it appears, became ignited while he was asleep and set fire to the cabin. He arose from bed but being overcome by smoke sank back and was cremated, according to Coroner Jewitt's conclusion.

WORLD MUST HAVE BLOOD SACRIFICES

Church Will Never Redeem the Sinner by Mere Words of Sympathy.

"The World Wants Blood," was the topic of the sermon delivered yesterday morning by Rev. Frank James, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church. This was one of a series of sermons which Rev. Mr. James is delivering on the social and economic problems of the day. The pastor said, in part:

"We have before us today the same problems that confronted Jesus Christ when he was on earth. He did not shrink from duty; he did not withdraw among his disciples, but he went among the sick of soul and body, the downcast and the wretched. Finally realizing that only the sacrifice of blood could pay the final price of the world's redemption socially, industrially and spiritually, he paid the price with his own body. 'The church is not merely a home' in which believers may rest from their labors. That place is not here, but somewhere in the next world. This is a place of action. And what has the church done toward the solution of these great social, industrial and economic problems? The very conditions which attracted Jesus, her Lord, have repelled his church."

"With but very few exceptions we are turning the city slums and the downtown districts over to the devil. We are leaving the unfortunate and the outcast, the kind who always attracted Jesus—we are leaving them to fight their battles alone and then die. The cry of the church is: 'Let the Salvation Army and the Rescue mission take care of that kind; we are adapted to certain classes of people of a more elevated, more dignified and more cultured kind.' 'What cursed conceit! My God! what are more than the unfortunate and outcast, that the grace of God has not made us! 'Our churches are empty! We don't get either class!'

"All our niceties, daintinesses, prettinesses, fine turned sentences will never touch the crying need of the world today. The world wants and the world must have sacrifice and blood! It is the only thing that can touch its need. 'And the church of Jesus Christ, God forgive us, has been running away picking flowers in more favored sections, when it should be laboring with coat off and sleeves rolled up and with both hands to relieve the awful burdens which are crushing suffering humanity into the very fires of hell!'

EVELYN TAYLOR LIKELY TO REMAIN IN OREGON

(Special to The Journal.)

Salem, Or., April 23.—It is very likely that Governor Eberhard of Minnesota will refuse to issue a requisition for Evelyn Taylor, the 18-year-old girl who escaped from the Sauk Center girls' training school in Minnesota and made her way to the home of her brother, Charles Taylor, at Irving, near Eugene. Governor West investigated the case and found the girl was in good hands, then telegraphed Governor Eberhard, advising him of the facts and recommending that he refuse to issue requisition papers for her return. Governor West today received a reply from the Minnesota executive saying he would make an investigation before he would take any action.

HEAVY FROST IN BENTON PROBABLY DID NO DAMAGE

(Special to The Journal.)

Corvallis, Or., April 23.—A heavy frost fell here last night and there was much fear this morning that the fruit was severely damaged. A high fog prevented the sun's rays from striking the frost and it is now believed little or no damage will result.

DELICIOUS ICES

By Oscar Tschirky, Manager of Waldorf-Astoria.

Bavarois of Pineapple.

Cut a peeled pineapple into slices one-eighth of an inch in thickness, put them into a preserving pan with eight ounces of loaf sugar, a half ounce of gelatine, and half a teaspoon of water. Put the pan over a moderate fire and stir the contents until tender, keeping well stirred. Rub the pineapple through a fine hair sieve into a basin, stand it on ice and keep stirring it till on the point of setting, then mix in thoroughly one pint of well whipped cream. Pour the mixture into a mould, close it, and pack in pounded ice and salt. In about two hours it will be ready, but may stand longer. When about to serve dip the mould in tepid water, wipe it, and turn the bavarois out on a glass or fancy dish.

Banana Ice Cream.

Mix in a saucepan over the fire one pint of water, three cups of sugar, and boil for 20 minutes. Now add the pulp of half a dozen bananas, or one of two more if a strong flavor is desired, and the well beaten yolks of three eggs. Stir well for six minutes, then remove from the fire, put into a bowl of very cold water, and beat well for 10 minutes. When cold pass through a sieve and add a quart of cream. Place in a freezer and allow to remain till solid, when it is ready for serving.

Brown Bread Ice Cream.

Grate enough brown bread crumbs to fill two breakfast cups, boil a pint of milk and pour over the crumbs, flavoring with a breakfast cupful of marmalade or syrup. When cold, turn this preparation into a freezer and work until nearly frozen, then turn into a mould and pack in pounded ice and salt for two hours or more till ready to serve. Dip the mould into tepid water, in the usual way, wipe it, and turn the contents out on to a platter.

Fruit Ice Cream.

Dissolve in the strained juice of three lemons a quarter pound of sugar and mix it with one wineglassful each of sherry and grape juice and a pint of cream. Stir this mixture well and turn

DANISH BRIDE-TO-BE OF PORTLANDER CHANGES HER MIND; TO GO HOME

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 23.—There is one man in the United States who is scheduled for a keen disappointment just as soon as a letter can reach Portland, Or., from Grand Rapids.

He is Knutt Jensen and he has been notified by Theodore Fleckner, 1807 Sheridan avenue, that his bride-to-be, Miss Marie Rosenstratler of Copenhagen, Denmark, changed her mind on arrival at New York City and will undoubtedly go back to the land of dykes and marry another.

Jensen, who left Denmark a year ago, had the plans all laid before he left and Marie was to come to Grand Rapids and marry him as soon as he had a proper stipend saved. In March he sent passage money to Copenhagen and Marie left on the "Helig Olaf," April 2, for New York. She was to come to Grand Rapids and they were to be married at Fleckner's home. When she reached New York, however, her mind changed, and she wrote Fleckner that she wanted to be released from her obligation. Fleckner has written Jensen, but failing to give the reasons for the rejection. Marie gave none, so he couldn't.

Marie requested that the return message be sent to the office of the Scandinavian-American steamship line, so it is deduced that she contemplates returning to her native land.

Into a freezer and work till frozen. Mix with the cream a quarter pound of preserved fruits cut into small pieces, turn all into a mould, cover, and pack in pounded ice and salt for an hour or so. It is now ready to serve.
