Lipman Wolfe & Co
"Merchandise of Merit Only"

EDITORIAL

—With the opening of our Anniversary Sale we strike the progressive note in business. We make our bid for patronage fairly and squarely on the merits of the merchandise. We safeguard our prestige by the most rigid examination of all merchandise as to quality and price before it enters our daily advertisement.

—Yesterday morning over two hundred and fifty people awaited the opening of the store. Chairs were placed in all our entrances for the convenience of these early patrons.

—Today again we had the same eager throng.
—During this Anniversary Sale we shall present numerous sales equally as important as those already launched, that will demand your presence at our store early and often.

A Sale of Suits "by Request"

Our Regular $32.50 to $38.50 Suits
Wednesday $25.00

—The response to our anniversary announcement of the sale of suits so far exceeded our expectations that many women were necessarily disappointed in not securing one of the sale garments.

—We wish to assure our patrons that the supply would ordinarily have been double what was necessary in any regular sale. By 10 o'clock almost half the suits were sold, a record never before attained for the same number of sales in this or any other store in Portland.

—To give an opportunity to those women who were unable to share in our opening sales we place on sale for Wednesday suits of equal worth.

—These suits sell regularly up to $38.50, and are made of fine imported serges, worsteds and fancy whipcords.

—Suits in black, navy blue, brown, gray and taupe.

—Some are in the straight front style, others cutaway, and, again, many are fancy trimmed. Cut in the popular 26 to 28-inch lengths. Every jacket is lined with fine quality silk. The skirts are cut in the newest straight gored models.

Foot Comfort Is Easily Obtained When You Purchase Your Shoes Here

—It was said of Balzac, the noted French writer, that he dictated the most of his works while parading around a bear rug in his unstockinged feet.

—Genius ofttimes has a queer way of expressing itself. Balzac believed in the necessity of foot comfort, and he went to the extreme in order to obtain it.

—Certain it is that no man or woman can do his or her best work or be at their best socially when hampered with an ill-fitting shoe.

—Comfortable shoes do not necessitate larger sizes, but a shoe whose interior lines conform to the lines of the foot. In every style of shoes in our stock we carry a complete line of sizes. This means that you cannot only secure foot comfort here, but obtain a style in a size that will emphasize the lines of a graceful foot and atone for any slight imperfection.

—For Wednesday we feature two especial models for women which represent the
