

NOTED CALIFORNIA PHYSICIAN WILL BE ONE OF SPEAKERS

Dr. George F. Rheinhardt Who Organized Infirmary at the State University, Will Address Reed Conference.

The rapid growth of interest on the part of the people of Portland in the subject of preventative medicine and public hygiene gives especial point to the visit of Dr. George F. Rheinhardt, university physician and professor of hygiene in the University of California, who comes to Portland as a speaker before the Reed College conference on the conservation of human life, which is to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week at the college buildings in Eastmoreland.

While attending the meetings of the scientists of the Pacific coast in San Francisco recently, Professor Harry Beal Torrey personally carried an invitation from Reed College to Dr. Rheinhardt. As a result, Dr. Rheinhardt comes to the conference, not only as a representative of the University of California but as one of the most distinguished exponents in this country of practical cooperation in medicine. As head of the University infirmary, which he organized and now directs, Dr. Rheinhardt has gained much experience in this field.

Dr. Richard Cabot of the Harvard Medical school recently characterized the infirmary of the University of California as the best example of its type in the United States. It is so arranged that for a formal fee each of the several thousand students is assured of all the medical and surgical attention he requires during the year.

In Self Supporting.

Absolute democracy prevails and each student is treated alike regardless of his class, wealth, or social standing. The institution is self supporting. Operating on a basis similar to that of an insurance company the fee of the entire student body comprise an amount sufficient to meet all expenses incurred in the care of the small percentage who require medical care.

Dr. Rheinhardt will tell of his experiences in the organization and management of the infirmary and give advice gleaned from his years spent in medical work in two lectures, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will speak on "Public Health Administration." "Co-operative Medicine" is to be his topic Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. These lectures as well as all the lectures and exhibits of the Reed College conference will be open to the public without charge.

A revised list of the speakers at the conference has been prepared, showing the following names:

- Dr. E. P. Cubberley, head of the department of education at Stanford University.
- Dr. Fletcher B. Dressler, professor of education Peabody College for Teachers in Tennessee.
- Sam Hill To Talk.

POLICE CHIEF DECLINES 3 EXTRA JOBS AND QUILTS

(Special to The Journal.)

Junction City, Or., May 7.—G. T. Berry, who has been serving as chief of police here at a nominal salary, gave up his position today, following the meeting of the city council last evening, and Charles Nelson was appointed to take his place. The city council desired to hire him to act in the capacity of police officer, street commissioner, engineer of the city steam roller and general superintendent of city construction work, and as Mr. Berry did not wish to give up his present employment for this work, the change was ordered made by the council.

Hood River Paving Begun.

(Special to The Journal.)

Hood River, Or., May 7.—The Reliance Construction company of Portland has moved its machinery to Hood River and begun on its contract of paving the business section of Hood River. About $50,000 will be spent in the work. The city council has decided to put down three different kinds of pavement in order to make the most practical job on the different grades in the city. Hansson concrete and oil-bound macadam will be used in the work in which the oil-bound macadam will predominate.

JUNIOR WEEK-END OPENS TOMORROW AT STATE VARSITY

Four Hundred Out of Town Visitors Expected, While 275 High School Athletes Will Compete.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., May 7.—With 275 high school athletes, 35 collegiate athletes, 25 collegiate baseball players, members of two collegiate tennis teams, the members of two high school debating teams, 25 student thespians, 400 expected out of town guests, and 750 university students participating in the annual junior week-end events, the great student festivity opened today with the Oregon-Washington baseball game upon the campus diamond.

All Eugene proposes to participate in the "student's mardi gras," and on Friday afternoon the stores will close and declare a half holiday.

Although today's baseball game is the opening event, the week-end program will be formally opened tomorrow afternoon with an automobile parade, in which all visiting athletes will be carried about the city and the campus. Between 40 and 50 machines are expected to form the parade.

Tomorrow evening occurs the championship debate of the state high school debating league, in which Springfield and North Bend compete for supremacy of the state. Springfield, winner in the central Oregon district, eliminated St. Johns, winner in the Columbia river district. North Bend, after winning in the Coos Bay district, recently defeated Klamath.

Friday is University day—that evolution of the class rush day, which has converted the annual class day fight with its destruction of property and dangers, into a day upon which every man on the campus dons overalls and seeks to beautify the grounds. This year the men will build concrete steps and a concrete walk before the men's gymnasium. The work will be supervised and directed by students in the engineering class. They will also lay the foundation for the woman's Y. M. C. A. bungalow, soon to be erected. Another division of the men will excavate for the new senior's memorial fountain, while still another force will repaint the concrete "O" on the hill. Edward Bailey, the biggest football man on the team, has charge of the University day work, and threatens to bluster every part of his hands in college. At noon time occurs the picnic luncheon, furnished by the campus on the campus.

The Oregon-Washington track meet is held Friday afternoon. Each team enters 12 athletes. Before this track meet on Friday the Oregon-Washington tennis tournament is commenced. The Oregon team has not yet been selected, but the choice was narrowed to five men yesterday, and from these the team of three will be chosen. They are Robert Fariss, Eugene; Howard Grey, Portland; Louis Bond, Eugene; Herman Oberkueffer, Portland; and Irwin Brooks, Portland. The tennis tournament is continued on Saturday morning. The singles occur on one day, the doubles upon the next. The Dramatic club play is given in the Eugene theatre on Friday night.

The fourth annual interscholastic track meet begins Saturday morning. In this over 270 athletes will be entered. The preliminaries take place Saturday morning; the finals Saturday afternoon. The week-end program closes Saturday night with two events; the annual Junior "Prom" in the men's gymnasium, and a smoker for non-dancers and the athletes in Villard Hall. At this wrestling, boxing and athletic events will be staged. The Junior "Prom" is the climax of college formal society.

The Nelson Trades and Labor council is planning the erection of a $20,000 labor temple at Nelson, B. C.

VALUES IN DEEDS A TAX CRITERION

State Tax Commission Will Check Amounts With County Assessments.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., May 7.—All warranty deed transfers in the state heretofore will be closely checked and listed by the state tax commission as a means of securing reliable information as a basis for the state tax levy and as a comparison for assessing public service corporations, according to an announcement made today by State Tax Commissioner Galloway.

This practice has been carried out to some extent in the past, but the plan is to adopt a much more thorough system hereafter. All warranty deeds extending a year back from March 1, 1912, will be checked and then an appraisal of the property will be made in addition. Comparing these figures with the figures at which the properties are assessed by the counties, will give the

HOOD RIVER THREATENS "COOPERATIVE LIGHTING"

Citizens of Hood River City and Valley are Promised Electric Light and Power at a Minimum by Several Local Capitalists, who say they will install a cooperative light and power plant if the rates to be fixed by the state board of railroad commissioners is not considered reasonable by Hood River, having regard to the cheapness with which electricity can be supplied in this locality.

Commissioner Atchison announced when here that the Hood River rate would be fixed on a relative scale charged in other localities and that Hood River users could not be favored because they could get electric energy more cheaply here than in other localities.

The citizens most strenuously objected to such philosophy and a movement is on foot here to float local 8 per cent bonds with which to construct the new system if the old company that has the field proposes a rate that is excessive.
