On the left is Dan Murray, the young Portland catcher, who looks like one of the batting and receiving finds of the Northwestern league this year. He has developed more rapidly than any youngster Manager Williams has had to do with, possesses a good throwing arm and can hit the bill. The other is Cadman, formerly a backstop in the International league, who is doing the brunt of Seattle's catching now. Cadman is a good hitter and although he hasn't done anything with the stick so far this season, is batting in the cleanup position on the Giant's team.

BILL JAMES DRIVES WOLVES INTO THEIR HOLE IN 5 TO 1 GAME

(Special to The Journal.)
Sacramento, May 7.—Big Bill James threw the clutch into the high yesterday afternoon and as a result Portland moved flamboyantly out of the celiar and Sacramento unostentatiously into it. The Beavers hopped onto Alberts in the first inning and put over enough tallies to clinch the contest the way James was serving them up to the Wolverines. While Dr. Stewart and Coach "Bud" Moulton felt sure that Johnny Baker, the sensational Portland sprinter, would win the 100 yard dash and would place in the 220 yard dash, and that Lee Rev-Chadbourne and Doane had been retired, when Korus reached second on Young's overthrow of Tennant. That sort of flustered Alberts and he walked Rodgers and Krueger. Mike McCormick singled and scored Kores and Rodgers and putting Krueger on third. Mike then stole second. Derrick singled to O'Rourke and Krueger romped nome, but the rungetting stopped when Fisher

Derrick doubled in the fourth and Fisher dittoed, scoring the Beaver first sacker, but Gus was out trying to make three bases on the bingle on a pretty play from Shinn to Young to O'Rourke, Doane got away with a pass in the fifth and stole second, taking third on Kores' scratch hit and scoring when Rodgers rolled a slow one to Kenworthy and was tossed out at first.

Sacramento made its lonely tally in the fifth. Moran doubled and took third on an infield out, scoring on James' wild pitch.

The day was a disagreeable one with strong south wind carrying clouds of dust across the diamond. The contest standing 6 feet 4½ inches in his socks, and it will be an opportunity for the and Jack Bliss, much smaller, who wanted to engage the Portland twirler in a game of fisticuffs because James and field. Trainer Moulton Thinks Ath-letes Might Get Out of Condition by Long Trip.

Beavers Hop Onto Alberts for Three Runs in First Inning and Clinch Game.

Oregon Agricultural Colfege, Corvallis, Or., May 7.—The Oregon Agricultural college will not send a team to the Pacific coast track and field meet at the University of California Saturday. The athletic board held an informal meeting and reached the decision after mature consideration of the factors affecting the situation. The principal reason is because of the large number of contests on the O. A. C. schedule, making it infeasible to attempt a trip south, when it feasible to attempt a trip south, when it might cost a few points in some of the northwest conference meets, which are more important to the local institution. While Dr. Stewart and Coach "Bud" in the 220 yard dash, and that Lee Reynolds would in alle probability win points in the half mile, the locals would not be able to turn out a team which would win the meet in California. The Oregon-O. A. C. contests come off on May 24, with the University of Washington date following close. With these two big meets coming in close succession, the veteran leader, Moulton, and Dr. Stewart thought that the men might be thrown out of condition for the conference meets, in which the loss of a n few points would decide the northwest championship.

No definite word had been sent to the University of California athletic board, accepting the invitation to attend the meet, and they will be notified that the Aggie team has abandoned all expectations of competing.

One more date was added to the already long Corvallis schedule, however, that being the big Spokane meet on June 20. The O. A. C. athletic board announced its intention of sending a full team to the inland city, where the big teams of the northwest will congrewas enlivened with a laughable tilt be-tween James, weighing 210 pounds and pete under its own colors in Spokane, and it will be an opportunity for the
