The Crowning Millinery Sale—Attention!
 500 Italian Leghorns, Imported From Crepatto, Coulon and Neppo
 Selling Regularly at $6.50, $7.50 and $8.50
Anniversary Price $3.48

Paris says Leghorns for Midsummer Hats. New York echoes the edict of Paris. Portlana corroborates both New York and Paris. Today in Portland you find Leghorns in greatest demand. Leghorns are scarce. Leghorns are high in price, for few firms foresaw this coming popularity. Again we demonstrate the power of this store by offering these, the most popular hats, AT LESS THAN IMPORT PRICE. Come Thursday and select from specially blocked shapes the season's correct Summer styles. You will have no difficulty in finding just the shape you want. In white and natural. It's an astonishing style. With remarkable opportunities. COME. 2nd floor.

Anniversary Sale of Crepe Kimonos
 Special $1.10, $1.89, $2.29 and $2.75
 —Versatile Dame Fashion has adopted and improved upon the native costume of about every nation under the sun for the dress of women. —One season after another has seen the rise and fall of some favored style. One year we have followed the simple, effective Greek lines—another year the fanciful Pompadour—and this season the Balkan in all its phases has held the boards.
 —Long, long ago the possibilities of the graceful, flowing Japanese style of dress were realized, and while other fads have come and gone, the kimono, with its adaptations and improvements, has remained as a staple, and has become so intimate a part of our best costumes that we sometimes forget that it originated with our clever Japanese neighbors, and was first worn by the dainty little pictured ladies we have seen tripping along under the cherry blossoms with their daintily tinted paper parasols. $1.50 Crepe Kimonos, made of serpentine crepe, in plain colors and Japanese parasol patterns. Loose style, inset sleeves, wash ribbon and sateen-trimmed neck, sleeves, $1.10.
 $2.25 Pelisse Crepe, plain colors and attractive shadow patterns. Made loose and high-waisted effects. Kimono sleeves. Trimmings of shirred satin ribbon, $1.89.
 $3.00 Pelisse Crepe, large lingerie collar with scalloped edges. Piped waist line. In light and dark colorings, and in various unusually attractive Japanese patterns, $2.29.
 $3.50 Serpentine Crepe kimonos, exquisite Japanese flowered patterns. High waist line. Inset sleeves. Waist line, sleeves, shoulders and neck, trimmed with frilled satin ribbon, $2.75. Fourth Floor

A Parisian Tailored Suit
 Created by Bernard—Copied for Us
Why We Sell This Model for $37.50
 Instead of $50.00

—We entrusted the original suit to a tailor whose facilities enable him to create the finest of tailored suits.
 —Yesterday we received these garments by express. They are so faithfully reproduced that you earn the saving between the French and the American price.
 —Everything remains, the style, the cut and that something that stamps it Parisian.
 —It is a very striking model, new with the newness of not having been seen before, which is a distinction in a suit too rare to be overlooked.
 —This model is shown in five colors, navy, Nell rose, tan, Copenhagen and black and white Shepherd check.
 Made with a loosely fitting coat with kimono sleeves three-quarter length. Double square collar and long revers, formed of the material, over which is a white Bengaline silk. Pleated black satin belt with fringed sash end falling from beneath the coat, giving the jauntiest effect imaginable. The jacket is satin lined and finished with satin loops and buttons. The skirt is most attractively draped.
 —The accompanying illustration is an exact reproduction of this Bernard Model. Third Floor

Nature's Favorite Flowers—A Wonderful Sale
Field and Garden Flowers
To Adorn My Lady's Summer Hat
Anniversary 39c
 Worth $1.25 a Bunch
 —Did you ever stroll through an old-fashioned garden and wonder at and admire the gorgeous array of colors and blossoms that Dame Nature flaunts so gaily in the Summer breeze? If you have had this exquisite pleasure, your thoughts will at once carry you back to that Summer day when your eyes first alight on the tables of blossoms in our millinery salons.
 —Here is where the artificial flower takes on a hue as bright and richly colored as those that grow in the loveliest garden.
 —Roses—the old-fashioned moss rose kind in small bunches; the proud and handsome American Beauty and the ever lovely La France; quaintly colored and variegated bunches of the old-fashioned variety; lilacs in lavenders, purple and white; pansies, lilies, violets, forget-me-nots, field flowers, odd little bunches of colored buds and leaves; small bouquets of Oriental colored buds that are used for corsage bouquets and boutonniere.
 —You can adorn your tailored or dress hat with these blossoms—you can trim an evening gown—your lingerie with the small buds—and you can convert many of them into clusters to wear on your tailored suit. —Second Floor
